

72 Pieces in O'Neill Schools' Band

The O'Neill band sports a membership of 72 this semester—38 are in the public school band and 34 in the St. Mary's academy band.

A junior band of 15 pieces meets each Monday and Wednesday at 8 a.m.

Band Director Charles E. Houser said prospects for a large class of beginners are good this year. Following programs and demonstrations of instruments at the schools last week, over 70 children in the fourth grade through the eighth grade said they want to learn to play instruments.

These children will be enrolled for a trial period of one month. During this time they will be given opportunities to try different instruments to discover for themselves which one suits them best. The teacher will be able to advise the parents on this basis before they purchase or rent an instrument.

A trial period of this type will help to assure an even start for all beginners, Mr. Houser explained.

Mr. Houser said that he would be glad to keep a record of anyone wishing to sell used instruments as available locally so that prospective purchasers readily know what is available.

All of the music stores servicing O'Neill provide a plan whereby a new instrument may be rented for a three month period for $15. At the end of this time the rental may be applied on the purchase price of the instrument or the instrument may be returned with no further charge.

Students giving demonstrations at the school were Esther Kaiser, clarinet; Jay B. Munsell, alto sax; Elizabeth Schaffer and Dwayne Weier, trombone, and Duane Booth, cornet.
