Sport Night Swells Page Polio Fund

PAGE—Mrs. Lloyd Corik was in charge of the arrangements for the sports event staged at the school auditorium on Thursday evening, January 17.

The Page and Orchard grade school basketball teams started off the evening. The game was fast and Page came out the victors 57-19. The faculty matched skill with the "old timers". There was more aiming at the basket than making them and the final score was 14-12 in an overtime play with the "old timers" the winners. Criticism likely will not be too pointed toward the grade boys until all hands forget how the oldsters couldn't make 'em either, even with their superior know-how. No doubt, all will be ready for another match, another year.

The Page town team was downed by the Orchard team, 57-55 in a well matched effort.

Door receipts were $30.65 and the "Shell Out for Polio" peanut sale added $12.75 toward the polio fund.

Eagles Win One Despite Rhubarb

Down Bloomfield in Wierd Finish

Coach Bill Edwards' O'Neill high Eagles won a basketball game Friday night. They defeated the visiting Bloomfield Bees, 60-59, in a wild finish.

O'Neill led every second until near the finish. But Bob Young's fielder to the accompaniment of the final buzzer gave the Eagles the win. The verdict wasn't official until the Nebraska School Activities association's secretary said so.

Bloomfield scorekeepers contended the game was over before the winning basket because the timekeepers failed to start the clock when the ball was legally tapped during a jump ball with only a few seconds remaining.

C. C. Thompson, association secretary, wrote Bloomfield School Superintendent E. L. Stroth that the timekeeper "probably had been making the same error all evening and it would be impossible to make a time adjustment for every held ball that had occurred."

Young led the Eagles with 20 points with Bill Skrivan, off-spring of a Bloomfield scorekeeper, registered 18 for the losers.

It was a big night for the Blues, who hadn't tasted victory in eight earlier starts. The Blues are a young, inexperienced ball club but are making steady progress.

O'Neill led 13-12 at the first period, 30-27 at intermission, and 50-43 at the end of the third.

STUART WINS

STUART—The Stuart Broncos defeated Springview, 49-37, Friday night. Springview was ahead, 21-19, at the half. Stuart reserves won, 60-10, and the Stuart girls' volleyball team annexed, 32-26, over the Springview girls.

Young led the Eagles with 20 points with Bill Skrivan, off-spring of a Bloomfield scorekeeper, registered 18 for the losers.

Hospital Staff Has Problem

Over Zealous Visitors Do Harm

With the increase of patients at St. Anthony's hospital during the winter months, the sisters and the staff doctors find it necessary to speak out again on the problem of hospital visitors.

The people "mean well" when they visit their sick friends, but it never occurs to them that often they may "do more harm than good," a spokesman for the staff explained.

A sick person, especially one who is acutely ill or who has recently had surgery, tires easily.

The effort of trying to entertain visitors often leaves the patient exhausted and more ill than ever, especially when as many as 10 or 12 visitors crowd into a hospital room at one time and stay for extended lengths of time.

The sisters and nurses at the hospital have no desire to go on police duty in the corridors, but such action may become necessary for the sake of the patients if conditions do not improve.

They ask that visitors be regulated to observe the following regulations:

- Visiting hours are from 2 to 4 in the afternoon 7 to 8:30 in the evening.
- Two visitors at a time are enough for one patient. If several people wish to come, they should arrange beforehand to divide up the time so that there will not be too many present at one time.
- When a doctor visits the patient, visitors are asked to leave the room.
- Children under 12 may not visit patients in the hospital. Loud talking and laughter may not bother the person you are visiting, but can cause great discomfort to one in the next bed or adjoining room.
- When the end of visiting hours is announced, visitors are requested to leave promptly and not wait until someone must ask them to depart.

"If these rules are followed, visiting hours will be more pleasant for all, and will benefit the patients rather than exhaust them and retard their recovery," the announcement concluded.

St. Mary's 47; Chambers 41

With only one senior on the squad, the Chambers high Coyotes sounded a warning for the forthcoming Holt tourneys as they yielded to a smoother, more experienced band of St. Mary's academy Cardinals in Tuesday's night game, 47-41.

Jim Becker fired in 13 points in the second half as the Cards pulled away after a ding-dong game. St. Mary's was favored and started strong, building a 19-8 first period lead as Larry Tomlinson, Becker, Jim Froelich and Gary Holly getting tallies.

The SMA parochial team led, 25-17, at the half, and 37-27 going into the final.

Four juniors and one soph accounted for all of the Coyotes' points and Bob Klabenes, a soph, is regarded as a real comer. He hit eight points. Becker's 20 were best for SMA with Froelich tallying 13. Bill Young scored 17 to lead Chambers.
