Father Hoosing Is New Pastor

CLEARWATER — A reception honoring Rev. Alfred F. Hoosing, new pastor of St. John's Catholic church near here, was held on Sunday evening by members of St. John's parish. A large crowd attended the affair.

Father Hoosing was installed last Thursday as pastor of the parish by the dean, Very Rev. Timothy O'Sullivan of O'Neill. Twelve other priests and a large number of parishioners attended. Among the priests attending was Rt. Rev. Joseph Falke, pastor of St. Ludger church at Creighton.

Father Hoosing succeeds Rev. C. J. Kaup, who was recently transferred to Fortney by Archbishop Gerald T. Bergan of Omaha. The former Fordyce pastor, Rev. P. J. Vanderhieden, was forced to resign because of impaired health.

The new pastor of St. John's was born October 4, 1916, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hoosing. He attended colleges at Creighton and St. Louis, Mo., four years and studied four years at Kenrick seminary at St. Louis, Mo. He was ordained December 21, 1946, and served more than five years as an assistant priest in Omaha. He became assistant at Creighton March 17, 1952.

6-Unit Motel Coming to Orchard

ORCHARD — Walt LaFrenz has purchased a plot of ground in the east edge of Orchard on U.S. highway 20, 338 feet by 220 feet, from Mrs. Josephine Groeling and is planning to build a motel.

He is going to start building within a few days and expects to have the building ready for occupancy this fall. The new building will be 68x72 feet, which will comprise six units, living quarters and office, all of which will be heated by a furnace.

This is something which has been needed in Orchard for a number of years, as there is no hotel in town and sometimes rooms are difficult to get. This will be the only motel on highway 20 between Plainview and O'Neill.

Former Residents Visit Here

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Beaver of Deaver, Wyo., spent the weekend at O'Neill visiting relatives. Mrs. Beaver and Mrs. Mamie O'Neill are sisters and have been enroute back to Park county, northwestern corner of Wyoming, after having visited at Omaha and in southwestern Iowa.

Mr. Beaver recalled that he helped his father, the late Jacob Beaver set out many ash trees in O'Neill 60 years ago. He was in business here until 1917 when he went to Wyoming to establish a real estate and insurance business. Mr. Beaver now is retired.

6 Cases of Polio Now in Hospitals

2 Stuart Children to G.I.; Father of 3 Condition Is Serious

Six Holt countyans are polio patients in various hospitals this week.

Lois Givens, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Givens of Stuart, formerly of O'Neill, is in serious condition in a Grand Island hospital suffering from an attack of bulbar polio.

Her condition is "improved," according to a late report.

Duane Braasch, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Braasch, residing northwest of O'Neill, is also in a Grand Island hospital. He is suffering paralysis in both legs. The Braasches' address is Atkinson.

Patty Elliot, 9-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Elliot, of the Deloit community, who is ill with polio in Our Lady of Our Lady hospital, Norfolk, is "improving." She is not suffering from a paralysis. Patty's parents reside near St. John's church.

Glenon Grimes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Grimes of Chambers, was taken to an Omaha hospital Saturday, a polio sufferer.

Ivan Baker, about 40, of Atkinson was taken to a Grand Island hospital Saturday by ambulance. Mr. Baker, father of three children, is in segregation and doctors were withholding statements of his condition until Wednesday, but his condition is considered "serious."

Danny Joe Cadwallader, 1, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cadwallader of Stuart, is a patient at St. Francis hospital, Grand Island.

Donald Taylor, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Taylor who live north of Newport, was released from Bassett hospital last week-end.

Sheryl Rothchild, 3, of Atkinson recently was released from the Bassett hospital.

Others who have suffered mild attacks of polio in recent weeks include: Sarah Corke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Corke of O'Neill; Delores Spittler of Ewing; Mrs. Bennett Sanders of O'Neill, who was hospitalized several weeks ago at Lynch.

Most of these cases are being treated through funds provided by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Medical expenses for treatment for seven out of nine recent and current Holt polio cases are being paid for by the Holt chapter of the National Foundation. The chapter's funds are derived from the annual march of dimes campaign.

Frontier Publishes Early with Magazine

This 30-page issue of The Frontier, featuring the St. Anthony's hospital magazine supplement, went to press 24 hours ahead of schedule in order to have the magazine in circulation simultaneously with the hospital dedication. Although this issue carries the Thursday, September 25, date, it actually was printed and entered the mail late Tuesday.

There are 35 pictures and many interesting and informative stories to be found in the magazine section, which is devoted exclusively to O'Neill's new hospital. Weeks of work and research went into the magazine's preparation.

The magazine goes to all regular subscribers to The Frontier. Extra copies are available at The Frontier circulation counter for 25 cents, prepaid to any address in the U.S.

'Voice' Covers Dedication Program

The "Voice of the Frontier" special events unit was on the air at 1:45 p.m., Wednesday from the St. Anthony's hospital to bring to radio listeners an on-the-scene report of the dedication rites and a word-picture description of the new hospital.

George Hammond, the regular "Voice" announcer, assisted by Evans Meier, WJAG program director, and William J. Froelich, Jr., who edited The Frontier at St. Anthony's hospital magazine supplement, were to be at the microphones.

Sponsors for the broadcast were to be Lohaus Motor Co., Jacobson's, Meadow Gold, Central Finance Corp. and O'Neill Production Credit association.

Fire Ravages Farm Home

A fire of undetermined origin that broke out about midnight last Thursday evening virtually destroyed a porch and the kitchen at the Orton Young farm home in the Opportunity locality.

A dog barking on a blanket of their bed alerted the Youngs. Mr. Young was partially overcome by smoke and exhaustion and later was taken to the Lynch hospital for treatment.

A general alarm on the party phone line alerted out neighbors to fight the blaze with a bucket brigade. The flames were confined to the porch and kitchen but the rest of the house was damaged by smoke. Loss was fixed at about nine hundred dollars. Mrs. Young said.

An appeal for help was sent to O'Neill but help didn't come. Later, about 1 a.m. a call was sent to Lynch and the Lynch firemen responded. The blaze was bated until 4 a.m.

Insulation and stucco were credited with slowing the spread of flames and helping save the remainder of the house.

Installation of Pastor Sunday

The Presbyterian churches of Niobrara, Verdel and Dorsey will celebrate the installation of Rev. Joseph L. Walstad as their pastor on Sunday, September 28. A covered dish picnic supper will be held at the mess hall at the Niobrara state park at 6 p.m. Members and friends of these churches are urged to bring their picnic supper and get better acquainted with each other and their new pastor. After the supper, the installation service will be held in the Niobrara church at 8 p.m.

Rev. Ronald Buskirk of Wakefield will preside and ask the constitutional questions. Rev. A. P. Kidwell of Pender will give the charge to the pastor. Rev. Ralph Chamberlain, Sunday-school missionary for the synod of Nebraska, will give the charge to the congregation. The sermon will be given by Rev. Harold Wilson, general missionary for the synod.

Dedication Rites Bring Big Crowd

City Marks Formal Dedication of 37-Bed St. Anthony's

O'Neill's new 37-bed, half-million-dollar health center—St. Anthony's hospital—was to be dedicated Wednesday, September 25. And the first patients will be admitted on Friday, September 27.

Dedication and formal opening day mark the culmination of six years of communitywide effort.

Archbishop Gerald T. Bergan of Omaha was scheduled to perform the dedicatory rites at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday. A dedication program on a specially-erected platform, immediately in front and east of the hospital's main entrance, was scheduled to start at 2 p.m. Julius D. Cronin, O'Neill attorney, was to be master-of-ceremonies, introducing Rev. J. LaVerne Jay of O'Neill, Methodist district superintendent; Judge D. R. Mounts of the Fifteenth judicial district; Mayor J. E. Davis of O'Neill; Archbishop Bergan; Verne A. Pangborn, director of the division of hospitals, Nebraska department of health; and others.

A mass chorus and band, composed of musicians from O'Neill high school and St. Mary's academy, under the direction of James G. Bastian and Sister M. Flores, respectively, were to sing "God of Our Fathers" and "America, the Beautiful." They were also to lead the audience in singing the "Star Spangled Banner" to open the program.

Following the program, the Sisters of St. Francis were to hold open-house with conducted tours through the impressive new building.

Throughout Tuesday and early Wednesday floral offerings were being received from well-wishers from throughout the land.

A dedicatory banquet was to be held at noon on Wednesday at the American Legion auditorium.

New Translation of Bible Ready

The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., will make public on Sunday, Sept. 28, a completely new translation of the entire Bible. It will be known as the revised standard version. It is based on the most authoritative manuscripts and the revising of the English words, phrases and sentences which are used to express the meaning of the original Hebrew and Greek, has resulted in a simpler, more understandable version in the living language; it is explained by the sponsors.

Fred Waring of radio fame says of the new translation: "Words from the 'old' Bible have inspired and been set to some of the most beautiful music in the world. 'The Lord's Prayer,' 'The Beatitudes,' 'The Seven Last Words of Christ.' For this reason I shall always look up to the old version. However, I know that people neglect to read the Bible today because of its very difficult language and sentence structure. Even as I feel that songs should be sung in a language understandable to the people, I feel that this greatest of all stories should be told so that it will not be a 'chore' to read. This new version does just that."

An O'Neill pastor, Rev. Samuel Lee, said this week the new version will be used and read in the service of worship at First Presbyterian church this Sunday.

Eagles Bag Win Over Bassett

The O'Neill high school Eagles annexed another victory Friday night—their second in that many starts for the 1953 campaign. Coach Miller's kids plowed under the Rock county high school team, 13-6, in a game played on a raw, damp night under the lights at Bassett.

After a see-saw first-half, Boxer Duane Booth, O'Neill fullback, smashed across from the 4-yard-line for O'Neill's first touchdown with only 20 seconds remaining in the second period. Bobby Carroll had helped setup the TD with a 35-yard scamper. The Eagles, knocking on Bassett's door, had racked up a first down and Booth smashed across.

Later the Eagles penetrated to the Bassett 1-yard-line by a stout defense was erected and the Blues spinned their wheels for four downs.

Halfback George Kilcoinc accounted for O'Neill's second marker during an evening that was dreary as far as the weather was concerned. He scooted across from the 8-yard-line.

Dave Eby's kick for the extra point was good once, but a bad pass from center foiled the other try.

Bassett flashed a stronger running attack than Plainview did the preceding Friday when O'Neill opened with a 7-0 conquest.

Bassett scored by capitalizing on an O'Neill bungle. The O'Neill safety—Harold Dexter—touched the ball and a Bassett forward fell on it deep in O'Neill territory. The Rock countyans then proceeded to manufacture six points.

Carroll's offensive play looked good. He also helped set up O'Neill's second TD with a pass interception. End Warren Seger turned in two circus snags for aerial yardage. Tackle Gaylen Hill's defensive play was outstanding for the Blues, who turned in a sluggish first-half defensive performance, hit harder in the second.

The Blues will go to Burwell Friday night.
