

Work to Be Done Today at Church

CHAMBERS—The Woman's Society of Christian Service met Thursday, October 3, at the church parlors. Mrs. Alvin Tangeman led the devotionals and Mrs. Arthur Tangeman presented the lesson, which concerned the work of the church among many races in this country. Taking part in the presentation of the lesson were Mrs. John Wintermote, Mrs. A. B. Hubbard, Mrs. T. E. Alderson, Mrs. Genevieve Bell and Mrs. S. R. Carpenter.

The business session was opened by the reading of the purpose of the society. A corsage to missions was presented to Mrs. John Kellar, the president. Mrs. Darrel Gillette received one at the Ainsworth meeting. Another corsage is awaiting the return of Mrs. Harold Bonath from her vacation. Missionary and various other reports were given. It was decided to clean and paint storm windows on Thursday, October 10.

Goal set for Neighborhood House in Omaha was discussed. It was decided to arrange a Christmas tree at the bazaar to be held in November and each member place a dollar on the tree for mission work.

A racial charter was ratified. Lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. John Blair, Mrs. Raymond Shoemaker and Mrs. Nellie Starr. Next meeting will be October 17 at the church.

Nanette Cowles Is October Bride in Stuart Church

STUART—Miss Nanette Cowles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Cowles of Stuart, Sunday, October 6, became the bride of Wendell R. Doolittle, III, of Phoenix, Ariz., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Doolittle, Jr., of Chicago, Ill. The 3:30 p.m., ceremony was performed at the Stuart Community church by the Rev. Arthur A. Hamann of Bassett.

The bride's gown of imported hand-clipped chantilly lace over bridal satin was fashioned with a molded bodice and brief shirred sleeves edged with scallops and folds of tulle. The open V neckline was edged with tulle folds and the flowing lace overskirt fell over a ballerina skirt of tulle ruffles.

Her veil of silk illusion was attached to a matching lace pill-box edged in tiny pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of a large white mum and small pom poms with silver leaves.

Mrs. Paul Burden of Lincoln was her cousin's matron of honor and Mrs. John Panter of Omaha, her bridesmaid. Mrs. Kathy Brayton of Stuart was flower girl.

The two attendants were gowned alike in Burgandy velvet ballerina gowns designed with open necklines, empire waistlines, and flowing princess-line skirts. Matching satin accented the waistlines ending in bows with floating panels. They wore matching halo hats trimmed with tiny pearls and circular veils, and carried colonial bouquets of a large white mum with silver leaves and ribbon.

The little flower girl was dressed in a white dress with matching Burgandy satin sash and pearl-trimmed headress.

W. R. Doolittle, Jr., of Chicago, Ill., was his son's bestman. Ushers were Leslie Bishop of Chicago, Ill., and John Panter of Omaha. Soloist was Terry Wilson of Sioux City, cousin of the bride. Mrs. Helen Brady of Ainsworth was the organist. Lighting the candles was Mrs. Donald Hamilton of Lincoln.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the church. After a wedding trip through the Rocky Mountains, the couple will live in Phoenix, Ariz.
