

Looking busy in St. Anthony's modernly equipped kitchen are Sister M. Ludmilla, OSF (left), supervisor of nurses, and Sister M. Fara, OSF, head cook at the new hospital. Both sisters have had years of training and previous work in hospitals operated by their order. Sister Fara's culinary experience dates back to her years as a young girl in Germany. Sister Ludmilla's duty as supervisor of nurses will place her as functional head of the hospital's nursing staff and corps of technicians. The common dark brown habit (attire) of the Franciscans is abandoned for a more practical white habit among nursing sisters.

Hospital entrance takes shape . . . November, 1950.

Our Hearty Congratulations to the
SISTERS OF ST. FRANCIS and
ST. ANTHONY'S HOSPITAL

My father, the late Dr. J. P. Gilligan, was a pioneer O'Neill doctor, administering to the medical needs of this community for two generations. In October, 1948, we opened O'Neill's new drug store. We are indeed proud that the name GILLIGAN has been closely identified with medicine and the well-being of the people of this community over these many years. It is with deep feeling and profound admiration that we say to the Sisters of St. Francis, "Congratulations" and extend our very best wishes to St. Anthony's Hospital. And my father, if he were living today, would be pleased and proud beyond words on this very significant occasion.

SISTERS OF ST. FRANCIS

OURS IS AN OLD, long-established firm that has been serving the community of O'Neill for many years. However, the O'NEILL CLEANERS have been under the present ownership and management for a relatively short time. We sincerely feel the completion of ST. ANTHONY'S HOSPITAL is the most important single event in the history of our city. And we're proud to be a part of a community so fortunate.
