

Avis Papke Weds Harold E. Johnson

STUART—Miss Avis Papke, daughter of Mrs. Katherine Papke, became the bride of Harold E. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Johnson, of Newport, on Monday, December 17, at 2 p.m., in the Community church.

The vows were exchanged before a small candlelight altar.

Rev. Orin D. Graff officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Miss Faye Moses sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Mrs. Kenneth Paul.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Myron Papke, wore a gown of white satin and lace fashioned with a sequin and pearl trimmed bodice with a nylon yoke and a floor length full skirt. Her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion was held in place by an orange blossom tiara.

She wore a double strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, and carried a bouquet of red roses.

Miss Norma Jean Johnson, of Norfolk, cousin of the bride, as maid of honor wore a gown of blue satin with hat to match and carried a nosegay of yellow chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaid, Miss Jeanne Schaffer, wore a gold satin gown with hat to match and carried a nosegay of pink chrysanthemums.

Carol and Darlene Hoffman, nieces of the bride, were junior bridesmaids and wore lace trimmed dusty rose taffeta gowns with matching head bands.

They wore wrist bands of yellow and white pom-pom mums. Jacqueline Papke, niece of the bride, was miniature bride. Her gown of white satin and lace was fashioned similar to the bride's and she carried a red rose.

Sharon Fox, of Newport, niece of the bride, was flower girl and wore a light blue taffeta gown with matching head band. She carried a yellow and white nosegay of pom-pom mums.

Rollie Wallinger, nephew of the bride, carried the rings on a heart shaped pillow of white satin trimmed with lace.

Ted Johnson, of Newport, nephew of the bridegroom, was best man and Bob Gilg, of Newport, was the attendant.

Ushers were James Hoffman, nephew of the bride and Gene Fredrickson, of Bassett, cousin of the bridegroom.

The bridegroom and attendants wore business suits with white boutonnieres.

The bride's mother chose a grey dress and the bridegroom's mother a grey suit. Both wore pink and white carnation corsages.

A 6 o'clock dinner was served to a large group of relatives and friends in the city auditorium.

Mrs. Stanley Cobb was in charge of table directions. The dinner was prepared by Mrs. Francis Roberts, Mrs. R. A. Coffman, Mrs. Charles Moses, Mrs. Donald Krotter and Mrs. Harry Cadwallader.

The 3-tier wedding cake composed of several angel food cakes was arranged in the pattern of a rose and topped with a miniature bride and groom and a wedding bell, was baked and decorated by the bride's sisters, Mrs. Jim Hoffman and Mrs. Joe Wallinger. Schoolmates of the bride, Esther Gans, Marjorie Chaney, Corrine Sweet, Norma Cadwallader, Marcia Bigelow, Shirley Shald, Ruth Nachtman, Evelyn Weichman, Marilyn Delosh and Jane Henderson served the dinner.

Loretta Papke, niece of the bride, was in charge of the guest book. The couple entertained friends at a wedding dance in the evening.

The bride was a member of the junior class in Stuart high school. The bridegroom graduated from Newport high school in 1948.

After a honeymoon trip the couple will reside at Clarkson, where the bridegroom is employed as station agent for the North Western railroad.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Johnson and daughters; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ruth and son, James Fredrickson and family, Mrs. Eric Moore, Mrs. Pearl Stewart, Charlotte More, all of Bassett; Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Loseke, of Ericson; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Farr, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Moore and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Henry, of Newport.

ASSEMBLY OF GOD (O'Neill)
Rev. Wayne A. Hall, pastor
"The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom." Prov. 9:10. Could there be a better way of beginning the new year than by giving the Lord His rightful place in your life?

We invite you to attend our Sunday services. At 10 a.m. we study the word of God in Sunday-school. Worship at 11 a.m., and evangelistic service at 7:45 p.m. Join us in a watch night service at 9 p.m. December 31. Ministers and their people in nearby Assemblies will be taking part.

Bible study and prayer meeting will be at 8 Wednesday.

Milk Production May Be Down

Milk production may be reduced this winter because of the low quality hay which is being fed, according to University of Nebraska dairymen. They point out that hay which has lost its leaves and color has lost much of its feeding value. Rain during the haying season reduced the quality of much of Nebraska's hay crop. The dairymen say that if the quality of the roughage is low, it's necessary to replace the required nutrients from the grain ration. But, they add, regardless of the quality of the roughages—hay or silage—they still are the backbone of the dairy ration.

The roughages, they say, should be fed liberally to cows and the animals should have a chance to pick out the better parts. The rest of the hay can be used for bedding.
