

Judith Clare Smith, Daniel D. Putnam Are Wed Here June 6

St. Patrick's Catholic church was the setting for the June 6 wedding of Judith Clare Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Smith, Chambers, and Daniel Dennis Putnam, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Putnam, O'Neill.

The 10 a.m. double ring ceremony followed by a solemn nuptial Mass was officiated by the Rev. Robert Duffy. White satin and white carnations decorated both the altar and sanctuary.

The nuptial music was furnished by Helen Gokic, at the organ, who played the "March Processional in B" as the bride entered the church. Patricia McKenzie was soloist and sang "Ave Maria," "Panis Angelicus," "A Wedding Psalm" and "Oh Mother Beloved." As the couple marched out Miss Gokic played the Recessional "Postludium in D."

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride appeared in a gown designed of silk organza over taffeta and re-embroidered ation lace. The bodice of lace featured a sabrina neckline edged with hand clipped scalloped lace edging and trimmed with iridescent sequins and tiny seed pearls. The long sleeves of lace tapered to traditional bridal points at the wrists. The voluminous skirt of silk organza had tiers of scalloped lace ruffles completely encircling the skirt and extending into the chapel length train. Re-embroidered all-crown lace with iridescent sequin trim was applied on the front and back of the skirt. Her tiered bouffant veil of imported French illusion was held in place by a pillbox crown, trimmed with pearlized orange blossoms. She carried a cascade of white stephanotis and feathered carnations and an aurora borealis rosary, a gift of the groom.

Serving as matron of honor was Mrs. Dale Adams, Chambers. Bridesmaids were Nancy Kurtzback, Platte Center, Alice MacHaecker, Plymouth, and Betty Hertel, Chambers, all friends of the bride. They wore identical gowns of turquoise nylon lace over matching nylon taffeta sheaths fashioned with rounded necklines and cap sleeves and matching pumps. Their headpieces were of turquoise roses with matching halo veils. They carried semi-cascades of pink carnations and wore aurora borealis necklaces and earrings, gifts of the bride.

Kathy Miner, Gregory, S. D., cousin of the groom, was flower girl. She carried a white satin and lace basket filled with white and turquoise carnations. Her dress and necklace were identical to that of the other attendants. Her corsage was white carnations.

Joe Walter, Chambers, a cousin of the bride, carried the rings on a white satin and lace pillow. He wore a tuxedo with a white carnation boutonniere. Serving the groom as best man was his brother, William L. Putnam. Groomsmen were Dean Smith, Richard Allen and David Roby. The ushers were James Kruse, Richard Laursen, Fred Eby and Darrel Clyde. All the men in the wedding party wore tuxedos. The groom wore a white stephanotis boutonniere, his attendants white carnations.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Smith wore a pale pink silk sheath with pink accessories and a pink cymbidium corsage. Mrs. Putnam, mother of the groom, wore a pale green broadcated two piece dress with white accessories and a green cymbidium corsage. Mr. Putnam and Mr. Smith wore tuxedos with white carnation boutonnieres.

Immediately following the ceremony a dinner and reception were held in St. Patrick's parish hall for five hundred guests. The dinner, given by the parents of the bride and groom, was prepared and served by St. Patrick's Altar Society.

Mrs. Wayne Schroeder, Beatrice, was in charge of the guest book. Aduree Nelson, was assisted by Linda Walter, Mrs. Bob Koci, Sharon Marcellus, Rose Lampman and Debbie Eisenhauer in receiving, recording and displaying the gifts.

Mrs. John Bergman, Mrs. Marvin Miller, Gayle Farrier and Peggy Gereke presided at the punch bowls which were encircled with smilax while small pink tea roses floated in each.

The reception table, in the form of a hour, was covered with turquoise nylon net and white satin skirt which held both the bride's and groom's cakes. The cakes were baked and decorated by Mrs. Vernon Smith, cousin of the bride. The five tier white and turquoise decorated bride's cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom and the groom's cake, topped with glazed fruit were cut by Mrs. Raymond Walters and Mrs. Kenny Miner and served by the bride's table servers.

The bride's table, covered with white linen, held two silver candelabra with tall white tapers placed at either side of the center piece of white and turquoise carnations. The bridesmaids cascades were placed on the table across from each bridesmaid. Serving the bride's table were Linda Curran, Janet Richards, Beth Fullerton, Kay Tracy, Daria Waldo and Elaine Dankert.

Mrs. M. J. Baack, Ogalalla, served as hostess.

For traveling the bride wore a turquoise silk shantung ensemble with white accessories and an orchid corsage. After a wedding trip through Yellowstone Park, Salt Lake City, and points West, the couple will be at home on a ranch northeast of O'Neill, where Mr. Putnam is engaged in ranching with his father and brother.

Mrs. Putnam is a graduate of the Chambers high school. Mr. Putnam was graduated from St. Mary's high school, O'Neill. He also attended Norfolk Junior college.

Paula Reed Weds David C. Babbitt In Methodist Rite Here

Paula Reed became the bride of David Charles Babbitt of Arapahoe at a 4 p.m. ceremony at the First Methodist church, O'Neill, June 9. Performing the double-ring ceremony was the Rev. Glenn Kennicott, pastor.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Deane C. Reed, O'Neill, and Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Babbitt, Arapahoe.

The church was decorated in keeping with the bride's colors of apricot and white. Baskets of gladioli and carnations decorated the altar.

Lighting the candles were Bonnie Eryngelson, South Sioux City and Mrs. Ronald Ashby, Omaha. They wore white robes and tangerine carnation wrist corsages.

Soloist for the ceremony was Mrs. Robert Cranwell of Ashland who sang "I Love Thee," "Wedding Prayer" and "Bless This House." The organist was Mrs. Reed Herley who played "Trumpet Voluntary" as a professional and Mendelssohn's traditional "Wedding March" as the recessional.

Given in marriage by the sorority sisters of the bride and the fraternity brothers of the groom serenaded the couple with their respective sweetheart songs.

Mr. and Mrs. Babbitt will be temporarily at home in Kearney for the summer. In the fall the groom will resume his studies at the University of Nebraska College of Medicine in Omaha and the bride will be in medical technology training at Clarkston hospital.

white eyelet over apricot taffeta. The dresses were sleeveless and had box-pleated skirts. They wore hats, shoes and gloves of the same shade and carried cascades of daisies and tinted pompons.

Serving as best man was Allen Zimbleman, Humboldt. Groomsmen were Larry ten Benschel, Arapahoe. Ushers were Fred Aden, Omaha, Richard Jussel, Waverly, and Ed Verzal, jr. All were attired in black tuxedos and wore white carnation boutonnieres.

The bride's mother chose a cowl-collared jacket dress of steel green silk and beige accessories. The dress of the mother of the groom was also of green hue; she wore white accessories. Both ladies wore orchid corsages.

The reception for 250 guests followed in the church parlors. Jan Buckendorf, Bassett, presided at the guest book. A white lace over apricot tablecloth and apricot tapers decorated the reception table. The three tier chocolate wedding cake was decorated with white bells and apricot roses. Cutting and serving the cake were Mrs. Edward Verzal and Mrs. Harold Lindberg. Pouring were Mrs. Earl Rodman, Mrs. Ned Kelley, Milford, and Jane Stehlik, Wilbur. Assisting with the gifts were Doris Finch, Omaha, and Sharral Krupicka, Milligan. Helping with trays were Kim Willson, North Platte, cousin of the groom, and Nancy and Barbara Abel, Hastings, cousins of the bride.

Following the reception, the sorority sisters of the bride and the fraternity brothers of the groom serenaded the couple with their respective sweetheart songs.
