Prairieland Talk — All Presidential Primary Idea Does Is to Split Parties into Factions

By ROMAINE SAUNDERS

LINCOLN—April. A morning bathed in the gold of uncurtained sunbeams, clouds brushed beyond the horizon's rim and the blue sky mantling the sun-drenched morning. Flowers in gay colors have begun to appear here and there, bud and bloom springs from the grey earth, robins and larks find nesting places, wild water fowl wing their way to the north-land, sons of the soil out with the tractors across fields and back again, stirring the wet land, plowing and sowing in hope, primary elections over-leaving disappointed hopes for the defeated and glad hearts within the bosom of victors.

Romaine Saunders

The unsuccessful boys are thus spared the agony that awaits some of today's happy hearts in November.

Ed Earley out on the Eagle may remember them. Anyway, they recall with a glow of pleasure Ed as a neighbor a good many years back when they were citizens of the Eagle creek country, now on a farm a few miles out from Lincoln. I ran across Mr. and Mrs. E. C. McCall on the street one day recently and some events of other years in Holt county came into review during our half-hour together.

Mr. McCall hadn't gained a pound in weight since he left Holt county, but he can talk hybrid corn like an expert, while Mrs. McCall retains the poise and well-being of a competent farm woman.

He thought things were coming his way to relieve the household financial stringency when he got notice of an increase of $8 per month in his pay. However, after the fellows who get this "withholding" take got theirs the poor cuss had $4 a month less than before the raise.

The Southern Pacific bridge spanning the Great Salt Lake in Utah is 14 miles long, the longest railroad bridge in the country. . . . A San Francisco, Calif., patriot, maybe one of the tribe himself at one time, has conceived a scheme with a radio receiving attachment for the use of the boys who spend their days aboard a nose out on the range.

Latest figures put the population of the United States at 139,976,000. . . . A group known as Church World Service reports foreign aid work for 1951 in the sum of $9,743,000. This with what comes from the federal government and from other channels amounts into the billions of dollars. And those whose shores are washed by the seven seas to whom it all goes don't think too much of us at that.

A radio broadcast from the Vatican radio warns Catholic communicants throughout the world against reading the obscene matter appearing in print and picture rather brazenly at present. Why pick up such at a newsstand with a great moral, cultural, family journal like The Frontier available for a whole year for only two-fifty? (Editor's note: Amen.)

In bowing out, Mr. Truman made it an occasion to insult Fred Watson, Ira Moss, Henry Grady and every republican from Abraham Lincoln to Robert A. Taft. As chief executive, does he represent the American people or a group of his own choosing?

Robert W. McGinnis, once a familiar figure down at Amelia, where everybody called him Bob, with a few friends at the breakfast table at the Lincoln hotel a morning early last week was observing his 87th birthday anniversary. Mr. McGinnis makes his home in Fremont, and in the active period of life was a division superintendent of the North Western railroad, had creamery interests near Amelia, and at one time established such in O'Neill at Third and Douglas streets. The late Ernest Henry, of a pioneer Minneola family, was the engineer at the McGinnis plant during its operation in O'Neill. Having had experience as a printer and founder of the Chambers Eagle in the long ago, Mr. Henry after leaving the creamery became the first linotype operator at The Frontier plant and the first in Holt county.

"May I, as one who has been through the fire and has been severely burnt, say that you may be on the path to destruction—at least the destruction of your home—when you find in the company of any other person, in any other place, more enjoyment than you find in the company of your own wife in your own home." These are the words of an old man who has been for 40 years behind prison walls because of a life of crime starting from absconding himself from his home and from the wife of his youth.

Pat Donohoe, Mike Horiskey and other anglers of the community are interested in changing their luck by going after something beside northern pike, I learn of 250 kinds of fish in one locality that sizzle appetizingly in the skillet. You have to go to Australian waters to catch them. But you can get a boatload each, just a nice size for the rying pan, all finned and scaled alike, in most any sandhills lake down in southwest Holt county.

In voting the nomination to Senator Butler, republicans who love the Lord have followed the biblical injunction, Rise up before the noary neau and honor the face of the old man. . . . It doesn't seem to have occurred to Eisenhower partisans that if Mr. Stassen's name had not been on the ballot his friends may have voted for Taft. All this presidential primary idea does is to split parties into factions.

Since 1860 there have been 12 republicans, one unionist and four democrats occupying the honored station of president of the United States. The last half of the 19th century saw the republicans in control of the government most of the time. Will the last half of the 20th century draw upon the political scene a like picture?

Teddy Roosevelt said something about stepping softly but carry a big stick. It has also been suggested that you pray for a good harvest but keep on hoeing.

A gentleman from an Iowa city visited The Frontier one day to pay us the compliment of getting out the best country paper he had yet seen. . . . He was in the county looking after his ranching interest in the Swan Lake country. That was just 50 years ago. . . . In that year, 1902, a gent down in the Swan Lake community, Elmer Selix, ran a notice in The Frontier that he had executed a chattel mortgage covering "1 bay horse 9-year-old, weight 900; 1 grey horse, 10-years-old, weight 1,000; 1 bay mare, 10-years-old, weight 900; also second mortgage on 1 spotted cow, 7-years-old; 1 red cow, 5-years-old, and 1 roan cow, 6-years-old" to secure a note for $75, given to a man by the name of J. D. Jones. Which note, he was giving notice to the world, he would not pay as "it was secured by fraud."

As I view it, delegates chosen for the national party convention should not be hamstrung by "instructions". If they are qualified to go as a delegate to a convention of their political faith certainly they should be free to act upon their best judgment. The group sentiment of those gathered in convention may not be in harmony with "instructions" yet be for the best interests of the party as a whole.

Methodist Bishop Arthur J. Moore, of Atlanta, Ga., throws out the warning that "the most serious challenge" to religious and moral forces today is the "disintegration of home life." Too many attractions to draw away from the home.

Student Nurse Visits —
Miss Amy Christensen arrived Tuesday from Omaha where she is a student nurse at the Methodist hospital. She will be a guest of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Siefken. Mrs. James Christensen, of Norfolk, will arrive today (Thursday) and will also be a guest at the Siefken home. She is the mother of Mrs. Siefken and Miss Christensen.

Fetes Husband —
Mrs. Cecil Spry entertained at a birthday anniversary party on Sunday evening in honor of her husband. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Spry and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wiseman. The evening was spent socially. Mrs. Spry served refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake.

Set Date Soon for Annual Show

CHAMBERS — The Chambers Garden club held its April meeting at the home of Nellie Medcalf, Mae Thorin being assisting hostess. Seventeen members, one guest, and six children were present. Response to roll call was naming a favorite annual, grown from seed. Members brought exhibits of plants and handmade articles, which were displayed and explained.

During the business session there was considerable discussion as to the best dates for the annual show, there being some difference of opinion as to whether it would be better to hold it before or after the fair. Nothing definite was decided, it being necessary to confer with the Beautiful Valley club before final settlement was reached. June 17 was the date set for a tour of gardens in Norfolk, and it was decided to invite Norfolk garden clubs to a return visit in Chambers.

Mildred Wandersee was appointed to confer with the Beautiful Valley club as to entertaining the club from Winner, S.D. The president announced that a work shop would be held in Atkinson April 23, at which time Mabel Robertson would give a report on her trip to the national convention in Biloxi, Miss., and also show films. Another district meeting will be in Atkinson, May 6, when election of officers will be held. It was decided to present a gift to LaVerne Harley showing appreciation of her courtesy in showing films at the March meeting.

Tillie Walters conducted the lesson, bringing helpful suggestions for rock gardens. The next meeting will be with Wanda Lenz, Luetta Dankert being assisting hostess. All members are asked to meet at the bank at 1:30 p.m., May 7, where transportation will be provided to the Lenz home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Worth and Mr. and Mrs. Benny Wetzler were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Danial Page at Page.
