

Federal Home Loan Bill

Sec. 14. When designated for that purpose by the Secretary of the Treasury, each Federal Home Loan Bank shall be a depository of public money, except receipts from customs, under such regulations as may be prescribed by said Secretary; and it may also be employed as a financial agent of the government; and it shall perform all such reasonable duties as depository of public money and financial agent of the Government as may be required of it.

Sec. 15. Obligations of the Federal Home Loan Banks issued with the approval of the board under this Act shall be lawful investments, and may be accepted as security, for all fiduciary, trust, and public funds the investment or deposit of which shall be under the authority or control of the United States or any officer or officers thereof. The Federal reserve banks are authorized to act as depositories, custodians, and or fiscal agents for Federal Home Loan Banks in the general performance of their powers under this Act. (34) All obligations of Federal Home Loan Banks shall plainly state that such obligations are not obligations of the United States and are not guaranteed by the United States.

Reserves and Dividends

Sec. 16. Each Federal Home Loan Bank shall carry to a reserve account semiannually 20 per centum of its net earnings until said reserve account shall show a credit balance equal to 100 per centum of the paid-in capital of such bank. After said reserve has reached 100 per centum of the paid-in capital of said bank, 5 per centum of its net earnings shall be added thereto semiannually. Whenever said reserve shall have been impaired below 100 per centum of the paid-in capital it shall be restored before any dividends are paid. Each Federal Home Loan Bank shall establish such additional reserves and or make such charge-offs on account of depreciation or impairment of its assets as the board shall require from time to time. No dividends shall be paid except out of net earnings remaining after all reserves and charge-offs required under this Act have been provided for, and then only with the approval of the board. The reserves of each Federal Home Loan Bank shall be invested, subject to such regulations, restrictions, and limitations as may be prescribed by the board, in direct obligations of the United States and in such securities as fiduciary and trust funds may be invested in under the laws of the State in which the Federal Home Loan Bank is located.

Federal Home Loan Bank Board

Sec. 17. For the purposes of this Act there shall be a board, to be known as the "Federal Home Loan Bank Board", which shall consist of (35) three citizens of the United States appointed by the President of the United States.

GOVERNOR BRYAN A FRIEND OF THE MASSES

There are many reasons that members of our group should work and vote for Governor Bryan, Governor Bryan has been very fair in his dealing with us.

(1) When some members of the Republican Party launched a campaign of SEGREGATION against the Colored People of this State, first, by decreeing that no Negro should be permitted to engage in the manly art of self defense (Boxing) with members of other groups, two committees, composed of prominent Colored Men armed with letters signed by many prominent White Men (Mr. Baldrige refusing) made two trips to Lincoln protesting to this ruling, these two Republican Governors refused point blank to abolish this dastardly ruling of their boxing commissioner.

Not so with our Democratic Governor, Governor Bryan. When a committee composed of some of the same Gentlemen that had waited on the two former Republican Governors, again gave their valuable time in the interest of their People, waited on Governor Bryan, using the same argument put forward to those former Republicans. On completion of their argument, Governor Bryan had his secretary bring the book (in which this ruling was written) to him, the Governor had the Secretary read it to him, he then requested the secretary to place the book before him. The Governor unhesitatingly took his pen and crossed out the article, turning to his secretary he instructed him to notify the then boxing commissioner that there was no longer such a ruling on the books as it was unconstitutional.

Friends, if for no other reason than this square deal we should on Nov. 8th go to the polls and give this great man a big vote of thanks.

(2) There are many other reasons why, not only the Colored people but all the people of Nebraska, should do this, one outstanding reason, is, his masterly handling of the drought problem, despite the clamoring of many Republican members of the Legislature and Senate, he refused to call a special session of the Legislature, (which according to the present laws of Nebraska) could have only appropriated on this occasion, $100,000, the expense of the extra session would have been about $15,000 out of this amount, it would have been from two to three weeks before this amount would have become available, during this interim the free contributions would have stopped, and many hundred of horses and cattle would have starved to death, men, women and innocent children would have suffered, and the cost of the extra session would have been saddled onto the already overburdened TAX PAYERS.

Instead of being stampeded by these calamity howlers, Governor Bryan went ahead in his masterly way and secured for those stricken people over Three Hundred thousand dollars worth of food stuff and feed, for both man and beast, also raising money enough to buy seed for these same people, and accomplished this without one penny of expense of cost to the already overburdened TAX PAYERS of this fair commonwealth. For your information, these taxes would have been charged back to the property owners, a burden we could ill afford to carry, for God knows we are already over burdened with TAXES.

Governor Bryan, instead of increasing our TAXES has reduced them, and this in the face of the fact that he had a Republican Legislature fighting him.

Friends, if you would have your TAXES further reduced, it is up to you to send to LINCOLN A DEMOCRATIC Legislature and Senate to help the Governor carry out his TAX reducing program.

My Colored friends, you cannot afford to vote for this man Griswold who in 1925 introduced into the Legislature a bill which if passed would have DISFRANCHISED every foreigner and Negro in Nebraska (see Senate File 211). Now stop and think, Work and vote for the re-election of Governor Bryan.

FISK UNIVERSITY FOE AT GALA LINCOLN UNIVERSITY (MO.) HOME-COMING, NOV. 5

Round Of Social Events, Dance, Banquet and Alumni Meeting As Well As Game.

(By James K. Parks)

Jefferson City, Mo., October 15.—(Special)—Several thousands enthusiastic football followers alumni and friends are expected to trek to Jefferson City to the annual Lincoln University Home-coming, November 5. Fisk University's high powered gridder from Nashville, Tennessee will oppose Lincoln University that day in an important intersectional football game. Lincoln and Fisk are traditional rivals of many years' standing on the gridiron and no matter how had a season either has had before a Lincoln-Fisk game they put up a hard game. Coach Eric Epps, Lincoln mentor, has developed a fast and powerful offense with "Flivver" Ford, passer and broken field star from Pasadena, Cal.; Freddy Starks, hard-driving half-back from Liberty, Mo.; "Texas" Jones, speed merchant and line crasher from Galveston, Texas and Percy Freelon, ex-Southern U. star from Douglas High, Columbia, Mo. as the key men in his back-field. The line boasts some formidable stars in Orbert "Rock" Roquemore, the Oklahoma Wild-Cat, named on 1928 Crisis All-American and the 1931 Abbott's Monthly All-American. Roquemore is playing his last year for Lincoln and served as captain last year. He is a hard fighter and a master of defensive line play. Captain "Palmy" Truner, 190 Pound tackle from Kansas City; Sherrod, star center from Lincoln High, East St. Louis, Ill.; Horne, former Stowe College foot ball captain; "Jumbo" Ewing, 240 pound freshman giant from Douglas High, Webster Groves; Hartley, fast and hard driving end and former captain of Vashon High, St. Louis; "Tony" Lawson, star flank from McAllister, Okla. and Roy Woods, end from Douglas High, Columbia, Mo., give Lincoln a set of line.

men that should furnish all sort of trouble for the Fisk warriors.

The General Alumni of the Lincoln University plan their annual banquet and election of officers after the game in the dining room of Barnes-Krekle Hall. At nine o'clock at beautiful State Park dance pavillion, a few minutes from the university, will be the annual Home-coming dance a feature of every Lincoln Home-coming. The committee in charge of the affair promise the best dance in Lincoln history with Brooks and his Lincoln Collegians furnishing the music. A number of other social events are planned for the occasion. The university students will most likely have an affair in the new and spacious gym in College Hall earlier in the evening.

Friends and alumni of Lincoln University in returning will be very grateful to find not only the splendid new academic buildings; chapel recently re-decorated and stage re-built but also a new Vitaphone equipment for sound pictures, for instruction and entertainment recently installed. Historic Old Lincoln Field, scene of many memorable conflicts on the grid-iron and track has new stands seating over a thousand people, a new heavy steel fence; and the running track has been graded.

OMAHA BOY TO PLAY WITH MEMPHIS RED SOX

Erving Underwood, Omaha Musician, received a contract from Manager Larry Brown of the Memphis Red Sox's ball club, shortly after the President of the League announced his reinstatement. Erving's former contract (5) years was suspended for a non gentlemanly act, while playing with the Birmingham Black Barons. Erving will report to Manager Brown April 15, 1933, to exercise that great throwing arm of his. He expects to play in center field. The new contract is for three years.

THE BAR MAKES A CHOICE

Convinced that voters are entitled to know which candidates for District judgeships are best qualified by ability and experience for this office, lawyers of the Fourth judicial district, comprising Douglas, Washington and Burt counties, have joined together under the Lawyers' Recommendation Committee to secure the election of nine district judge candidate approved by majority vote of lawyers of this district several months ago following the spring primary.

Louis J. TePoel has been named active manager of the Recommendation Campaign Committee, which endorses seven of the present judges, William A. Redick, William G. Hastings, Charles Leslie, Herbert Rhoades, Arthur C. Thamsen, James M. Fitzgerald, and Frank Dineen, and two other candidates, Chief Deputy County Attorney John W. Yeager and John T. Dysart, who has previously held offices of county judge and county attorney.

"A group of the most prominent and esteemed lawyers of Douglas, Washington and Burt counties are serving voluntarily on the Recommendation campaign committee in an effort to remove the judiciary from politics and place it on the high non-partisan basis, where it rightly belongs according to the laws of Nebraska," said Raymond G. Young, general chairman of the Recommendation campaign committee.

"We believe that in making known the facts brought out by our referendum ballot, which was sent to every lawyer in this district, the lawyers will be rendering a distinct public service to the voters of this district.

"The Referendum was taken with the thought that lawyers, having a more intimate knowledge and being more familiar with the qualifications of their brother members of the Bar, who seek a position on the Bench as judges, than are the voters generally, should make this knowledge of and familiarity with the candidates available to the voters," Young said.

"The committee chosen by the lawyers to direct the work of bringing these facts before the public is not organized and prepared to enter upon an active, vigorous campaign so that the public generally may be advised of the recommendation of those who know the candidates best," said A. G. Ellick, Chairman of the Lawyers' Recommendation executive committee. "There was no prejudice or favor shown in selecting the nine candidates who were chosen in the Judicial Referendum. They are there because the vast majority of lawyers of the Fourth district felt that they deserved this recognition on the basis of their records."

IDENTITY OF "MEANEST MAN" DISCLOSED IN D. C. COURT

Washington—(CNS)—The identity of the "forgotten man" has not as yet been revealed but the identity of the "meanest man in the world" was disclosed here last week when a blind woman testified that William Robinson, half-choked her, bound her head tightly in a blanket and took $7 in bills.

man testified that William Robinson, half-choked her, bound her head tightly in a blanket and took $7 in bills. Robinson when into court was identified by the blind woman, Emily Boembrey, 71 years, who told the court that she was positive of her identification because she remembered the feel of the man's fingers about her throat and the sound of his voice. The court accepted the evidence and the man was found guilty by the jury.

HABITS

(By A. B. Mann) Falling For Flattery

A woman smiles her thanks when she is told "You are the most attractive woman in the community," though her mirror has told her that she is homely. Another one smiles her satisfaction when told "Yours is the best cooking I have ever eaten" when she knows her biscuits are soggy. Perhaps no other compliment is ever so well received nor more foolishly believed than the false declaration, "You don't look a day older than you did twenty-five years ago." In such a case the woman may be "fat and forty" or the man lean and haggard, but the false compliment is received and gratefully acknowledged.

Better take such compliments with plenty of salt. It would not be discourteous to say "Nice you think so, but I happen to know better."
