Community Honors Retiring Carrier

ATKINSON—The little rural schoolhouse known as the Grand Prairie school, scene of many community gatherings in days gone by, was again brought into use recently as folks in the community gathered to give a party to honor their mail carrier, who had served them for over 33 years.

Many of the families had been on his route for all of those years.

Guest-of-honor was L. E. McDowell, who retired from his position on November 1. Ten families were represented and Mr. McDowell and his wife received a gift from the community.

The table at which there were placed for 33 people was decorated to represent his years of service. At one end of the table was a replica of the little two-wheeled cart and horses he had used in the early days. In the center was a cake topped with 33 candles and a miniature mail man.

At the other end of the table was a swanky new model car to represent progress in modes of travel. The evening was spent in reminiscing both by Mr. McDowell and his former patrons.

It was believed at the time of his retirement that the route would be taken over by Donald Davis, but due to technicalities a definite appointment has not been made.

For the time being Willard Linville is serving as substitute.
