'57 Ford Goes on Display in O'Neill

The 1957 Ford went on display Wednesday at the Lohaus Motor company showrooms here.

For the first time in its 53-year history, Ford Motor Co. will produce two sizes of Ford cars. Ford's 1957 line introduces 19 entirely new body styles in five series, and features three different body sizes on two redesigned chassis lengths.

The new Ford line divides into two basic sizes. Fairlane and Custom, plus the station wagon series, each with its own body and chassis. The 1957 Fairlane and Fairlane sedans are nine inches longer and four inches lower than last year's comparable models.

Custom and Custom 300 sedans are more than three inches longer and nearly three and one-half inches lower than the 1956 models.
