This painting depicts Napoleon's retreat from Moscow, October 19, 1812. His forces reaching the Russian capitol found it in flames as shown in the background of the picture. In trying to consolidate his forces and replenish supplies, deep winter took its toll of his men, and Russians by their guerilla warfare, almost annihilated his army... Today a similar fate might await Hitler, for news reports indicate monster tank battles are being fought on snow covered grounds in freezing temperatures.

Duroc brood sow, Grandmaster's Pride, which set a higher official production record than any sow of any breed anywhere in the United States. Recently at the 14th National Convention of Future Farmers of America at Kansas City, Missouri, Munter was named "Saar Farmer of America." An all around farmer, the youth won his greatest fame in hog production. He started when 13 years old, with a 2 sow project on borrowed money which in 4 years increased to a purebred herd of 20 Duroc sows and litters.
