ALWAYS BETTER BUYS AT GAMBLES

Golden Again Wins O'Neill Open Title

An eagle on number 5 (par 4) gave Max Golden a crucial lift in Monday's championship flight final play of the 36th annual O'Neill open golf tourney.

The eagle enabled Golden to corner Ted Lindberg, a University of Nebraska grad, with a two-hole edge. Although Lindberg had several opportunities to even the score—notably on 15 and 16—the title match went through the 18th with Golden winning, 2-up in match play. Both finalists were O'Neillites.

Seventy golfers from six states participated in the three-day meet which was marred by plenty of rain. Casual water rules had to be adopted for Sunday and Monday play.

Results follow (address are O'Neill except otherwise indicated):
