Nebraska Tavernmen Pass Strict Test Your neighbor, who has obtained a beer license, has measured up to the strict qualifications of a citizen and a businessman.

He has passed tests for character, reputation, good citizenship, local residence, and suitable tavern location. He has an established record for law obedience and financial responsibility.

His application has been approved by your local government after notice was published, and citizens given an opportunity to challenge his fitness.

Not only has he proved his worthiness, but he voluntarily cooperates with the brewing industry's education program in Nebraska—a program aimed at producing high levels of tavern operation in the public interest.
