

Jeanene Backhaus,
Kenneth Hoerle
Wed at Chambers

CHAMBERS—Miss Jeanene Backhaus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Backhaus of O'Neill, became the bride of Kenneth Hoerle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hoerle of Chambers, on Sunday, August 12, at the Methodist church in Chambers.

Rev. Glenn Kennicott of O'Neill officiated at the 4 p.m. double-ring ceremony. The altar was decorated with baskets of pink and white gladioli and white candles in candelabra. White satin bows and lily of valley marked the pews.

Miss Shirley Shultz of O'Neill played the traditional wedding music and accompanied Dave Anderson who sang "Because" and "Oh Promise Me".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floorlength gown of white lace and net over tulle. The lace bodice featured an illusion yoke and lace mandarin collar and long sleeves tapering to points at the wrist. The full net skirt featured lace panels. Her fingertip illusion veil fell from a lace and pearl cap. Her bouquet was of white daisies.

Miss Joellyn Backhaus was her sister's maid-of-honor. Her gown was of white lace and green net over tulle. The gown featured a lace bodice with short sleeves and a wide rounded neckline. The white lace also featured a lace bodice with short sleeves and a wide rounded neckline. The white lace also formed side pelerins on the net skirt. Mrs. Craig Connell of Merriaville, friend of the bride, was bridesmaid. Her lavender gown was styled identically like that of the maid-of-honor. Both attendants carried bouquets of white daisies with net and ribbon dyed to match their gowns. They wore white daisy headpieces.

Miss Kay McKathnie of Atkinson was flowergirl. Her floor-length gown was of white dotted Swiss over yellow tulle. She also wore a white daisy headpiece and carried a daisy bouquet. Darrel McKathnie carried the rings on a white satin pillow. Candelighters were Miss Patty Hoerle, sister of the bridegroom, and Gary Weber of Wichita, Kans., cousin of the bridegroom. Little Miss Patty's gown was of white nylon dotted Swiss over pink tulle.

Kenneth Backhaus, brother of the bride, was bestman. Groomsman was Edwin Hoerle, uncle of the bridegroom. Ushers were John Decker of Holbrook and Roy Boshart of O'Neill. The bridegroom and his attendants wore grey business suits and white carnation boutonnières.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Backhaus wore a beige lace gown with pink accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy blue gown with red accessories and a red carnation corsage. Grandmothers of the couple wore navy blue gowns and white carnation corsages.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. Mrs. Willard Thompson was hostess. The three-tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom, was baked and decorated by Willard Thomson, cousin of the bride. Mrs. Edwin Hoerle cut and served the cake. Mrs. Ed Boshart poured. Assisting in the serving were Misses Gloria Pavel and Carolyn Wintermote. Assisting in the kitchen were Mesdames Herman Cook, Gatus Wintermote, Robert Strong and Clarence Ernst.

Miss Marilyn Lindberg had charge of the guest book. Mrs. Charles Olson of Redwood City, Calif., and Mrs. John Decker of Holbrook had charge of the gifts. Following the reception, the couple left on a wedding trip to the Black Hills. For traveling, Mrs. Hoerle wore a beige linen ensemble with beige and brown accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. The bride is a graduate of O'Neill high school and attended Wayne State Teachers college. She has been teaching in a rural school. The bridegroom attended Chambers high school and is engaged in ranching near Chambers, where the couple will make their home.

Guests attending from a distance included: Mr. and Mrs. John Decker and family of Holbrook; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Weber and Gary of Wichita, Kans.; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hoerle and family of Clearwater; Mr. and Mrs. Milton McKathnie and family; Mrs. Emma McKathnie, Mrs. Celia Backhaus, Robert Porter, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lemmer, Robert and Lyle, all of Atkinson; Miss Ellen McKathnie of Belgrade; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Van Horn, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Van Horn, all of Pags; Allan Reyner of Broken Bow; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Olson, Ricky and Joyce and Mr. and Mrs. G. I. Olson of Redwood City, Calif. Allan Reyner is the great-grandfather of the bride.

Mr. Grady sized up the opposition. "Most of them had been routed before I got there."

Mrs. Grady's maiden name was Mary Hayes, daughter of John and Julia Cronin Hayes. She was born May 15, 1886, five miles east of Atkinson and one mile south on the family homestead. Her parents had come to Nebraska from Iowa and Illinois, respectively.

She attended country school, later Atkinson public school during the era in which there were only 10 grades.

A visitor at the Hayes place the day the family held a farm sale was a young O'Neill man—H. D. Grady—who made the trip aboard a saddle horse. Mr. Grady had been a ranch manager.

A courtship ensued and Rev. Henry Loecker performed the nuptial rites in the frame St. Joseph's Catholic church which was razed two years ago.

The newlyweds established housekeeping in a new bungalow in O'Neill, which Mr. Grady had built (now owned and occupied by Mrs. Christine Williams).

In 1905, Mr. Grady organized the first rural mail route in Holt county. O'Neill's rural route 1. He alternated teams of horses each day when making the 32-mile circuit in all kinds of weather for $60 per month.

In 1909 he was nominated by the republicans for Holt county sheriff. He was 31-years-old and it was Nebraska's first primary election. He electioneered on horseback in every precinct and carried all but six.

"Nothing much important happened while I was sheriff," Mr. Grady recounts. "Being sheriff and keeping order is pretty much what you make it."

In 1917 he quit the sheriff's office, operated a store with his brother, Ben, until 1924 when he was appointed postmaster. The postmastership, which he held nine years, was an unwritten political "reward" for being "Mr. Republican" in his community. During the thirties he resumed the grocery business with his brother, and retired about 19 years ago.

Mr. Grady has one brother living, John of Everett, Wash., and three sisters—the Misses Mary and Katherine Grady of Denver, Colo., and Mrs. H. J. (Charlotte) Hammond of O'Neill.

Mrs. Grady has four sisters living—Mrs. Harry Hart of O'Neill, Mrs. Rose Ellis and Mrs. Nell Koler, both of Casper, Wyo., and Mrs. Gertrude Morgan of Arlington, Calif.; also one brother, James of Arlington, and her 90-year-old mother, Mrs. J. F. Hayes, who also resides in Arlington. Her mother moved from Holt 30 years ago.

Her mother is in frail health and will be unable to attend the celebration.

The Grady's have seven grandchildren, all of whom will be here for the observance.
