Ton-Mile Tax Battle Looms

LINCOLN—Opponents of the proposed ton-mile tax on trucks and intercity buses are laying groundwork for possible action to try and keep the proposal off the November ballot.
Secretary of State Frank Marsh ruled last week petitions to put the proposal on the ballot had more than enough signatures.
The petitions were filed by the Committee for Better Roads Through Fair Taxation.

Marsh held the proposal should go on the November ballot. If approved by voters it would become law. The proposal applies to trucks of 10 tons or more and buses weighing 28,000 pounds or more.
Deputy Secretary of State Ronald Luedtke said he believes opponents have until October 17 to take legal action in the matter. Meanwhile, the powerful big truck groups are sounding the battle cry and are stirring up all truck owners, large and small, to battle the committee.

Three foreign-owned truck lines currently pound U.S. highway 20 through O'Neill and do not even pay gas tax. They pay an "in lieu" tax because they are owned by Hindus in India, two by Canadians.
It was estimated three thousand persons circulated ton-mile petitions, putting in about 20,000 man hours.
The question of a ton-mile tax was voted down in the last two legislatures by the powerful truck lobby, now regarded as the strongest in the state—if not the strongest, second only to the teacher lobby.

C. E. Beals, secretary-treasurer of the Committee for Better Roads, said the ton-mile tax is "fair and just" and is not intended to "soak the trucks."
Beals said the tax, if passed, will "vastly improve Nebraska roads in a few years."

Controversial Mr. Steen
The new executive secretary of the state game commission has stirred up a hornet's nest.
The buzzing began when Melvin ("Mel") Steen, commission secretary, confirmed he had ordered Game Warden Harland Huppert of Falls City to withdraw a complaint filed against Game Commissioner Don Robertson of North Platte.

Huppert's complaint alleged Robertson shot a quail from a road near Tecumseh on November 11, 1935. Robertson said he shot away from the road, then walked onto the road.
Hearing on the complaint had been postponed once. Steen said he ordered Huppert to drop the complaint and told him insubordination would lead to Huppert's dismissal.
"We are not going to clutter up the courts with trivial complaints," Steen said, "but we are going to prosecute people who deserve punishment. Don Robertson is not one of them. He did no harm to any person, property or thing. He didn't hurt the wildlife conservation by shooting a single quail. This is a type of offense that is commonly handled with a warning."

Stein, and that they know a good bargain when they see it," Steen said.

Hospital Money Short
Nebraska has been notified of the share of federal funds for Hill-Burton hospital construction for the fiscal year of 1937. But it's far short of the amount needed.
Verne Pangborn, head of the hospital division of the state health department, said Nebraska's share is only $125,000 more than the $1,084,302 received for the 1936 fiscal year.
Of the total, $300,000 is earmarked for specialized medical facilities. The proposed new Children's Center in Omaha, will take all that money, and already has received $300,000 more.

Applications for federal hospital aid are on file from St. Francis of Grand Island, Seward Memorial, St. Mary's of Nebraska City, St. Joseph's rehabilitation unit in Omaha, Immanuel in Deaneess rehabilitation unit in Omaha, St. Catherine's of Omaha, Gothenburg Memorial and Schuyler Memorial.
An application also is expected for a new Merrick county hospital at Central City.
