Over-the-Air Tuesday, September 13th.— 9:45 p.m. Auspices Barristers Club Speaker—Robert R. Troyer

Racing railroad trains to highway crossings may be great sport to some motorists, but it is a crime in the eyes of Nebraska state laws, and punishable in some cases by heavy fine or penitentiary sentence.

Robert R. Troyer, Douglas County Public Defender, discussed this and other forms of crime in automobile driving when he spoke Tuesday night over radio station KOIL at Council Bluffs. The talk was sponsored by the Barristers Club of Omaha, and was one of a series on various phases of law.

"Criminal law entered into almost every one of the more than a million serious automobile accidents which occurred in the United States during the last year," Mr. Traynor declared. "Drivers who would not knowingly commit other forms of crime sometimes so forget themselves in automobile accidents that they make themselves liable to heavy fines or penitentiary terms."

Mr. Traynor discussed various other phases of criminal law as applied to automobile driving, including statutes relating to reckless driving, racing railroad trains to highway crossings, driving while intoxicated, and passing other cars on the crest of a hill.

The Honorable W. B. McHugh, Douglas County Election Commissioner, has informed Mr. C. C. Galloway, that he has appointed the following persons for Clerks in the election Commissioner's office. Miss Mattie Childs, Mrs. Florence Terrell, Miss Edrose Willis.

This is the first time in the history of the office, that any election Commissioner, has ever given any positions to any of our group.

Today, Omaha Colored citizens doff their hats to the Honorable W. B. McHugh for showing his fairness and giving our girls a chance to earn an honest living.

American Women Ban Foreign Plan Of Washing All Clothes Together

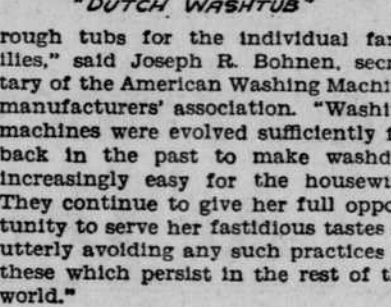

"It is difficult to believe, but throughout the world, excepting in America towns use rivers, ponds and ever canals as community 'washtubs'."

In Italy, for instance, it is not at all unusual to see fifty to one hundred housewives gathered at a river's edge, or at a public pool, soaping garments and rinsing the possessions of the various families together. The gatherings take on a festive nature as the women chatter over doing the week's laundry in the common water supply which nature has furnished. The practice is repeated in France, and in various other sections of the globe.

The canals of Holland, picturesque though they may be, also are put to practical use by housewives who think nothing of washing the family linens and garments elbow-to-elbow with their neighbors. Even the semi-savage natives of Africa, in cases where they have adopted the civilized practice of clothes-washing, make it an occasion for sociability by joining their fellow villagers at the water's edge.

"Undoubtedly pioneer American women resorted to the same practice, but only until the men could evolve rough tubs for the individual families," said Joseph R. Bohnen, secretary of the American Washing Machine manufacturers' association. "Washing machines were evolved sufficiently far back in the past to make washing increasingly easy for the housewife. They continue to give her full opportunity to serve her fastidious tastes by utterly avoiding any such practices as these which persist in the rest of the world."

NEARLY THREE MILLION NEGRO FAMILIES IN THE UNITED STATES

Washington—(CNS)—The Bureau of the Census has just announced the total number of families in the United States as 29,904,663 of which 2,803,756 are classified as Negro families. The tenure of homes was also included in the announcement. The term "family" as used in the tabulation is limited in the main to what might be called private families and in census usage is defined as a group of persons, who live together as one household, usually sharing the same table.

The classification of families by color and nativity is determined by the color and nativity of the head of the family. In April, 1930, 89.3 per cent of the families in the United States were white. 9.4 per cent, Negro; and 1.3 per cent of other races. The distribution of families in the United States by color and nativity of head, together with the total population similarly classified is shown in the following table:

Since a home is defined as the living quarters occupied by a family, the number of homes is always the same as the number of families. In classification by tenure, a home is counted as owned if it is owned wholly or in part by any related member of the family. A home owned by a lodger, however, is counted as rented. Of all homes returned in the 1930 census, 14,002,074 or 46.8 per cent were owned and 15,319,817, or 51.2 per cent were rented, while for 1.9 per cent the tenure was not reported.

Of Negro homes, 669,645, or 23.9 per cent were owned; and 2,050,217 or 73.1 per cent were rented, while for 83,894 or approximately 3.0 per cent tenure was not reported. For the white families 49.5 per cent owned their homes, 48.7 per cent were tenants and tenure was not reported on 1.8 per cent of these homes.

CAB CALLOWAY ATTRACTS RECORD CROWDS AT HOWARD THEATRE OPENING

Washington—(CNS)—Cab Calloway, popular Harlem Jazz Maestro, opened the Howard Theatre, now in its second year under the management of "Shep" Allen, popular theatrical manager, had an auspicious opening.

An actual instance of the value of a single telephone call.

MEN and women out of work must get their money's worth for every dollar spent . . . and most of them have kept their telephones. One man who ordered his telephone out and then kept it, says:

"After I lost my job I decided to have my telephone taken out. But before it was disconnected I got a call to report for work. The man who hired me said I got the job because he could reach me by telephone. I'm keeping my telephone."

For a few cents a day your telephone saves the time and expense of trips . . . It brings you friends . . . gets help at once in emergencies and may add years to your life.
