

JANUARY DRAFT WILL BE 'HEAVY'

29 to Report December 18 for Preinduction Examinations

Holt county will furnish a group of inductees to the armed forces on Thursday, December 13. Number of men and names have not yet been announced by the selective service board here.

Meanwhile, 29 men are being ordered to report for preinduction physicals on December 18. From this group will be picked the men to furnish the January draft call, which is expected to be "heavy."

Brig-Gen. Guy N. Heninger, of Lincoln state selective service director, said he fears many Nebraska youths are "placing themselves in jeopardy" by not registering for the draft.

This is the result of unwitting action or an "I-think-I-can-get-away-with-it" attitude, Heninger said.

In either case, the general said, failure to register is a violation of law and makes the delinquents liable to penalty.

He said he could make no estimate of the number of delinquents in Nebraska, but he said local boards have standing instructions to turn over the names of suspected delinquents to federal authorities for investigation.

Heninger reminded Nebraska youths that they must register for the draft within 5 days of their 18th birthday.

The selective service head also advised Nebraska college and high school students "not to be alarmed" if they are first classified into class 1-A and retained in the class even though they are full-time students.

Under selective service procedures, Heninger said, after registration an 18-year-old student is placed in the 1-A category. When his number is reached, he will be sent for physical examination. But if he is ordered for induction and the student requests deferment on grounds he is a full-time student, his induction is postponed until the academic year in college is completed or until he graduates from high school or reaches the age of 20 in high school.

Writes Song Hit; Gets 'Voice' Airing

F. E. Parkins, sales manager for the Consumers Public Power district headquarters here, has written the words for a song hit that is catching fire across the country. It is entitled, "Don't Turn Your Back on the Lord."

Phonograph records and sheet music are being distributed across the nation this week, a copy of which has been received at the "Voice of The Frontier" studio. The tune will be aired on the Saturday, December 1, "Voice" program (WJAG, 780 k.c.), 9:45 a.m.

Parkins, who has about 20 other selections in the making as a hobby, wrote the words which were originally published in the "Song Writers' Review" magazine in New York. A young New York lady composer, Betty Barford, contacted the O'Neill man and after an exchange of mail over a period of 3 months came up with the catchy tune in an almost sacred vein.

The selection has been recorded by Walter Scott and his orchestra with Bob Hart, a black-type Irishman, doing the vocal.

Turkeys to Be Loosed Dec. 8

A truckload of turkeys, ducks and chickens will be loosed in O'Neill at 3 p.m., on Saturday, December 8.

There will be a free-for-all scramble for the fowl, arranged by O'Neill merchants. The loosing of the live birds will begin at the west end of Douglas street and the truck will work eastward to the corner of Fifth and Douglas (Lohaus Motor Co.).

The birds will fly to the accompaniment of the O'Neill Municipal band and those who catch them can claim the bird.

The Chamber of Commerce retail trade committee announced this week that Saturday store hours will be the same as usual—9 a.m. to 10 p.m. Retail stores will be open Thursday evenings until 9 on December 6, 13 and 20, and until 9 on Friday evening, December 21.

Committees have been appointed for the reception of Santa Claus (with treats for all the kids) on Saturday, December 15. Santa will greet his young worshippers as usual at the O'Neill public school.

The Chamber board of directors met Monday to complete year-end activities for the organization.

5 JUVENILES WILL GO BEFORE JUDGE

Delinquency Charges May Be Pressed Result of Incidents

Five O'Neill boys whose ages range from 10 to 16-years-old are being detained pending a hearing at 10 a.m. today (Thursday) before Judge D. R. Mounts.

The court declined to release for publication the names of the youths pending the outcome of today's hearing.

One 16-year-old boy and a 15-year-old were picked up by Cherry county authorities in a stolen automobile. They had fled O'Neill in a Kaiser sedan owned by Lester Oetter on Tuesday night, November 20. The car had been taken from near the Fetrow repair shop and was recovered the next morning at Wood Lake.

The boys had abandoned the Oetter car and taken another in which they were captured.

Another youth, 15, already is on parole from the state boys' industrial school at Kearney. All 5 are being questioned regarding petty thievery and other delinquency matters.

Parents of the youths have been ordered to appear in court today with their sons, Judge Mounts said.

Two soloists already have been named for the Sunday, December 16, afternoon presentation of the "Messiah" by the O'Neill community chorus.

They are: Kathleen Flood Hansen, soprano, and Stanley J. Lambert, tenor.

Others will be announced within the next few days, according to the chorus director, Charles Houser.

Mrs. Hansen graduated from St. Mary college, Xavier, Kans., with a bachelor of music degree. She sang with the Kansas City Municipal orchestra in summer concert series under the direction of Dr. N. DeRubertis. She was soloist in "Mid-America Songs" over station KCMO, Kansas City, Mo., as well as in the St. Mary college's weekly radio show over KCSSO, Leavenworth, Kans.

Mr. Lambert graduated from the University of Nebraska college of agriculture in 1950. He was tenor soloist in the 1949 agricultural college production of the "Messiah" while at the university he sang with the University chorus, under Mrs. Altman Tullis, and was a member of the University Singers, under the direction of Dr. Arthur Westbrook, head of the department of music.

The chorus is holding regular rehearsals each Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Accident-Free Holiday Here

HELPS REFUEL AIRCRAFT

Cpl. Delbert Haselhorst, son of Mr. and Mrs. Casper ("Cap") Haselhorst, of Lynch, joined the air force February 15, 1950. He took his basic at Sheppard air base, Texas, after which he went to a technical school there. He graduated October 15 and was sent to Travis AFB, California, where he is engaged as a plane mechanic, refueling and checking planes. The planes require from 3,600 to 3,900 gallons of gas at one filling. Corporal Haselhorst says he "enjoys his work."

Stuart Man Denies Charge

STUART—Glen Cobb has denied assaulting Mrs. Ruby Mather, of Norfolk, who has filed a $15,000 damage suit against him in the Holt county district court.

Mrs. Mather charges that the defendant on November 14 at Stuart assaulted her, causing her to suffer injuries, and that she is "now disabled from attending to her business as a saleslady and interior decorator . . . and for a long time will be disabled."

The plaintiff alleges she was injured about the left arm and neck, and that her nerves were severely shocked.

Mr. Cobb stated this week that he has never touched Ruby Mather. Mrs. Glen Cobb, in whose presence the alleged incident was said to have occurred, states that every word of the entire charge was false. Mr. and Mrs. Cobb plan to testify to that effect when the case comes before the district court next spring.

High Scouting Award to Mounts

The Covered Wagon council's highest award, the Silver Beaver, was presented to District Judge D. R. Mounts, of O'Neill, at the November district meeting of the north-central district Boy Scouts of America meeting.

Judge Mounts was recognized for his "faithful aggressive service to boys by the Covered Wagon council."

Mr. Mounts was 1 of 6 men recognized this year for service. Dr. J. M. Pucelik, of Spencer, a holder of the Silver Beaver award, made the presentation.

The qualifications for this award are: At least 10 years as a registered Scouter; continuous and outstanding efforts which in some way definitely reach the lives of boys in the community.

In the history of the Covered Wagon council only 63 awards of this type have been received. The Silver Beaver is the highest award a council has to offer its faithful scouters, and has a real meaning to all connected with the Scout program. Judge Mounts has been active in Scouting since he was a scoutmaster at Long Pine in 1918.

The business covered at the district meeting included the final plan for a commissioners flag which will be ready for troop competition by January 1, 1952.

A report on membership by Les Jones found the district increasing steadily with 40 new cubs and scouts "rounded up" during October. So far in November 2 new troops have been added in the district—Jamison, under leadership of Arnie Petersen, and Ewing, under the leadership of Jerry Tomjack.

An announcement was made by Dick Miller that the council is holding a winter camp on December 26-29 at Camp Cedars, for Explorers only. If interested, check with your scoutmaster on details.

Before the group was dismissed for roundtable sessions, the announcement was made that Bassett is well under way on their 1951 finance campaign, according to Dick Miller, north-central district field executive.

Refreshments were served after the meeting.

BOYD GROUP HONORED

Boyd county soil conservation district received recognition at a banquet Monday evening, November 26, at the American Legion auditorium in Butte.

National Honor to O'Neill Youth

Soil Supervisors Feted at Banquet

One hundred forty-two persons attended the soil conservation recognition dinner Tuesday night at the American Legion club here. For its continuing progress in soil conservation, the Holt soil conservation district received a citation from the Omaha World-Herald.

The district was presented a bronze plaque by E. T. McLanahan, World Herald promotion manager.

The presentation was made at a banquet in the American Legion hall at O'Neill. W. W. Derrick, of Lincoln, extension animal husbandryman at the University of Nebraska, was the principal speaker.

His theme was the familiar one—practicing soil conservation and urging emphasis on use of grass.

D. D. DeBolt, president of the Chamber of Commerce, was toastmaster.

The award was based on the activity of the district's board of supervisors, which include Clarence Ernst, of O'Neill, chairman; Elmer C. Allyn, of Stuart, secretary; R. L. Heiss, of Page, Floyd Keyes, of Inman, and E. J. Revell, of Star.

The district has been active in grass seeding, tree planting and harvesting of native grass seed. It owns a considerable amount of equipment to do this work.

With its $500 award from the World-Herald in 1948, the district purchased grass seeding equipment which seeded more than 3,000 acres of grass and legumes the first 2 seasons.

The district supervisors also have been active in educational activities throughout the district. They helped organize a 4-H soil conservation club and have sponsored essay contests on conservation for schools throughout the county.

Invocation was offered by Rev. J. Laverne Jay; O'Neill's Mayor J. E. Davis issued the welcome; Joseph George, of the O'Neill public school, provided several vocal solos.

CCC Head States Corn Sale Policy

Frank W. Reed, chairman of the state production and marketing administration committee, reports that district conferences are being held this week to explain the sales policy concerning bin-site corn owned by the Commodity Credit corporation. For details regarding this sales policy, farmers and elevator operators should contact county production and marketing administration offices. Mr. Reed states that briefly the policy is as follows:

(1) To keep the commodity credit corn from entering speculative channels.

(2) To retain for Nebraska feeders as much as possible of the commodity credit-owned corn in Nebraska.

(3) Encourage the blending of the poor quality 1951 corn crop with the good quality CCC corn so as to encourage the purchase of new crop of corn by warehousemen and to stretch the feed units as far as possible.

Using 4-H club funds, the club gave a banquet for parents and bought ice skates for each member.

Edward's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ed Boyle. He is a graduate of St. Mary's academy.

He left O'Neill by train Friday night, accompanied by County Agent A. Neil Dawes.

According to Mary Frances Vitt, Riverside's news reporter, Edward in 7 years of club work has completed 14 projects, which include forestry, poultry, fix it, garden, crops, tractor as well as his home grounds beautification for which he has won national recognition. He has served as treasurer for 2 years and this year has served as junior leader and attended a leaders' training session in Lincoln.

Edward Boyle Makes 2d Trip to 4-H Congress in Chicago

Edward Boyle, of O'Neill, 21, Riverside 4-H club member, has won his second trip to the national 4-H club congress held in Chicago, Ill. The congress began Sunday in conjunction with the International Livestock exposition, and ends today (Thursday).

This year Edward was a state, regional and national winner in the home grounds beautification project. In 1949, when he made his first trip to Chicago, he was a state winner in gardening. That year he won a gold watch.

The Riverside club has 40 members and 21 of them are Boyles from 2 families. Edward's club members have a wonderful time together by older members helping younger members with records and exhibits.

The work Edward has done repairing and painting the house and farm buildings is remarkable in 2 years. He has built a bird house, planted trees and shrubs, built an outdoor fireplace and a boat. He helps play for folk and square dancing for his club, to which everyone always is invited. He helped build and operate a concession at the Holt county fair. A record player was purchased from club funds.

Besides dancing at the community get-togethers, Riverside stages plays, skits, a Christmas program, and takes part in farm activities. The club donated to the Red Cross blood bank, St. Anthony's hospital and the 4-H club center in Washington, D.C.

The first county courthouse—a log cabin—is on the Boyle farm. Each year the club holds a meeting there. They plan to make it into a museum.
