TO ALL . . . TELEVISION ENTHUSIASTS

• Although Television has not yet reached the heights of radio in this locality for daily satisfaction, there have been certain improvements in the past three years which make it more appealing.

• Since installing our first test set three years ago (at which time we publicly discouraged the purchase of a set) basic designs have been simplified and it is now possible to get fairly frequent reception without a great expenditure of money or labor.

• Because of the intense local interest in TV we have installed a late model low priced antenna and set in our store and invite all who are interested to stop in. We will try to show you a picture and answer your questions. At the present time best reception is between the hours of 8:00 and 9:00 in the morning and from 4:00 to 8:00 in the evening with variances depending upon the weather. We invite your inspection and comments.

Crop Improvement Tour Next Tuesday

Special Invitation to Visit SW Holt

The annual Holt county crop improvement tour will be held Tuesday, July 1, starting at 9:30 a.m. from O'Neill.

Tour will include small grain variety and fertilizer test plots and grassland research fertilizer plots, also Madison vetch fields and native grass seedings.

The county agent announced the tour and stated that last year more than 125 attended, and that many people from all over Holt county have been asking when the tour was to be held and if a visit would be made to the grassland test plots in southwest Holt county.

County agents from Rock, Brown, Keya Paha and Boyd counties have asked for information as there are ranchers and farmers in those counties interested in seeing fertilizer plots.

The tour is scheduled to leave O'Neill from the courthouse.

Schedule:

9:30 a.m.—Leave O'Neill, go to Frank Peters ranch, 1 1/2 miles south on U.S. highway 281.

10:15 a.m.—Leave Peters, go to Clarence Ernst pasture study, three miles west of O'Neill.

10:50 a.m.—Leave Ernsts, go to oats variety and fertilizer test plot, one-half mile north of Ernsts.

11:10 a.m.—Leave test plot, go to Madison vetch field.

11:30 a.m.—Leave vetch field, go to Atkinson for lunch.

1:00 p.m.—Leave Atkinson park for Joe Roche rye test, two miles west.

1:30 p.m.—Leave Roche's, go back by park, and out to Lawrence Pacha's, six miles south, seven west of Atkinson, wet meadow fertilizer plot.

2:30 p.m.—Leave Pacha's for Gottschall ranch, wet meadow fertilizer plot.

3:30 p.m.—Leave Gottschall's for home.

George Mellor of Atkinson, president of the crop improvement association, invites anyone interested to join them on this tour of southwest Holt county. Many people have never seen the hay and cattle areas of the southwestern part of the county.

This is the third year that the crop improvement association has sponsored this tour.

Personals
