

The Frontier Woman Life Quite Chaotic for Families With March 1 Moves to Endure

In just a few more days March will be with us and many people will be moving to different places, new communities.

Life is pretty chaotic and trying for them. Many of you will be moving for the first time to a home which you own. What a wonderful time in life that is—now when you fix up your home, you know with reasonable certainty that you will be there to enjoy the fruits of your labor.

Is there a clothes line pole that sort of lurks on the landscape? Make it beautiful by planting morning glory seeds about an inch apart all the way around the base. A trumpet creeper can be planted first, then the morning glories can scramble over that. If you are going to do some landscaping be sure you buy really dwarf evergreens for foundation planting.

If you don't they'll grow up and obscure windows and hide your home, too.

The new low modern lines of many new homes need Pfitzer junipers to emphasize the low lines. Read the nursery catalogs carefully and be sure you get the right evergreen for the right place. In the meantime, remember that you can get quick color annuals. If you are using them around the house, use only one or two colors for better effect. Put the regular collection of annuals in the borders or behind the house or in the vegetable garden. Petunias, marigold, cosmos, tetra snapdragons and such annuals give you such a wonderful return for your money and plenty of flowers for cutting purposes, too.

Dear Mrs. Pease:
It's been a long time since I've written you, and we always enjoy your corner. The holidays are gone and we are settled back to normal. We don't like the hounded-in life that we have to lead, but we usually find something to pass the time away, we are more than anxious for winter to spend its fury so we can get out into the yard again, but those are only wishes, and we will have quite a few days yet to amuse ourselves.

The sewing machines was put to use, and we made three dresses that will come in handy this summer, when we have the outside work to do, and we are starting another rug. We hope to get it done before too long. It's one of those kind that the rags are wrapped around two wires, and sewed down the middle with the machine, then when they are sewed on the base, stitch down through the middle and that makes a double sewing. It's strong. We have never had one go to pieces, and they get hard usage at our house.

We are enjoying our vegetables from our last summers garden, and we have vegetable soup often these cold days, if we don't have a soup bone we use bacon for seasoning, or some beef stock.

A friend of mine canned some soup, and will use it later on. She cooked carrots, onions, celery, and potatoes in some beef stock, and seasoned the way the family liked it. These long evenings can be shortened by making a batch of candy. Did you ever make a plain batch and just as it comes off the stove, pour in a package of chocolate chips? It's good if the family all likes chocolate.

How many of The Frontier readers made some resolutions for the new year? Have any of you started a diary for the first time this year? It's interesting as one turns the pages back and reads what happened a year ago or longer. These are busy days for the mothers with school kiddies trying to get them off to school and keeping the cookie jar filled, but it only takes a few minutes each night to jot down a few lines. It's something the whole family can take part in.

Economy Recipe of the Week

BRAISED HEART WITH STUFFING

Get a four pound beef heart. (This will serve 12.) Wash the heart and remove the hard parts. Season with salt and pepper. Fill with bread stuffing and sew. Brown in 2 tablespoons hot lard. Add a half cup water and cover and cook slowly for about 3 to 3½ hours, or until tender. Adding water as needed.

BREAD STUFFING

Two slices bacon (chopped), two tablespoons chopped onion, salt and pepper, four slices bread broken coarsely, one egg. Brown bacon and onions. Add bread crumbs, beaten egg and seasonings.

I am sure our readers will enjoy this—a good lenten dish: SALMON AND CHEESE CASSEROLE

Two cups mashed potatoes, one cup medium white sauce, 1½ cups American cheese (grated), ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon cayenne, dash of pepper, two cups canned salmon (flaked), one cup buttered bread crumbs.

Place potatoes in buttered casserole. Combine white sauce, cheese, and seasonings, stir until cheese is melted. Pour half of sauce over potatoes. Add salmon to remaining sauce, pour over contents of casserole. Sprinkle with crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven of 350 F. for 20 minutes.
