

Cow Belles' Book Is Excellent

By BLANCHE SPANN PEASE, Homemaking Editor

Feel in the mood for something different? Ever made a stuffed meat loaf? Well, then today's the day for it. This recipe is from the excellent Cow Belles' Beef Cookery book and good it is.

STUFFED MEAT LOAF
You combine in a bowl: 3/4 lbs. ground beef, 1/4 potato (grated), 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1/4 teaspoon sage, 2 tablespoons tomato juice. Spread half of this mixture in a greased loaf pan (8 1/2 by 4 1/2 by 2 1/2 inches.)

Add in layers: 1 cup canned whole kernel corn, 1 onion (sliced thin), 1 cup whole tomatoes (drained). Season with salt and pepper. Cover with remaining meat mixture. Bake 1 hour at 350 F. serves six.

I don't know how you are about beefsteak pie but I can tell you how I am in only one word. Ravenous!

When you serve this beefsteak pie, I suggest parselayed potatoes and corn with it, and with a salad, you've got a banquet.

BEEF STEAK PIE
Two pounds beef chuck, cut in 1 1/2 inch cubes, 1 tablespoon lard, 3/4 teaspoon salt, 1/8 teaspoon pepper, 2 cups boiling water, 3/4 teaspoon dried basil, 1/2 teaspoon thyme, 1 medium onion (sliced), 2 teaspoons flour, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1/8 teaspoon nutmeg.

You'll need pastry for a single pie crust. Brown the meat in lard or drippings in frying pan. Season with salt and pepper. Add boiling water, cover. Simmer 30 minutes. Add basil, thyme, and onion, cover and simmer 15 minutes. Blend flour with small amount of water to make a smooth mixture. Add meat. Add Worcestershire sauce. Pour mixture into 2 quart casserole and stir. Sprinkle with nutmeg. Cover with pastry. Bake in a moderate oven of 375 F. for 30 minutes.

If you're all out of jams and jellies and the kids like something sweet on their bread try this molasses butter. Mix 1/2 cup butter or margarine with 1 teaspoon sugar and 1 tablespoon light colored molasses. Cream the butter, gradually add sugar and molasses, creaming constantly to mix it. It makes a half cup. Also delicious on waffles, pancakes and toast. Keep with a pinch of Mix molasses with a pinch of sugar, about a teaspoon and a half of hot water and 3 tablespoons butter for baking squash. It takes about 3 tablespoons molasses. Drizzle this over the squash before baking and baste once in a while when you're baking. Enough for one squash.

I like syrup mixed with butter when baking squash, too, or brown sugar and butter. Have you ever tried drizzling squash with honey before baking. It's very good, too. Now don't squash these ideas, try them! Oh, oh, such awful puns!

Collins Family Lives in Potato Country—
1548 N. Superior
Antigo, Wisc.

Dear Blanche:
Just about a year ago, I wrote you and my how fast the time has gone! At that time I was looking ahead for the summer to spend two weeks vacation in O'Neill. That's all past and we had such a nice time and saw so many of our friends and relatives. Dad took his vacation at the same time.

I've been real cool here and lots of rain this summer. Sometimes it makes me wish I were in Nebraska for I like the warm weather.

We moved the first of June from Clintonville to Antigo, about 50 miles northwest. This is in potato country, so Lloyd keeps busy hauling potatoes or machinery.

The two children started to school, Curt is in junior high and Coleen is in the first grade. They like it fine only it's a little hard to get up in the mornings. Curt must be there at 8:05 o'clock and Coleen at 8:45. Patty just plays around waiting for them to come home.

Lloyd's mother and sister paid us a two week's visit this summer and we really enjoyed them. Also, Curt's cousin, Loren, came along and they had a good time. We enjoy having someone from home, then I don't feel so far away. Ha.

Yesterday I made some cookies from a recipe the mom sent me and we like them so well.

BUTTERSCOTCH ALMOND COOKIES
Mix in order given: 1 cup brown sugar, 1 cup white sugar, 1 1/2 cups butter (part lard), 2 well-beaten eggs, 1 teaspoon soda dissolved in 2 tablespoons vinegar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 teaspoon almond extract, 4 cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons baking powder.

Roll in balls size of walnut and press down with a fork. Dip in cold water and it won't stick. Bake at 400 F. for 10 minutes.

Your street is part of your home

Your home investment does not stop at the property line. You pay for the street in front of your lot, too, so you want a pavement you'll be proud of.
Concrete streets make the whole neighborhood more attractive and boost property values. They save on street lighting costs and are safer because they reflect much more light than dark colored pavements and have extremely high skid resistance.
When you consider their long service and low maintenance cost, concrete streets are by far the best pavement investment your money can buy. If your street needs paving, investigate the advantages of concrete—the low-annual-cost pavement that dresses up the entire neighborhood and offers the utmost in safety.

Tricks-or-Treats Bring $34 at Page

PAGE—A total of $34 was taken in the town of Page by erstwhile Halloweeners, whose usual activities were diverted from pranks to a house-to-house canvass in the interest of raising money to swell the funds of the United Nations international children's emergency fund, which operates for the underprivileged children.

Members of the WSCS and the King's Daughters sponsored the drive and served lunch and a treat to those who participated.

The children met at the church and went out in teams to collect the contributions. A film was shown, depicting this organization in action among the underprivileged. Mrs. John Lamason was in charge of group singing.
