Time of Year for Rhubarb

By BLANCHE SPANN PEASE, Homemaking Editor

This is the time of year for using rhubarb and the pink of rhubarb makes such a tart contrast to a rich batter topping in this dessert. You serve this pudding with sweet or dairy sour cream.

RHUBARB DESSERT
Combine two cups rhubarb, cut in one-inch pieces (about 1/2 pound), one orange, (cut in small pieces, and 2/3 cup sugar. Divide the mixture evenly into six greased custard cups. Sift together one cup enriched flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Cream together 1/4 cup shortening and 1/4 cup sugar. Add one egg and beat well. Add 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract to 1/3 cup milk. Add to creamed mixture alternately with flour mixture. Stir until smooth. Drop batter onto rhubarb mixture, almost filling custard cups. Bake in moderate oven of 375 F. for 30 minutes. Makes six servings.

Strawberries served in a cone ring make a glorious dessert.

STRAWBERRIES IN SCONE RING
Sift together three cups enriched flour, 4 1/2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt and 4 1/2 teaspoons sugar. Cut in six tablespoons shortening. Beat two eggs and add all to flour mixture. Stir only until flour is moistened. Pour batter into a greased nine-inch ring mold. Bake in a moderately hot oven of 400 F. 20 to 25 minutes. When baked, unmold and fill the center with about 1 1/2 quarts of sweetened strawberries. Garnish top and sides with whole berries. Makes eight servings.

Your Homemaking Wins Subscription
Dear Mrs. Pease:
I enjoy your column so much. At the present time my young ones are in school and I am gathering new ideas for gardening and canning. It is early but come the time, it sneaks in, about and is gone!

Years ago, my uncle told me about vegetable spaghetti squash. My aunt cooked it in a roaster on top of the stove in boiling water. When she'd hear a pop, the squash was done. She removed the seed, quickly heated it, seasoned it and served it with butter. I almost doubted but today I found a write-up about it. Imagine my recollection of that doubt. I would like to locate some spaghetti squash.

Someone suggested that I plant a match or two along with every cucumber, tomato, squash, watermelon and muskmelon, to save them from cutworms. Also, a few radish seeds or one or two nasturtium seeds to discourage the squash bugs. It seems like a lot of planting, but times have shown me some such preventive may have paid for the effort.

I may get some crushed corn cobs to mulch our strawberry bed. Speaking of mulching, I use moist hay or straw for tomatoes, and with last year an exception, I have always had splendid crops.

Something else I'm going to

LAND FOR SALE

160 Acres of Choice Elkhorn River Bottom Hay Land In Holt County Near O'Neill

Description of the Land:
Legal
Northwest Quarter of Section 31, Township 29, Range 11, consisting of approximately 160 acres.
General Comment
This quarter contains some of the finest bottom hayland in the famous Elkhorn Valley. The quality and abundance of hay produced annually on this meadow make this piece of real estate extremely desirable to the owner-operator, commercial hay man, the investor, fenced and cross-fenced.

General Description
This is a level quarter divided into approximately two eighths by the Elkhorn River, which assures an abundance of year-around water. Virtually all of the hay cut from this meadow grades number one. This is also an excellent producer of bluegrass seed in years favorable to this crop. Three soil types are to be found on this tract. They are: Cass loamy fine sand, Cass fine sandy loam, and Lamoure very fine sandy loam.
Located just one-half mile from the heart of O'Neill, adjoining U.S. Highway 281, a hardsurfaced road. With the continued growth of O'Neill this quarter possesses unique industrial possibilities.
Also good irrigation possibilities with water rights available.

Immediate Possession
The above described property will be offered at private sale. Twenty-five percent down upon confirmation of sale. Balance due and payable upon approval of title by purchaser's attorney. Merchantable abstract of title and warranty deed will be furnished.
