California Oranges A Holiday Tradition

There was a time that a big California orange in the toe of a Christmas stocking was a rare treat reserved for special occasions such as Christmas. Although oranges still are flavor treats, they are available everywhere, every week of the year. The large California oranges in the markets this time of the year are called navels. You can tell them by the navel formation at the blossom end and their bright natural golden color. Best of all, they are seedless and easy to peel, so are "naturals" for eating whole.

Whether you're in the process of wrapping gifts or having a family get-together for the holidays, a tray of Peppermint Stick Oranges makes a welcome sight. Just cut a small hole in the top of each orange and insert a peppermint stick. Tuck a couple of holly leaves on the side and you have a most impressive holiday snack. Each person can pull off the peeling, pull apart the sections and devour the orange with great relish.

Hospital Starts Record Department

Mrs. J. W. Rooney, who formerly handled these records for St. Anthony's, will assist Sr. Teresa. Sister M. Elenius, RRL supervisor of the medical record offices of the Nebraska hospitals of the Sisters of St. Francis, has been here for several days helping to set up the new department.

Modern medicine has made the patient's medical record of supreme importance. It is recognized that good medical records in the hospital are essential to the safe and efficient care of the patient.

Come the holidays, come left-overs! Usually, they're from that festive bird, the turkey; and, just as usually, the family isn't overjoyed at the idea of eating them. Here's a happy new way to stage "welcome back" to the dining table for those remaining tid-bits—pleasing the family palate with tasty new "Hi Ho Turkey Drumsticks". Left-over turkey combined with seasonings and finely crushed crumbs from rich buttery crackers does the trick. Here's how, the quick and easy way:

- Hi Ho Turkey Drumsticks
- 1 cup thick turkey gravy or thick white sauce
  - 1 teaspoon minced parsley
  - 1 teaspoon grated onion
  - 2 cups finely minced cooked turkey
  - 18 canape picks (toothpicks trimmed with paper frills on end)
  - ¼ teaspoon salt
  - ¼ teaspoon pepper
  - 1½ cups finely crushed Hi Ho Cracker crumbs
  - Shortening or salad oil
  - 1 egg, beaten

Combine gravy, parsley, onion, turkey, salt, pepper and 1 cup of the cracker crumbs. Chill for at least 2 hours. Divide chilled mixture into 6 portions. Roll each into the shape of a plump drumstick. Heat enough shortening in a skillet to cover the bottom to a depth of 1½ inches. Dip "drumsticks" in beaten egg, then coat with remaining half cup of crumbs. Fry until golden, turning once to brown both sides. Remove to platter. Press 3 of the frilled picks, close together, into one end of each to resemble bone of drumstick. Makes 6 "drumsticks".
