It's Time to Plant Peonies

By BLANCHE SPANN PEASE, Homemaking Editor

Fall is upon us and with cooler days and, we hope, more rain, everything perks up and starts looking good. Hope a killing frost is delayed because the flowers are always so pretty in the fall.

It's time to plant peonies and if you plant some, be sure you don't set the roots too deeply. The crown should not be more than two inches from the top of the ground. When they are planted too deeply they won't bloom.

It's time, too, to feed peonies. Put a half cup of plant food in a circle around each plant, amount depending on size) and mix it into the soil with a spade or hoe, then water well. This should be done every fall if you want good peonies.

Fall is the time for planting daffodils, tulips and other spring flowering bulbs, including various kinds of lilies. There is still lots of time for that, so better get out the latest fall bulb catalogs and select just a few spring things that will bloom very early. For my taste, you can't beat a red emperor tulip. Mmm—that lovely red!

Don't forget to dig the gladioli bulbs after the tops turn brown. Be sure you dry them thoroughly where it is warm, after digging, before putting them into a cool place for winter where they won't freeze. They need to be dried and seasoned.

I think we had the loveliest glads this year that we have ever had and my enthusiasm ran full pitch all glad season, as I oh'd and ah'd and picked and arranged. Glads are created to bloom and be cut and that's exactly what I do with them!

Mrs. Ruggless Wins Subscription—

Dear Mrs. Pease: Today is cooler so it makes me feel more like writing letters. I did the washing this morning and had the clothes hung out before the "Voice of the Frontier" program was on the air. I fully enjoy the program and am so glad for the hospital report. It seems as though so many of our friends are in and out of the hospital before we get that "get well" card sent to them.

So far, we have put 27 spring fryers into the deep freeze. I want to put some more in, as they surely aren't worth anything on the market. Will pass on a hint Kenny has taught me. Dip the chicken into cold water before scalding. Remember to add about a tablespoon of soda to the scalding water. The pin feathers will come out easier.

I have tried several new dessert recipes this summer that have proved to be favorites of ours, so would like to pass them on to the rest of the readers. They are easy to prepare and very good eating.

HUSBAND'S DELIGHT
Roll 12 graham crackers fine and add half to the mixture. Lastly, add the three beaten egg whites. Put 1/3 of the crackers in 9x12-inch pan. Pour mixture on graham cracker crumbs. Sprinkle remainder of crackers on top. Chill overnight. Serve with whipped cream.

PINEAPPLE SUNSHINE
One-half pound marshmallows, 1/2 cup milk, one cup crushed pineapple.

Heat in a double boiler until marshmallows are melted. Cool. Add one cup whipped cream and one cup crushed pineapple. Cover with graham crackers and chill. Serves eight.

GOLDEN JELLY ROLL
Four large eggs, 1 1/3 cups sugar, 1/2 cup water, one teaspoon vanilla, 1 1/3 cups all purpose flour (sifted), 1 1/4 teaspoons baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt.

Beat eggs until light and fluffy. Gradually add sugar, beating in all at once. Spread evenly in well oiled and floured 15 1/2 x 10 1/2 inch pan. Bake in moderate oven of 375 F. 25 to 30 minutes or until center of cake springs back when lightly touched with finger. Fill with favorite jelly or marshmallow creme.

Hope your readers have good luck with the recipes.
