

Hay Cabled, Corn in Bin, 'Blue Eyes' and Family Ready for Long Winter

By BLANCHE SPANN PEASE

Only three weeks until the big day. Don't look now but if you see somebody looking smug, Pease is the character.

By the time you read this, all my Christmas gifts will be wrapped, and some of my Christmas baking done and in the deep freeze. I'm one of those people who likes things done in plenty of time and I think I get just as much fun out of Christmas as anyone else and have just as much spirit!

Two fat candle Christmas trees sit on the buffet, one green and one red, and our weather barometer is flanked with two fat Christmas candle angels. Our folding table had a low yellow dish of greenery and at each end tall red candles firmly anchored in silver leafed Christmas candleholders.

Our windows are gay and bright with fiber glass Christmas scenes and reindeer walking along the window sills. One of our end tables has a low green vase replete with bitter sweet and evergreen.

Christmas has come to our house and I'm enjoying every minute of it. Right this minute I'm planning the decorations for the Christmas dinner table.

If you want to make some evergreen wreaths you can use a coat hanger as a base. Make it into a circle and use the hook for hanging or anchoring. Wire on the evergreen. Fasten in cranberries, pine cones or holly leaves. A big fat red bow at the bottom often looks attractive.

Get some sticks of gum, some all-day suckers, or some peppermint sticks or canes to make the children's gifts more fun. Tie the all-day suckers or peppermint sticks in with ribbon if it's gum, glue the sticks on the outside of the wrapper. Even one stick, add a fillip of fun, or pennies glued on the outside.

Dear Blanche:

I've been planning on writing you a letter for some time now. So now right after breakfast I'll get busy and write. My children are still asleep and this is the time I like to get my letters written while I drink my second cup of coffee. That way I can sit down and relax before my day of work starts—caring for three lively children!

It's raining this morning and with a weather warning out it appears our good weather is over. With our hay cabled in, and corn in the bin, we can be glad we're ready for winter.

With Christmas just a short time away, it is time to get the tree up and all that Christmas baking done.

I try to make some homemade candy along with several different kinds of cookies and some German Christmas bread. I also usually make fruit cake. I always like to make them right after Thanksgiving. But this year I didn't get it done, so I plan on baking them yet this week. This year I am going to add a little wine with the rest of the liquid I put in them. We really like fruit cake.

I plan on giving a dinner for my parents and sister and family. I think a salad like this one is good at Christmas time.

On a lettuce leaf, place a slice of pineapple, then a slice of banana, cut lengthwise and place in hole in the middle of the pineapple. Then on top of the banana, place a red maraschino cherry. Dot with whipped cream or a little mayonnaise. It is supposed to look like a candle when done like this.

I tried your cranberry salad and it's very good. Wishing all a Merry Christmas.

For Your Holiday Breakfast

SUGARPLUM LOAF
One cake quick yeast, two tablespoons lukewarm water, 1/2 cup shortening, 1/2 cup sugar, two eggs, 3/4 cup milk, five cups flour, one teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup seedless raisins, 1/2 cup chopped walnut meats, 1/2 cup chopped citron, 1/2 cup candied cherries

PLAIN ICING
Dissolve yeast in water. Cream shortening and sugar. Beat eggs, add to creamed mixture, add milk and yeast. Add one cup flour, mix well. Cover and let rise in warm place one hour. Add salt, raisins, walnuts, citron and cherries. Add remaining flour, knead thoroughly. Put into greased 8-inch round pan. Cover, let rise in warm place about two hours or until double in bulk. Bake in moderate oven at 350-F. about 1 1/4 hours. Remove from pan, cool slightly. Frost with plain icing.

When You & I Were Young... Young O'Neill Bank Makes Big Strides

R. J. Marsh Purchases Bottling Works

50 Years Ago
County Attorney Mullen left for Lincoln Sunday morning to attend a Supreme Court case. The outcome of the O'Neill versus Neigh high school football game held on Thanksgiving day was a tie, 6-6. Leading O'Neill players were Brennan, Boyle and Kline. R. J. Marsh purchased the O'Neill Bottling Works from S. L. Thompson and took possession the same day. L. G. Gillespie and Miss Bertha Fawkes were married at the bridegroom's residence on November 30 with Rev. Amos Fetzer officiating. The O'Neill National bank is destined to become one of the leading financial institutions in this part of Nebraska. The statement in this issue shows the footing now reaches $128,141.50 and the bank has only been in operation a year and a half. County Clerk Gilmore spent Thanksgiving day with his family in Ewing.

25 Years Ago
A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harley Fox. Miss Della Harnish returned to Omaha where she attended school after spending Thanksgiving with her parents. Miss Nora Cronin of Omaha spent the holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cronin. A surprise party was given for Vinton Simonson at which 50 guests were present. Thieves entered the restaurant parlor of G. A. Fox and stole a quantity of cigars and chips amounting to $25. This is the second visit of the thieves, the first visit totaled $17 worth of cigars. Glen Shively purchased the best market from James Moore. The Presbyterian men entertained the church members and friends musically Tuesday night. Each member represented a comic character as follows: Matt, Elmer Surber; Jeff, Ralph Opey; A. Gump, Willard Arnold; Moon Mullins; R. M. Sauer; Gloomy Gus, H. H. Haffner; Avery, E. D. Henry; Jiggs, P. J. Jones; George Bungle, Sam Lopp; Uncle Walt, George Bay; Everett, C. E. Yantzie; Harry Hoeligan, D. H. Clauson; Minerva Gump, Mrs. Jennie Scott; Chester Gump, Merle Arnold.

10 Years Ago
Carl Headman was killed instantly when a truck he was helping to load backed into him. All youths 18 and 19 must register according to a proclamation by President Roosevelt. All O'Neill business places had a lot of business the day before gas rationing began. Milk cans, jugs and any receptacle were filled with gas in addition to the tanks in the cars. J. E. Davidson died November 28 at his home from cancer. His survivors are his wife, eight sons and three daughters. A state-wide blackout is scheduled for December 14. Fire started in the basement of the Council Oak store. Considerable damage was done to the furnace and stock. R. H. Shriner purchased the Hayes insurance business.

One Year Ago
Two vocal soloists to be heard in the "Messiah" are Kathleen Flood Hansen, soprano; Stanley J. Lambert, tenor. The "Voice of the Frontier" was born December 1948, three years ago. The M&M cafe captured first prize in the commercial division for Christmas scenes and Knight Maytag received the non-commercial window contest prize. Miss Mary Ann Fisher, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. F. J. Fisher, returned from another global trip. She operates her own travel agency under her own name in Denver, Colo.
