Urban League Starts Workers' Aid Drive

Chicago, Nov. 11 (ANP)—In order to widen the employment field for Chicago's thousands of jobless Negro workers, the local branch of the Urban League launched a drive Thursday at a meeting attended by the civic, business, and social leaders of both races in the downtown YMCA.

"Negroes were brought here because Chicago needed cheap labor," declared Horace Bridges of the league. "They came from rural communities and the league was organized to teach them how to live in urban communities."

A. L. Foster, secretary, said efforts were being made to improve health and employment opportunities for Negroes between 16 and 25, and Miss Pauline Redmond, youth director, said of the need of funds to carry on health improvement work.

Miss Charlotte Carr, white, recently appointed head of Hull House, remarked that "Negroes are the last to be hired and the first to be fired. Those employers who are interested in this movement should try to make use of Negro labor to offset the prejudice of others."
