Becker of O'Neill, and John Michael Curry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael B. Curry of Kansas City, Mo. Very Rev. Timothy O'Sullivan, pastor, performed the double-ring ceremony at a 10 a. m. nuptial mass. The bridesmaids were James Becker, a brother of the bride, and James Froelich.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a gardenia white gown of antique weave Douppioni silk, styled with a long smooth-fitting bodice and topped with a sequin studded Alencon lace yoke. It featured a scalloped sabbina neckline with silk covered buttons closing the back of the bodice. The long fitted sleeves tapered to traditional points over the hands. The voluminous skirt was highlighted by a front panel accented with Alencon lace motifs encrusted with white sequins and outlined with seed pearls. The full gathered back of the skirt cascaded into a chapel train. Her lustrous veil of French illusion tulle secured with a lace bonnet outlined with tear drop pearls. Her corsage was of pink cymbidiums surrounded by white feathered carnations.

Miss Theresa O'Rourke of Kansas City, Mo., was maid-of-honor. Miss Roberta Becker, a sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. Miss Mary Kay Stapf, also of Kansas City, was a bridesmaid.

They wore navy suits, identical grey striped ties and white carnation boutonnières.

Mrs. Curry, the bridegroom's mother, appeared in a navy pure silk gown and a grey fur stole. Her accessories were also navy. She wore a talisman rose corsage.

Miss Marde Birmingham, accompanied by Miss Alvara Ramm of Stuart at the organ, sang "Ave Maria", "Panis Angelicus", "Jesus, Thou Art Coming", and "O Mother, Will It Always Be".

Sound Film to Be Shown—

"Three Minutes to Twelve", a 38-minute film in sound and color, will be shown at 8 p. m. Monday, May 20 at the Assembly of God church, at Seventh and Clay Streets.

This prophetic missionary picture, filmed in Israel, includes scenes of the place of Christ's crucifixion, the tomb where He was laid and many other historic places. Highlighted by the film is the phenomenal return of the Jews to Israel. Many Bible scholars feel that this return to Israel is in fulfillment of Bible prophecy. The unique presentation of Israel by this film helps to make this picture an outstanding feature of the church's missionary program.

The film is being shown for the monthly, weeknight missionary rally. Rev. E. Kirschman is pastor of the church.
