Thursday afternoon August 8, at 4 p.m. Miss Glenda Warner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Warner of O'Neill was united in marriage to Royce Jordan of Rose at the Wesleyan Methodist church.

The church was decorated with baskets of gladioli. Rev. Duane Lauber officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Mrs. Blaine Garwood of Amelia accompanied Miss Linda Serek, who sang "Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a floor-length gown of lace featuring a front panel. The high neckline had a Peter Pan collar. An insert fell to her shoulders and was outlined with lace. Her elbow length illusion veil fell from a crown of lace decorated with sequins and tiny pearls. The veil was trimmed in lace. Her bouquet was white daisies with white streamers. She wore earrings.

The bridegroom wore a light suit and a carnation boutonniere. The couple's attendants were Miss Carol Gurney and Alois Warner. A reception followed in the church basement. The ladies of the church assisted.

After a wedding trip to the Black Hills, the couple will reside in the country where the bridegroom is engaged in ranching.

Mrs. Jordan is a graduate of O'Neill high school class of 1957.

Central Americans Arrive—

Study Credit Operations

Three agricultural credit leaders from Central American countries made a study of the O'Neill Production Credit association, Monday and Tuesday, August 12 and 13. It was announced by James W. Rooney, secretary-treasurer of the O'Neill Production Credit association.

The three men, Valdomero Ismael Morales P. and Carlos Gustavo Lopez S. of Guatemala, and Ezequiel Quiros C. of Panama; their interpreter, Mrs. Ernestina Solares, of Hoboken, N. J., and William H. Davidson of Standwood, Ia., district farm credit director, and Jack Bristow, regional manager of the federal land bank of Omaha, were honored at a dinner at the Town House on Sunday evening, August 11.

The men are studying the organization and operation of the Production Credit associations and studied the territory and types of farming and ranching served by the O'Neill association. In a specific study of loan procedures, they learned what the lender expects of the farmer and what the farmer expects of the lender, and which short terms and intermediate-term loans are used.

While in O'Neill, they visited the office of the National Farm Loan association of which Lyle P. Dierks is secretary-treasurer.

The group visited the D. C. Schaffer ranch southwest of O'Neill Tuesday morning and the M. F. Gribble ranch east of Chambers on Tuesday afternoon. They observed the haying and baling operations and inspected the cattle herds of both ranchers.

A high light of Tuesday was a visit to the Holt county fair at Chambers. They expressed their interest in the 4-H exhibits and judging. Their study of cooperative agricultural facilities is a part of a three-month program of study set up for them by the International Cooperation administration. They will visit the Farm Credit banks in Omaha, various NPLA and PCA groups in Nebraska and Iowa, as well as commercial banks, offices of the farmers home administration, Iowa State college and the U. S. department of agriculture.

Those present at the dinner honoring the group were Mr. and Mrs. Otto E. Oberg of Ericson, Mrs. Otto Krupicka of Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lemmer of Atkinson, and Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Gribble of O'Neill.

Mr. Krupicka, Mr. Lemmer and Mr. Gribble are directors of the association. Others present included Allen Edwards of Ord, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Schaffer, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. S. Matten and Mr. and Mrs. James W. Rooney of O'Neill.
