

The Frontier Woman —

Nature Works Differently in Oregon; Vegetation Freshens in Fall (Like Spring)

By BLANCHE SPANN PEASE

My goodness, the 3d week in January already, yet, as the Dutchman would say. And I said it!

First thing we know it will be February and then spring will be getting into our veins.

I just took a good look at our windows and they all need washing. I didn't do any extensive housecleaning last fall, either. I thought we were still in the old house. Thanks, all you folks who keep writing to inquire about the new house. They have the floors in now and are hanging doors.

Finally got my built-in cabinets all planned with a center for mixing and food preparation, one for serving and one for clean up. Think we must have spent 13 solid hours on it, and that did not include a good deal of "reading up" and studying that I did on the subject.

I expect I made some mistakes but think we will like the finished work, if and when it's finally done (if it ever is).

Of course, when you move into a new house, any old battered furniture you own will immediately look twice as old and battered. Grin. And of course, I will have to have all new curtains because none of those I have will fit all the new double windows!

Ain't it the truth though, you folks who have built new houses will know all about it!

If any of you folks who built new houses have any unique innovations in yours write and tell me about them. We'd all like to hear

This Week's Winner—

An Oregon housewife, who does not want her name revealed, this week wins our 3-months' subscription.

Dear Blanche:

It has been years since I have tried writing to your column but have always enjoyed it and put many of the homemakers' hints and recipes to good use.

Apples being in season again, here is a recipe for apple pudding, which can also be used as a cake, topped with hard sauce or whipped cream.

APPLE PUDDING

One-fourth cup shortening, 1 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon soda, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 egg, 1 cup flour, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 2 or 3 fresh apples, chopped fine, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/2 cup walnuts chopped, 1/2 teaspoon salt. Mix like cake, bake 1 hour at 350 F. Serve hot or cold.

I have found in redecorating my bathroom that it is difficult to match accessories and paint. For this purpose I dye large white Turkish towels. For the stool cover, cut to size, hem, draw heavy string through hem, draw edges tight and tie.

We are having some wonderfully "bright" fall days, along with our seasonal rains. In Oregon nature reverts itself in the fall, elsewhere everything becomes dull and green stuff dies.

With the fall rains here everything becomes fresh and green again and we have spring. Have had to mow the lawn twice since the middle of September.

Well, enough of this idle chatter for now. Seems to be lunch time again. Sincerely,

'AN INTERESTED READER'

Recipe of the Week— COCONUT CRESTED ANGEL FOOD CAKE

One cup sifted cake flour, 1 cup egg whites (takes 8 to 10 egg whites), 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cream of tartar, 1 1/4 cups sifted granulated sugar, 3/4 teaspoon almond extract, 1/2 cup coconut, shredded. Sift flour once, measure and sift 4 times. Beat egg whites and salt with flat wire whisk. When foamy, add cream of tartar and continue beating until eggs are stiff enough to hold up in peaks, but not dry. Fold in sugar carefully, 2 tablespoons at a time, until all is used. Fold in flavoring. Then sift small amount of flour over mixture and fold in carefully. Continue until all is used. Pour batter into ungreased angel food cake pan. Sprinkle with coconut. Bake in a slow oven at least 1 hour. Begin at 275 F. and after 30 minutes increase heat slightly 325 F. and bake 30 minutes. Invert pan 1 hour.

A doctor told me that a baby knows better than anyone else how much to take at feedings. No doubt the baby has inside information.

The world has now had civilization for 5,000 years, historians tell us. We are horrified when cannibals eat one man, but we plan means that will kill thousands with one bomb, literally blowing them to shreds or cooking them alive. Would you call that civilization?

Even the people who won't agree with you that FDR was a great man, will have to agree that Eleanor is a great-grandmother!
