Vote Activity Brings Honor Certificate

A certificate of honor for outstanding school citizenship has been awarded to St. Mary's academy for its participation in the first nationwide, non-partisan teenage campaign to "get out the vote," co-sponsored by Scholastic Magazines and the American Heritage foundation.

The certificate, presented to Mother M. Agnesine on behalf of the school, is signed by Gen. Walter Smith, chairman of the board of the American Heritage Foundation, and Maurice R. Robinson, president and publisher of Scholastic Magazines.

According to Mother Agnesine, approximately 80 of students in the school took part in the "get out the vote" program. These youngsters sported white and blue "election volunteer" buttons identifying them as active members in the vote program.

Some of the students volunteered to baby sit so mothers could go to the polls and others transported voters.

Hot Chocolate Eggnog

Combining the best features of a piping hot chocolate drink and the creaminess (but not the potency) of eggnog, this newly created winter beverage joins the ranks of treats for young-timers during the holidays. One envelope of chocolate milk shake mix is the ingredient that does the trick, and when combined with two eggs, milk, sugar, nutmeg, and vanilla, makes a creamy winter beverage that is especially nourishing for youngsters "on-the-go" during the busy holiday season.

HOT CHOCOLATE EGGNOG

1 package chocolate milk shake mix 1 1/2 cups milk
1 rounded teaspoons sugar 2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup water 1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Dash of nutmeg

Combine Kool-Shake and sugar in a saucepan. Add water and mix well. Stir in milk and eggs. Heat, stirring occasionally. Add vanilla and nutmeg. Serve at once. Makes about 4 servings.
