

ST. John A. M. E. Church "The Friendly Church" Rev. L. P. Bryant, pastor.

In spite of the rain last Sunday the attendance at Sunday school was very good. The teachers were nearly all of whom were present, were on time. The only ones in the city not present, were Mrs. Bryant and Mrs. Edmonson who are both ill. Miss Ruth Pegg, seemed to be the only one in town not present. Those on their vacation are Mrs. Matie Johnson, who is visiting people in Wichita, Kansas, and Mr. M. E. Webb, who is taking his vacation in Fort Worth, Texas, with his family. We wish for all a pleasant vacation.

I will be interesting to know that the enrollment for this conference year has been 99 people in all departments.

Rev. Bryant preached at the morning services and at 3 p. m. Part of the choir went to Allen chapel in South Omaha to be with Rev. W. S. Metcalf in his quarterly meeting. Rev. Bryant's subject was "The Joy of Confessing Christ." The three main courses of condition are, "Disobeying, False Religion and denying Christ." One should never fear to testify for Christ. Confessing Christ should be shown by all by real active work day by day. Our lives should be among the people to see what thoughts they have of Christ and maybe we can be able to help them, but to do this we must be true with Christ's program. After the sermon those to join the church were, Mrs. M. McCraney and Attorney Ralph Adams.

Now that this is the last quarter of this conference, the pastor is asking that all members and friends pay their conference claims. Read your church and social news in The Omaha Guide.

Elder Humphrey Loses 131st Street Church

New York, N. Y., July 6.—By a decision of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court on June 20, the United Seventh Day Adventist Church headed by Elder J. K. Humphrey, loses control of the church property on 131st street near Seventh avenue. The Appellate Division reversed a previous decision conveying title to the property to the group headed by Elder Humphrey.

The court held unanimously that Mr. Justice McCook had erred in directing a conveyance. The higher court sustained the Greater New York Corporation of Seventh Day Adventists and the Greater New York Conference of Seventh Day Adventist contentions that they had paid almost entirely for the 131st street property and that the contributions of the Harlem Church of Seventh Day Adventist to the denomination could not be considered in connection with the carrying charges paid by the congregation were to be considered as a sort of substitution for rent.

The court further held that under the Religious Corporation Law of this state, the Harlem congregation was bound by the rules of the denominational rules, the Harlem Church of the Seventh Day Adventist had no right of ownership of the church. When the congregation, under Elder Humphrey, rebelled and seceded from the mother church it lost its right to the use of the property by its own act and consequently no unjust enrichment resulted to the denomination.

Elder Humphrey has pastored the 131st street church since its inception and contends that the property was purchased through the efforts of his congregation.

Charges New Deal Re-Enslaves Negro; 4 Million on Relief

St. Louis, July 6.—Speaking at the Thursday evening, June 27th, meeting of the 26th Annual Conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, John P. Davis, secretary of the Joint Committee on National Recovery, scored the New Deal as "worsening the lot of the masses of American people" and charged that "the experiments are conceived, so far as Negroes are concerned, in terms of ghetto planning, in terms of keeping the Negro in an inferior status."

In support of his contention, Mr. Davis pointed out that, "Rapidly we are becoming a race of paupers. In October 1933, roughly two million one hundred thousand Negroes were in families receiving relief. They were 17.8 per cent of our population. Within fifteen months thereafter in January 1935, the number of Negroes receiving relief rose to about four million, 30 per cent of our population. I think you will agree with me that the sight of 130,000 Negro men, women and children becoming destitute and economically helpless in every single month should make us have deep concern for the future."

"Two years of the 'New Deal' administration," he declared, "have worsened the lot of the masses of the American people." He cited the tremendously increased cost of living in the tobacco manufacturing cities where large numbers of Negroes live, and asserted that wages there had gone down while hours of work had been increased. "NRA actually lowered the buying power of the workers generally," he charged, "and exacted a tribute of many millions of dollars from the wage bill of the doubly-exploited Negro worker." In the laundry industry, in not a single Southern city were Negro women receiving even as much as the inhuman $6.30 a week wage established by NRA's code for that industry.

Negro Farmer's Condition Growing Worse

Turning to the plight of the Negro farmer who constitutes two-fifths of the colored population, Mr. Davis said that "Only 18 per cent of them are farm owners or farm managers" while "The remaining 80 per cent are sharecroppers and share tenants whose income not only is less than $1,000 but in the majority of cases amounts to less than $300." In the face of this, he said, the government had worsened their condition by cotton crop reduction and "a ruthless policy of destroying pigs and corn and wheat while a whole nation starved." He quoted a University of North Carolina investigator's report that "sharecroppers entitled to benefit checks from the federal government actually received about three out of every thousand checks intended for them. The other 997 were secured by fraud, deceit and common thievery by large plantation owners. Needless to say Negro sharecroppers fared worse than their white fellow victims."

Scoring the government administration of relief as callous and indifferent, Mr. Davis charged that "For Negro families, who for no reason except their color are given from two to ten dollars a month less than white families of the same size, human degradation has been inevitable." The $19 and $21 monthly relief work wags for Regions IV and III, for the

WEEKLY SHORT SERMON

Text: Behold the arrows are beyond thee.—I Sam. 20:22.

It is unfortunate that graduates of various schools so often are inclined to misunderstand, and are inclined to gloat over past accomplishments and "slow down" on their activities. So this is to remind them that at graduation the real struggles and the real accomplishments of life lie beyond them.

Tests Severe. Students are familiar with tests. Many of them have dreaded such as they were compelled to meet. But the post-school life will be full of tests. Their capabilities, their faith, their courage, and their worth and worthiness will all be severely tested.

Opportunities. Beyond graduation lie immense opportunities for service to humanity. The work of the school years was but preparation for the utilization of these opportunities. With these they will come face to face at every turn. The enrichment of their own lives and their contributions to the good of others will depend on use of these opportunities.

Responsibilities. Let it be remembered that these opportunities connote commensurate responsibilities. This is set forth in the parable of the talents and that of the pounds, as found in the Scriptures. And commendation or condemnation will be determined by the way opportunities are utilized and responsibilities met.

THE COW AND HER TAIL

There is a fable of a cow that got tired of her long tail and had it cut off. But when the summer came, bringing thousands of flies, she was terribly annoyed and wished for her tail. From this comes the adage "The cow will need her tail in fly-time." So, in times of prosperity persons are inclined to become arrogant and assert independence. But when comes adversity, the fly-time of human life, these bigots suffer, as the cow without her tail, in fly-time.

Holds Hearing at Bedside of White Holdup Victim

New York, N. Y., July 6.—Transferring her court to the bedside of Mrs. Josephine Rosensweig, 70, in Sydenham Hospital, Magistrate Anna M. Cross ordered Kenneth Smith, 17, of 158 West 123rd street, held in $5,000 bail for the grand jury on charges of assault. Smith is accused of beating Mrs. Rosensweig, who lives at 98 Morning-side avenue, over the head on June 14 last, in her rummage store at 2303 Eighth avenue.

No motive for the alleged assault has as yet been determined.

present restricted to persons on relief rolls in May 1935, was flayed as "coolie wages" which would affect "71.5 per cent of the Negro working population but only 26 per cent of the white working population." "Negro families," he said, "will receive under this wage schedule, a wage of 75 cents a day regardless of the size of their family."

"New Deal" Extends Segregation. Ridiculing the government's subsistence homesteads program, the speaker stated that "The simple arithmetic of this utopian scheme is that with 17 million unemployed and two years of experimentation by the New Deal in subsistence homesteads there are only 507 families placed into such homesteads. It is significant that not one of these families is Negro."

"The New Deal is planning, so it says, a new American society," he continued, "Yet its plans are so shortsighted that it can only see for the next fifty years Negro ghettos, separate and apart from white communities. Although the N. A. A. C. P. fought and won the battle against residential segregation years ago, we find the New Deal extending this principle in all its plans. Even in the North and the Mid-West where by civil rights acts segregation against Negroes is prohibited, the administration has extended the doctrine of residential segregation. In rural-industrial communities approved under the FERA in line with the Rural Resettlement Program provision has been made for more than 8,000 white families but not one Negro family."

In conclusion the speaker called for "the broadest united effort" on the part of Negroes if they "hope to even hold the little stake which is theirs in our industrial and agricultural system." "We have waited too long for reforms which never come. Now we should know reform was never intended. Now we should be willing to challenge the old order with all the force we can command."

Scottsboro Boys Quit Death Cell

Montgomery, Ala., July 6.—Another brilliant Scottsboro was effected when the International Labor Defense compelled the Kilby Prison authorities here to remove Haywood Patterson and Clarence Norris, two of the Scottsboro boys, from the death row. The boys were transferred to Jefferson County jail in Birmingham, where the other seven Scottsboro boys are confined.

The removal was secured after C. B. Powell, Birmingham lawyer retained by the defense league, had obtained a court order for the transfer of Haywood Patterson. When the I.L.D. brought pressure for the removal of both Patterson and Norris from the death cell, the court made the transfer applicable to Norris as well.

On April 1, the United States Supreme Court reversed its death sentence against Patterson and Norris. The decision had the effect of voiding the indictments drawn up at Scottsboro in 1931, under which all nine boys had been held. Despite the reversal of the verdict, Patterson and Norris, who were not under sentence and not even under indictment, were kept in the death cell until the I.L.D. demanded their transfer.

Hearing Date Set

Hearing in the juvenile court for two of the youngest of the Scottsboro boys, Eugene Williams and Roy Wright, has been scheduled before Judge B. L. Malone, of Decatur, the first week in July. At the same time Judge Callahan of Decatur will hear plea for bail and Willie Robertson and Olen Montgomery. Attorneys Osmund K. Fraenkel and C. B. Powell, retained by the I.L.D., will represent all four boys.

Earl Dancer Em Cees NAACP Benefit

Los Angeles, Calif., July 3 (ANP)—For whatever misfortunes his brother, Maurice, might have met in various attempts to stage mammoth benefit shows for the NAACP, Earl Dancer overcame when he assisted Clarence Muse in presenting a stage show at the Lincoln Theatre Saturday, June 22, to raise funds for the support of anti-lynching measures supported by the A. S. association.

With a dignity and showmanship that Californians have long since learned to associate with Earl Dancer, he opened the 4-hour performance with a brief but pointed outline of the work of the NAACP, to preface the introduction of the local branch president, Attorney Thomas L. Griffith, Jr.

Mr. Griffith paid tribute to the Artists, colored and white, who volunteered their services and sent contributions to the fund.

Over one thousand dollars was reported taken in at the box office before the performances. There were no expenses, all services, including the theatre and its crew were donated.

Mr. Dancer presented talent from the Club Alabama which sent its entire floor show, motion picture studios represented by Fred Keating, Ted Healy and various radio acts from KFNB and KFI.

Upon the arrival of Clarence Muse, who was "detained on location", Dancer informed the audience of Muse's determination to establish a record for Los Angeles when the two of them combed motion picture studios for ticket sales that resulted in over three hundred sales.

Sisters Injured While Playing

The twin daughters Geraldine and Ernestine, of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz McKim, 3225 Pinkney, were seriously injured Monday night while swinging on a tree limb.

The limb broke and struck Geraldine, causing internal injuries. Dr. Wiggins was called in for consolation and she was rushed to the Craten University Hospital, where it was discovered that she had received internal ruptures. Ernestine only received a few scratches on her lower limbs. However, both children are up and about.

Must Serve Year For Assaulting Officer

Wilson, N. C., July 6, (By the Associated Negro Press)—Convicted on charges of assaulting a policeman, John Howard Hines was sentenced to one year on the county road gang here Wednesday. Testimony at the trial was that Hines resisted arrest at the hands of Policeman H. B. Harris, disarming the officer and beating him over the head with a black-jack. Harris presented a bandaged and lacerated head as evidence of the assault.

Found Dead in Sack

Nassau, L. I., N. Y.—Police are investigating the murder of a young colored girl whose nude body was found tied up in an old sack just outside of town on Tuesday morning. The body, bound with a piece of wire wound loosely around the neck, was discovered by a nine year old boy.

The World Needs Men

By R. A. Adams (For the Literary Service Bureau) Dedicated to Graduates of 1935. Ask you the world's most urgent need. For which we should most earnestly plead? Listen; here is the answer, then! The world's most urgent need is men!

The world needs men with faith so strong, That striving 'gainst the power of wrong, They will not quail, nor cease to fight, For honor, justice, truth, and right.

The world needs men who will not bow To demagogues, no matter how They may entice, but will contend For principles, and right defend.

The world needs men who'll not forget They owe the world an honest debt Of service, and each, as he can, Will strive to bless his fellow man.

The dominance of such as they, Will haste the long-awaited day, When justice, truth, and righteousness Prevailing shall all nations bless.

Dr. Wheatland Heads New Jersey Elks

Uamden, N. J., July 6, (By ANP)—Dr. Marcus Wheatland, of this city, District Deputy of South Jersey, was elected president of the New Jersey State Association of Elks at the closing of a four-day session of the organization, succeeding William A. Russell of Atlantic City.

Other highlights of the convention, which opened Sunday night and closed Wednesday, included: the public meeting on the opening day when Mayor Frederick Von Nieda in welcoming the visitors outlined the contribution of the group to the general advancement of the city; the oratorical contest which was won by Miss Georgette Raymond, Jersey City, with William Glover the runner-up and the general report of progress by the retiring president.
