Expected to Win

Dwight Griswold

Political experts are agreed that Dwight Griswold will be named next week as the Republican nominee for the short term in the United States senate, to fill the balance of the term of the late Senator Wherry.

Griswold was elected governor in 1940, 1942 and 1944, winning by the largest majority any candidate ever received in Nebraska's history. He was conservative, but fair in his approach to public questions and gave Nebraska excellent leadership during the tough war years.

Dwight Griswold's parents were homesteaders in western Nebraska in 1886 and he was reared out in the "short grass" country, having a fine understanding of the state's problems. He is a former State Commander of the American Legion, a former President of the State Press Association, and is now engaged in the banking business in Gering, Adv.
