A Tennessee Reader Writes!

The voluntary responses reaching me as the result of my recent definite stand to use this column to stimulate action in economic efforts make me realize that readers are appreciating what I am trying to do. A letter comes from R. F. Harrell, a manufacturing Chemist, of Collierville, Tennessee, from which I will quote: "It just occurred to me that after reading some of your articles, among them the very constructive advice—"HELPING THE NEGRO IN BUSINESS" that I am willing to offer your readers who are interested in earning something during their spare time a very attractive plan whereby without any experience they can soon realize several dollars per week for just a few hours effort."

"This is no 'get rich quick' scheme but an 'honest to goodness' product which appeals to and is needed every family. On the market for the past sixteen years and making new friends readers a sample of this product. They are under no obligation whatsoever. I simply want them to give it a fair trial then I know they'll be my friends."

And if any of my readers, or any of our advertising managers, contact Mr. Harrell and he does not send the free sample to each reader as promised I would ask you to write direct to me for I have no intention of permitting any firm or individual with whom I try to cooperate to take undue advantage of any reader of this column.

Incidentally, Mr. Harrell, you might send me a sample of your product also so that I'll know just what my readers will receive.

In last week's release I mentioned the exclusive high grade line of cosmetics put by Mme. Marguerita Ward, 4633 South Michigan Boulevard, Chicago, and although Mme. Ward thanked me for my mention of her efforts I have learned that I did not mention a most distinct achievement. It seems that her high-grade line of cosmetics are the only line manufactured by any colored firm that are on exhibit at the World's Fair, being in the exhibits of all the Walgreen Stores at the Century of Progress.

Some weeks ago I quoted a letter from the J. L. Nichols and Company Inc., of Naperville, Illinois. During the past week they sent me a very beautifully bound Bible and an expression of thanks for my efforts to render a constructive service.

The many readers who have been writing to me for years for a photo of myself have but read "Found", a short story of mine in the September Bronzeman Magazine. In illustrating this story Charles C. Dawson, the illustrator, used an actual likeness of myself for his male character, so that saves me the trouble and expense of having photos made.

The only colored business magazine reaching me regularly is the Negro Market, the house organ of the National Negro Business League and its associated concerns. Readers can, probably, secure copies of this magazine by writing to Alton L. Holsey, 252 West 138th Street, New York.

Another publication using all six of my features weekly is the Negro World of New York City. Remember friends that while I cannot guarantee to personally reply to each letter I will promise to give each communication careful consideration if addressed to Clifford C. Mitchell, Writer, 3507 South Parkway, Chicago, Illinois.

Brotherhood Celebrates Anniversary
The Brotherhood Anniversary Marked by Notable Discussion of The N. R. A. in Chicago

The celebration of the Brotherhood's eighth anniversary began with an able and comprehensive address by Congressman Fiorella H. LaGuardia on the politico economic aspects of the National Industrial Recovery Act. He predicted success for the measures and a new era for American labor, but warned that should it fail, chaos, confusion and a general economic and social breakdown would inevitably follow in its train.

The huge Sunday mass meeting was followed by a week of meetings where there was general and intensive discussion of the social, industrial, and labor problems of the present period, and methods for effecting their solution. Monday night, August 21st., Attorney Charles Wesley Burton was in charge of the program and delivered a brilliant speech on "The Negro citizens part in giving cooperation and support to the black workers who are attempting to form trade and industrial unions for their economic protection and advancement under the N. R. A." A

Dallas Turner Beats Huey Long for Insult

By J. Winston Harrington
(Special To The Omaha Guide)
NEW YORK—The mystery is a mystery no longer. What the white press of the country either could not do, or pretended to be unable to do, a reporter for The Chicago Defender succeeded in accomplishing. He found out who gave Senator Huey "Kingfish" Long of Louisiana a black eye and why! The man's name is Dallas Turner, and he is a well known musician and teacher in New York. And most important of all—he is a BLACK MAN.

According to the information gathered by The OMAHA GUIDE, reporter, Mr. Turner was a guest artist at the exclusive Sands Point Bath club on Long Island Saturday night. Gene Buck, internationally known musician and member of the American Society of Composers, Artists and Publishers, was host, "Kingfish" Long was also a guest. There are also

REPRESENTATIVE, ACTIVE IN OPENING UP NEW POSITIONS FOR RACE

Through the efforts of Representative Johnny Owen, Mr. William Perkins, 2909 North 25th Street has been employed as a custodian in the new Capitol Building and at Lincoln Union Mr. Harry P. Conklin, Commissioner of Public Lands and Buildings. This is the first time an Omaha Negro has been employed in the Capitol Building.

Another new position opened, in which Representative Owen was active was the placing of Robert Tucker, son in law of Mr. Burnett, mailman, as bookkeeper in Miss Monksy's office, County and Federal Relief offices in the Court House. This position was only temporarily but through the timely action of our Representative and the kind consideration and unbiased judgment of county commissioner Jacobberger, it is now permanent.

Many Negro citizens who received aid from the county and Federal Relief stations have repeatedly asked to have their relief orders drawn on one of the many Negro merchants of this community, but have been denied. The colored merchants are entitled to receive their share of these orders along with other stores. Representative Owen took the matter up with Commissioner Jacobberger who in turn gave the matter his personal attention, which brought about results. The colored merchants are now receiving their share of orders from the Sailors' and Soldiers' relief and the County and Federal Relief Agencies.

It seems to be of great advantage to have Negro Democrats at this time to keep the race in contact with the outside world. Johnny Owen states: "That, it is not only my aim and desire to represent my people in the Legislative Halls a Lincoln, but anywhere that I may be of service, I feel very deep-several Race employees of the club. Insults Guests

There you have the setting. Now for the action: From the moment Huey Long arrived he began insulting the dark employees of the club with whom he came in contact. He called them insulting terms and even resorted to vulgar personal acts to humiliate them. Noting Mr. Turner's conduct—that of a cultured gentleman—Huey was especially offensive to him. At every opportunity he made some remark to Turner, calling him "nigger," "shine," "coon" and anything else he could think of, to all of which the musician had remained indifferent.

But being persistent, the hallyoo artist from New Orleans kept at his taunts. Then, after several hours of this, he followed Turner from the bandstand, where he had been playing, into the bar. Walking up behind Governors of each of the states were appealed to by the National Urban League to appoint Negro representatives on the Advisory Committee of their state's employment office which is to be run in cooperation with the United States Employment Service. The League argues that in this way Negro unemployed can be sure of having their problems brought before state authorities.

William Green, President of the American Federation of Labor, in the League's third appeal to him for action to do away with discrimination in Labor Unions against Negroes, has been asked to form a commission that will hear and adjust charges against labor groups practicing restrictions against Negroes. Appealing to him not only as the President of the Federation but as a member of the Labor Advisory Board of the NRA and the President's National Industrial Mediation Board, to adjust strike difficulties, he was exhorted to apply the principle of conciliation advocated by these two groups in the disputes that are arising in connection with Negro workers in the trade union movement.

Many additional signatures are expected from sheriffs in sympathy with the purposes of the council. The letter eliciting these pledges was addressed to the sheriffs that "a host of citizens in 80 counties of our State are committed to the eradication of lynching and the elimination of mob violence." It congratulates the sheriffs upon the marked decline of lynchings in Mississippi in recent years, and expresses gratitude for the official vigilance responsible for this improvement.

"The council," it is reported, "is pledged to assist in reaching as soon as possible the goal of a 'lynchless South' by supporting faithful officials and fostering a public opinion that will not longer tolerate mob violence. The Mississippi Council is a branch of the Association of Southern Women for the Prevention of Lynching. NAACP. Asks Moley to Advise Federal Action Against Mobs

NEW YORK—Dr. Raymond Moley, member of President Roosevelt's "brain trust" who is studying ways and means for the federal government to check crime, especially kidnaping, has been asked by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to study also federal action against lynching, mob violence and peonage.

"There is another manifestation of lawlessness," the letter said, "which is more savage than kidnaping and which has been prevalent in this country on a much wider scale. We refer to lynching. If the federal government can take cognizance of the crime of kidnaping and place a federal curb upon it, it certainly should be able to devise federal laws to curb lynching."

QUICK VOTE ON REPEAL SEEN

WASHINGTON—A clear cut possibility the Eighteenth amendment could be voted void within the next 10 weeks emerged Thursday from the 3 to 1 repeal majority cast by voters representing nearly three fifths of the nation's population.

At least 15 or more states will vote before November 8, providing a minimum of three more than necessary for repeal.

Should 12 of the 15 states follow the line of the first 24, the prohibition amendment would be formally abolished December 5 or 6.
