

Eva Moves Out of Town - Reason for Shedding Neighborly Tears Together

By BLANCHE SPANN PEASE

Rice is a good dish to serve now and then. By the way do you cook rice properly. For boiled rice, you should use two quarts of boiling water to a cup of washed rice and three teaspoons of salt.

Wash the rice thoroughly in several waters until all the loose starch is removed. Drain. Have the boiling water ready in a deep sauce pan, add the salt, slowly drop in the rice and allow to boil for about twelve to 25 minutes, or when a grain pressed between the thumb and finger is entirely soft. In order to prevent rice from sticking to the pan, lift, if necessary, from time to time with a fork, but do not stir it.

When cooked, turn the rice into a colander or sieve. A little hot water can be run through the rice to wash off extra starch. After the water has drained off, cover with a cloth and set over a pan of hot water on the back of the stove, or in the oven. Or turn the rice into a shallow pan and place in a warm oven for a short time. Treated in this way, the grains swell and are kept separate.

If the water is hard at your place, add a teaspoon of lemon juice, one-half teaspoon of cream of tartar or a tablespoon of vinegar to the water in which you cook the rice, and you'll have snowy white rice.

RICE BAVARIAN CREAM

One cup cooked rice, one tablespoon gelatin, 1/2 cup cold water, 1/4 teaspoon salt, one cup of cream or evaporated milk (whipped), one teaspoon vanilla, 1/4 cup sugar.

Pour cold water in bowl and sprinkle gelatin on top of water. Place bowl in boiling water and stir until dissolved. Add to hot cooked rice, sugar, salt and vanilla. Beat well, cool and when it begins to thicken, fold in whipped cream or evaporated milk. Turn into a mold that has been rinsed in cold water or pile in serving glasses. Chill and when firm, unmold and serve with a fruit or chocolate sauce. Serves six.

Dear Frontier Woman: Perhaps I'm not in the right mood to write to The Frontier column, for I've a fit of the blues with reason plenty. My dear neighbor, Eva, and her family have moved from out of town, and we miss them more than words can express.

You see, small town neighbors are bound together with a close bond and we feel a gap in our everyday living.

Eva is the kind of gal who is jolly, friendly, thoughtful and good natured. She is a favorite with old and young in the old home town.

We have had a few tears together in serious moments and enjoyed endless numbers of laughs and good natured kidding. She was her interests and vice-versa.

In times of sickness, Eva was at hand to help and bring cheer into the sick room. It was surprising how many nice things she could find to do for people. We exchanged reading matter and many a delicate treat found its way to our door just in time for lunch.

There's an empty house on the corner. It is surrounded only by pleasant memories. There's a thick silence for the laughter of the youngsters is gone—or is it?

Surely that was Eva's black Nash and her bright smile. Yes, she's stopping at our door again. Back in town for a few hours. Eva and the kids visit the old haunts—the old friends.

The neighbors on the street gather in our yard for a few minutes of neighborly chatter. A wave of a hand and they have gone back to their new home, leaving the essence of a cheerful adjustment in the promise to come again.

Surely for them there will be new friends and the emptiness on the corner lot is eased by another fine family moving in.

One can't be lonely long in such a friendly little town!

Launch Campaign Against Carelessness—

The state fire marshall's office last week announced the launching of "Operation Prairie Fire", a campaign to reduce the number of such fires in Nebraska's panhandle.

One hundred and ten signs will be placed on 1,400 miles of highway in the panhandle and on roads leading into it. In addition 234 signs will be placed on roads off the main highways by ranchers.

Signs will be placed on U.S. highways 20, 26, 183 and 281, and state highways 2, 7, 11, 19, 40, 53, 61, 83, 87 and 92.

These signs, which are green and white and have the words "Help Prevent Grass Fires", will be placed in the vicinity of Atkinson, O'Neill, Alliance, Sidney, Valentine, North Platte, Chadron, Broken Bow, Ogallala and other places.

Many thousands of dollars worth of damage is caused by grass fires in Nebraska every year. One fire alone in the Valentine area last week destroyed about eight thousand dollars worth of hay.

Willing Workers on Flower Tour —

The Willing Workers met on Monday, July 21 in the play room at the home of Perry and Larry Dawes. The meeting was opened by giving the 4-H pledge.

Roll call was answered by naming all the shrubs we knew. Each member brought a bouquet of his own flowers that he had raised. A discussion on flowers followed.

All members but one enjoyed demonstration day. Charles Crook gave a demonstration on ferns. Larry and Perry Dawes gave a demonstration on home beautification. Then we got into cars driven by Mrs. Crook and Mrs. Janzing and drove out to the home of Merle Pease on a tour to see his flowers.

Mrs. Walter Pease served a lunch.—By Ronald Janzing, reporter.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard D. Manson the past weekend were Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hendershot of Turner, Ore.
