Important Buick Meeting Held Here

Kansas City Zone Manager a Guest

O'Neill was host Tuesday to Buick automobile dealers from points west as far as Valentine, north as far as Winner, S.D., and east as far as Norfolk and Madison.

It was a meeting conducted by R. P. Sullivan, Kansas City, Mo., zone manager. The zone embraces seven states and meetings similar to the O'Neill session are scheduled at Omaha, Lincoln, Hastings, North Platte, Colby, Kans., Joplin, Mo., Des Moines, Ia., and a number of other points.

A Marcellus, O'Neill Buick dealer, was host and sessions were held at the Golden hotel following a noon luncheon.

Mr. Sullivan outlined for the dealers and servicemen Buick's forward plans in relation to the nation's economy. Another purpose of the gathering was to discuss ways and means of creating still better good will among Buick customers and prospective customers.

Mr. Sullivan told the Nebraska and South Dakota Buick dealers that the zone representatives are "certainly happy to be able to conduct this meeting at O'Neill at the invitation of Mr. Marcellus, who has been a Buick dealer since 1926."

The visitors made a side trip to the White Horse ranch.

Hail Cuts Swath in North - Holt Strip from Midway to Dorsey Hit

A hailstorm about 5 p.m. Tuesday inflicted about 50 percent crop damage in an area north of O'Neill extending from Midway to Dorsey.

Insurance claims have been filed by Hi Johnson, Frank McDonald, Floyd Luber, August Karel, Orville Miller, Charles Gifford, Carl Krogh, Rudolph Johnson and others living in that vicinity.

Enormous hailstones fell at Midway. One farmer reported finding an isolated stone measuring 22 inches in circumference.

The town of Bassett was also in the path of the hail and wind. Numerous windows were knocked out of stores and homes and extensive automobile damage was reported. Fist-sized stones were found at Bassett.

At the Raymond Schmidt farm near Atkinson some chickens were killed by the ice pellets.

Violence was packed in several storms that crossed the O'Neill region preceding Tuesday evening's storm. The skies suggested hail an wind both Sunday and Monday evenings.

Twenty-one one-hundredths of an inch of rain fell Saturday and Sunday, most of the precipitation coming during a Sunday morning shower. Seven one-hundredths of an inch of rain was recorded late Tuesday afternoon.

An immediate "cooling off" was sufficient evidence that hail had fallen nearby.
