Max Golden is showing putting on the 18th hole—the shot that made him champion of the 1956 O'Neill open golf tourney. Ball (just starting its roll) dropped into cup on a 12-ft. putt. Earlier his finalist opponent, A. P. Jaszkwak, had overshoot the hole on a 17-ft. putt. (Position of Jaszkwak's miss shown by arrow)—The Frontier Photo.

74 Compete in 35th Golf Meet

Max Golden, veteran O'Neill hotel man, Monday became champion of the 1956 O'Neill open golf tournament. It was the fifth time Golden had annexed the title—the last previous win was in 1951.

He defeated Scovie Jaszkwak, 1-up, in the title match played before a large gallery. Jaszkwak, setting the pace until the final hole, had the best drive on the 18th, both approached onto the green even up in match play. Jaszkwak missed a 17-ft. putt and Golden dunked from 12 feet out.

Commenting on the victory, Golden declared the O'Neill tourney is getting tougher each year, "you have to be par or under all the way to stay in the running."

MARKET REPORT "The Old Reliable"

Tuesday, June 19th AUCTION

Cattle receipts 623 head: Continued dry weather and lower markets at all packing centers was a very bearish market influence. All classes of canners and cutters sold fully $1.00 lower with the better fat cows as much as $1.25 lower from last week's good market. Bulls fully steady at $13.00 to $13.75 cwt. Canners $8.50 to $9.25. Cutters $9.50 to $10.00 with beef grades at $10.25 to $11.75 cwt. All stocker cattle sharply lower, heifers of good quality at $14.00 to $15.00, steers of good quality at $16.50 to $18.00, fully $1.50 lower from a week ago.

NEXT AUCTION TUESDAY, JUNE 26TH

On any strength we still advise the immediate sale of canners, cutters, dry cows and butcher bulls. It's still a good market—even with the break. Stocker cattle prices will be influenced by the weather.
