Icebox Cookies Please Guests

By BLANCHE SPANN PEASE, Homemaking Editor

If Monday morning comes bright and clear and you have food leftovers, maybe you'd like to try a three-in-one dish for lunch. You can put leftovers in it — if you happen to have the right leftovers!

Try a layer of cooked rice, ground meat, sliced potatoes and cut celery, and two cups of cooked tomatoes into which you've stirred a drop of onion extract, salt and pepper. Bake about an hour, or until bubbling well all through, 350 F.

Next time you make escalloped potatoes, try adding a drop of onion extract to them. Sprinkle with paprika before baking for a more attractive look. Some folks like to use canned mushroom soup for the liquid in a potato casserole for a new and different flavor. If you haven't tried it, give it a whirl and see how your family likes it.

I always cook the white sauce for escalloped potatoes, using milk and butter or margarine and flour to make the sauce, just as I would a gravy.

Pour it over the potatoes before putting into the oven and the potatoes won't curdle the milk as they sometimes do when you add milk and flour that have not been cooked and blended together.

I usually crush a pint of bread or cracker crumbs at a time and keep them in a pint jar. Then I usually have a topping ready for casserole dishes and don't have the mess of fixing something every time I fix a casserole.

If you've been serving just plain apple sauce, try adding a dash of cinnamon and nutmeg for a better flavor.

I think I've passed along this quick dessert idea to you before, but it will be new to some of you. Make graham cracker stacks with graham crackers, apple sauce and cream.

GRAHAM STACK-UPS
 Put a graham cracker on a small dessert plate, spoon on apple sauce, put on another cracker, and add more apple sauce until you have about three or four crackers. The top should end with apple sauce, then add a dab of whipped cream or plain cream. This should not be made until you are ready to sit down at the table. If made just before you sit down to eat, it will have just the proper crispness when you are ready to eat it. It's good, quick and simple!

You can vary this idea by using pudding mixes as filling for the stack-ups, and serve either with or without cream. Children, in particular, usually enjoy something different.

When you feel company coming on, make up a batch of these ice box cookies and roll in waxed paper and store in refrigerator.

ICE BOX COOKIES
 Sift two cup flour, add two teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt. Cream 3/4 cup shortening. Add 1 1/2 cups maple syrup, one egg, one teaspoon vanilla.

Roll, wrap in waxed paper and refrigerate. To bake, slice and bake on ungreased cookie sheet in 400 F. oven until done.

If you've never tried a bit of almond extract in cherry pie, angel food or sponge cake, do try it. The flavor is delicate and delectable.

In Holt a Year, Enjoys Column—
 Dear Mrs. Pease:
 Spring has sprung and it has affected me by making me dreamy rather than for doing.

I do have good sized little chicks and do enjoy seeing the cute little calves with their snowy

Visit Ancestral City, Cemetery—
 Mr. and Mrs. John L. Koci and children, Melba Mary, Patricia Anne and John Francis, and Mrs. William A. Brandenburg, all of Columbus, recently visited the Holt county courthouse, St. Patrick's Catholic church, the cemeteries and various other places. Mrs. Koci and Mrs. Brandenburg are sisters. Their mother was the former Anna Stasia O'Fallon, daughter of Annastasia and William O'Fallon, early pioneers here.

Finishes Term at Emporia—
 Wayne Osborn, who attended O'Neill high school, recently completed his freshman year at Emporia State Teachers college, Emporia, Kans. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Osborn of Olathe, Kans. He was recently visited by his parents on the campus in connection with parents' day activities. Wayne has a brother, Norman.

white faces and glossy new coats rollicking all over. Such a pleasure to watch them.

I have been enjoying your corner for a year now, at which time we moved back into Holt county. But have never contributed to it.

It is so much easier to just sit back than let people know we are reading their work.

Here is a salad recipe I like and think it would be nice for serving in spring time. Orange or lime gelatine also works out very nicely.

SPRING TIME SALAD
 One package lemon gelatine, 1 1/4 cups hot water, 1/2 cup pineapple juice, 1/2 cup cream (whipped), 1/2 cup salad dressing, 1/2 cup diced apples (unpeeled), 1/2 cup diced pineapple, 1/2 cup diced celery, six marshmallows (cut fine).

Dissolve gelatine in hot water, adding pineapple juice. When it begins to congeal, fold in whipped cream. Combine remaining ingredients and fold into gelatine mixture. Chill until firm. Serves 10.

Redbird, Graham Schools Close
 REDBIRD—The Redbird school was closed Friday, May 18, with a picnic at the school. A large crowd attended. Two of the 19 pupils enrolled were eighth grade graduates — Betty Marhino and Ronnie Witherwax.

Miss Isla Ruda of Bristow has been contracted to teach there next year.

The Graham school closed on Sunday, May 20, with a community picnic. Miss Doris Halstead, a Lynch graduate, will teach her first term of school there next year.

Other Redbird News
 Leo Witherwax stayed overnight Thursday, May 17, with Bruce Schollmeyer.

Mrs. Frank Ghelsen and daughter and Mrs. Bud Mitchell attended the Cecil Miller picnic west of Redbird, Saturday, May 12.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rohrberg and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Emry of Lynch were 6 o'clock luncheon guests of Mrs. Willa Schollmeyer Sunday, May 20.

Richard Pereboom, who spent the past winter with his grandparents, the H. V. Rosenkrans, and attended high school in Lynch, left to spend the summer in California.

John E. Bauld in Far East Waters—
 John E. Bauld, fireman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Bauld of O'Neill and husband of Mrs. Donna Bauld of Vancouver, Wash., is on a six-months' cruise in the Far East aboard the Pacific fleet destroyer USS Mansfield.

The Mansfield, flagship for the commander of destroyer squadron 9, recently completed a three-months' overhaul period at the Long Beach (Calif.) naval shipyard.

Dick Wilbern in Hospital Work—
 ATKINSON—Pfc. Dick V. Wilbern, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Verne C. Wilbern of Atkinson, is assigned to the 42d field hospital at Verdun, France, a part of the army's European communications zone.

Wilbern, a mail clerk at the hospital, entered the army in October, 1954, and received basic training at Ft. Bliss, Tex. He arrived in Europe in March, 1955.
