Industrial Development, powered by LOW-COST ELECTRICITY brings "SNOWBALLING" BENEFITS. It is an established fact that every new job created by the development of new industry, or the expansion of already-established industry, "snowballs" in economic importance. The United States Chamber of Commerce points out that an industry which brings 50 new workers to your town will result in: 148 more people; 56 new households; 53 more personal cars registered; $295,000 more in personal income; $135,000 more in bank deposits; two more retail establishments; and $180,000 more in retail sales. Consumers gladly accept its responsibility to help the more than 350 Nebraska communities that it serves, attract more industry by making available a dependable supply of low-cost electric power.
