EMMET—The Church of the Epiphany at Emmet was the scene of a pretty fall wedding on Wednesday, September 12, at a 9 a.m. nuptial high mass, uniting in marriage Miss Rose Mary Bahl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bahl of Emmet, and James H. Schmitz, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Schmitz of O'Neill.

Rev. Francis Price officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Organ music was furnished by Mrs. John Tanberg, Miss Bonnie Burival song "Ave Maria" and "Pans Angelicus."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, appeared in a floor-length gown of imported rose-point lace and nylon tulle over layers of net and taffeta. The gown was fashioned with a molded bodice featuring a drop waistline edged with sequin-trimmed lace medallions.

Matching medallions trimmed the deep V neckline. The long sleeves tapered to points over her hands. The very bouffant skirt, worn over hoops, was styled with a wide lace panel at front and back.

A crown of pearls and lace held her fingertip veil of imported French illusion.

The bride carried a white orchid on a white prayer book. Her only jewelry was a three-strand pearl necklace and matching earrings, gifts from the bridegroom.

She carried out the tradition of "something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue, and a penny in her shoe."

Miss Cecelia Bahl, sister of the bride, was maid-of-honor and Miss Laurine Schmitz, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. They wore identically styled dresses in emerald green and a toast bronze crystalet, three-quarter length sleeves, molded bodice, and very full skirts over can-can slips of net and lace.

The maid-of-honor and bridesmaid wore matching mitts and picture hats of net, and carried cascade bouquets of bronze and yellow mums tied with matching ribbons.

Donald Schmitz of Bonesteel, S.D., cousin of the bridegroom, and Herman Peterson of Council Bluffs, Ia., were the bridegroom's attendants.

The bridegroom and his attendants wore light gray business suits with white carnation boutonnieres.

The bride's mother chose a navy blue nylon crepe dress with white accessories. The mother of the bridegroom appeared in a navy blue nylon crepe dress with pink accessories. Both wore pink and white corsages of carnations.

Ushers were Arnold Bahl and Gordon Slaight of O'Neill. Mass servers were James Dusatko, a nephew of the bride, and Richard Pongratz, a cousin of the bride.

Following the ceremony, a breakfast was served in the church parlors by Mrs. Floyd Ritts and James Conway for the bridal party, Father Price and six guests.

At 12 o'clock noon a dinner for one hundred guests was given by the bride's parents in the church parlors.

The brides' table was decorated with a centerpiece of white gladioli with white candles in crystal holders.

Seasonal flowers decorated the other tables.

A reception was held from 2 until 4 for 250 guests.

A four-tier wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, centered the reception table. It was baked and decorated by Mrs. Homer Ernst, who also cut and served the cake. Miss Karen Donohoe had charge of the guest book. Miss Patty Judge poured coffee. Miss Joan Donohoe served punch.

Mrs. Jerry Bahl, Mrs. Wendell Bahl and Miss Jo Ann Lansworth had charge of the gifts.

Those serving the dinner were the Misses Lorraine Ernst, La-Donna McNulty, Dolores Tunender, Ellen Havranek and Bonnie Burival.

Mr. and Mrs. Schmitz are both graduates of St. Mary's academy. The bride has been employed by the J. C. Penney Co., as cashier and bookkeeper for the past two years, initially in O'Neill and the past two years in Omaha.

The bridegroom, a recent graduate of the Electronic Engineering Institute of Omaha, is now employed as customer engineer for International Business Machines corporation.

For traveling, the bride chose a navy blue tweed tailored suit dress with red accessories. Their wedding trip destination was not disclosed.

The date also marked the 23rd wedding anniversary of the bridegroom's parents.
