HILLSIDE PREBYTERIAN CHURCH

M. S. Martin, Reporter A nice day for service Sunday, and most all members were present.

Expositions showed that all were interested in the sermon. We are trying to put our entire interest into the services, so that our lives may be lights for little children. Their lives must be trained to meet the future.

The Sunday School is improving each Sunday. The lesson was emphasized on the subject, "Losing to gain." The quartette of Mt. Moriah Baptist Church sang three numbers for us in our Christian Endeavor at 7:30 p. m. These boys have wonderful voices. They are asked to be with us at any other convenient time.

The church regrets very much the vacant seat of Sister Holmes' mother. She has been present with us for a time, and was very faithful to all departments of the church. We want Sister Holmes to have her mother to come again.

Miss Edrose Willis, our pianist, is leaving this week for Chicago for a trip to the World's Fair.

A summer dinner will be served at the church Thursday by club No. 1. Mrs. Edden, president.

WEEKLY SHORT SERMON "No Work No Eat" By Dr. A. G. Bearer

(For The Literary Service Bureau) Text: If any man will not work neither should he eat.—II Thessalonians, 3:10.

Paul announces a bold yet sound principle of social economic when he decrees that a fellow who will not work is not entitled to eat. And any honest consideration of it will force the conviction that it is right. It has several elements as its basis. Let us take a few.

1. Divine Decree. To Adam the first man and the first sinner God said, "In the sweat of thy brow shall thou eat bread." This was that all men, thereafter, should work for their own living.

2. Human Necessity. Labor became necessary to the physical well being of man, in his fallen condition, since the fall affected his body as well as his soul.

3. Justice and Equity Demand. A man will live. He must live by his own labor or the labor of another, and the latter would be unjust and inequitable to others.

4. Corollary. For these reasons, a man who refuses to work has no right to eat; he has no right to be a parasite on the body politic. Let all the laggards read and consider, "If any would not work neither should he eat."

June 12, 1933. Mayor Roy N. Towl Executive Offices Omaha, Nebraska Dear Mayor Towl:

I am sure at this time you have become very well acquainted with me as a correspondent, having communicated with you while Fire Commissioner, and again as Mayor of our city.

I am hoping you have had a restful and pleasant vacation after having been burdened with different transactions and duties one undergoes who first takes office in behalf of citizens who have made your position possible. We believe you will manifest every consideration regarding the employment situation in our city, realizing it was through all citizens the final count was obtained and all should receive consideration each department of our city.

There should be no hidden facts or any manifestation given kept secret to prevent manifesting consideration to others who are entitled, but denied of same.

We have always had a representative in the Welfare Board. At this time it has been rumored the same was suspended with, not only due to lack of funds, but also to do away with the former employee and avoid appointing another, and we are seeking consideration and information.

Others have been chosen to carry on this work, and we are entitled to a representative. Perhaps your intentions are to manifest his consideration, but in making your change of employees, no conclusions have been drawn as to who the appointee shall be.

I am not a politician, but spoke not only in your behalf, but all of the candidates on your slate, and am hoping you and I will become as well acquainted with each other as I did with our previous executive. I am not a hard man as often taken to be seeking a fair consideration regarding employment as a citizen, tax payer and business man for 5 1/2% of your supporters.

I am hoping you will not misinterpret my meaning, and shall appreciate information and consideration regarding this matter.

Respectfully yours, DR. G. B. LENNOX, President, Omaha Working Men's Com.

August 17, 1933. Mayor Roy N. Towl, Executive Office, Omaha, Nebraska Dear Mayor Towl:

I have communicated with our former executives on several occasions, and can say not one time was I not impressed with their statements, or did I fail to receive a reply to any letter written to them. A propaganda has been spread there is some of your mail you fail to receive. I have written you important letters, and if you have not obtained them, or through negligence in some way have failed to respond, I can not appreciate same.

There is a certain amount of consideration due all citizens by every public man who is in a position to give same, are seeking. One true statement is "when the public in general gets behind a situation, they either put it over or destroy it." It is through the general public that all the city positions are obtained, whether the citizens are recognized or not after one has been successful.

We are entitled to our pro rata of employment in all city departments, but those in a position to give this consideration, have denied this group or given employment to others that should have been given to us, which is not fair. What consolation, inspiration or hopes can a body of people receive who are constantly denied of their rights of employments by citizens whom they have supported?

Different codes of the National Recovery Act as authorized by our President are now going into effect, and after so long a silence, at this time I am wondering what consideration in regards to our pro rata of employment you have in mind? We believe by these codes at last they are daring to form a plan which will give the weak a chance with the strong, and the poor a chance with the rich, and are also hoping it will mean greater opportunities within our city for those who have been the first to be discharged and the last to be hired.

I am sure it is realized taking into consideration citizens, tax payers and the population of the group, comparing the same with others, a fair consideration of employment is not given, and as Mayor of our city, we are asking you to see that employment to which we are entitled is given.

We do not want to believe you are "Robbing Peter to pay Paul," but from all evidence we have been denied appointments to which we are entitled, were promised and formerly have been given.

Perhaps I have misinterpreted you, but can not understand your silence, and am still seeking a reply and through you the consideration of employment we are due; hoping the same will be given as a matter of justice if for no other reason.

Thanking you very kindly, I am Respectfully yours, DR. G. B. LENNOX, President Omaha Working Men's Com. 2122 1/2 North 24th Street

CITY OF OMAHA Executive Office Roy N. Towl, Mayor August 21st, 1933. Dr. G. E. Lennox, President, Omaha Guide's Working Men's Commissioners, 2418 Grant Street, Omaha, Nebraska, Dear Doctor Lennox:

Please be assured your letters have not gone astray and are being given appropriate consideration. I realize that strictly pro rata employment in all departments of the city has been somewhat difficult. However, I believe that, if you take the entire payroll, you will find that it makes a fairly good showing in most cases.

Should be glad to increase the employment as per your suggestions whenever I have an opportunity to do so in any department. You must realize that it will be necessary to make adjustments from time to time and I want you to feel that your request have not been forgotten.

Very truly yours, ROY N. TOWL, Mayor June 22, 1933. Executive Office Mayor Roy N. Towl City Hall Dear Mayor Towl:

I highly appreciate your letter of Aug. 12th in regards to the information I was seeking.

We have the utmost confidence in you although our close contact has been very little. As one writer has said, "A man is known by his daily works" which magnifies the confidence we still have in you—fairness to all.

I realize at this time you are overburdened and approached by those seeking fair and unfair considerations. Different classes of people who are limited within a small field and unable to understand perhaps after given an explanation. Realizing this and other confrontations along these lines, I can readily sympathize with you. Endowed with intelligence and experience, with a smile however, I am sure you have been able to take care of the majority of situations confronting you.

There is no confusion with those who comprehend, as it is realized conditions at this time bring about a reduction in all budgets, and automatically it is necessary to reduce labor. Knowing someone has to be laid off, we believe that you will make all suffer in proportion to their amount or the consideration due them.

We still have that belief and hope that you will readjust situations to the extent it is appreciated.

Thanking you very much for any consideration you may give in regards to a fair play to all, I am Respectfully yours, DR. G. B. LENNOX, President Omaha Working Men's Com.

"LABOR DAY" A PARADOX

By R. A. Adams (For The Literary Service Bureau)

A stranger, unacquainted with our customs, notes that business is suspended, mills, factories and other industries closed, and the people resting in parades, with music playing and banners waving. Hearing and seeing, he inquires concerning the occasion, and he is told, "Why this is Labor Day!" And he gasps at the paradox.

To such a stranger must be explained that Labor Day does not mean what the term signifies, etymologically, a day on which to labor, but a day dedicated to the honor and the interests of laborers of the nation. This explained and understood, the paradox disappears and the matter is plain.

This is as it should be, because of the unique and all-important role played by labor in the prosperity of the nation and the perpetuity of our civilization. Labor is the basis of which our various national systems rest. It is the corner stone which binds and secures the parts of the industrial and economic superstructures. It is the base of the pyramid representing the chiefest accomplishments of men, in all the ages. It is indispensable to the progress, the profit and the very life of mankind. The richest man in the world cannot be independent of labor, and the weakest laborer is an integral element in all that makes up the warp and woof of human progress. Then let us join in the parade, or let us take off our hats as the toilers an saviors of the nation pass by.
