Evening sermon was preached by the Pastor from I Cor 15-55, subject "O Death where is thy sting, O grave where is thy victory." The spirit ran high and the Lord blessed us with a new member. Our Chief Bishop O. V. Hall will be in the city Sunday the 12th. Come out and hear him.

MRS. STORY ENTERTAINS PASTORS' WIVES

With a Pre-Easter party in the dining hall of Cleaves Temple CME. Church, Mrs. Lottie P. Story entertained the Interdenominational Pastors' Wives Council at the regular meeting Wednesday afternoon, April 1. The program with Easter as the central theme, included: devotions by Mrs. Mary Reynolds, chaplain; piano solos, Mrs. Thelma Stams; vocal solos by Mrs. Oda L. Masely, Mrs. Ruth J. Hubbard, and Mrs. Hazel Reynolds.

Mrs. John Hamilton, grandson of Mrs. Belzora Collins 2622 1-2 Erskine St., spent Easter Sunday in Sioux City, Iowa, visiting his mother, Mrs. Lucille Hamilton.

COUPLE ENTERTAINED AT BUFFET LUNCHEON

Mrs. Belzora Collins of 2622 1-2 Erskine St., was hostess at an Easter Egg Hunt and Buffet Luncheon, Sunday April 5th, honoring her daughter and son in law, Mr. and Mrs. Valder James Ratliff, who recently returned from Brooklyn, New York, where they spent the past two and a half years.

The guest arrived at three o'clock and an outdoor easter egg hunt enlivened the occasion and whetted the appetites of everyone for the buffet luncheon that was prepared and served in Mrs. Collins' own inimitable style.

After the hunt prizes were awarded to Mrs. Robert Hammonds and Mrs. Selma Clark who tied in finding the most eggs. Mrs. Clark then made the announcement and read the marriage license of the Ratliffs which stated that Miss Estella Robertson and Mr. Valder James Ratliff were married at Papillion, Nebraska, February 20, 1937. She further announced that although Mr. and Mrs. Ratliff had been married for five years, they were unable to enjoy their honeymoon until nearly three years later when they went to New York. They returned to Omaha because of the illness of Mr. Ratliff's mother, Mrs. F. E. North, who is in the hospital awaiting an operation.

One of the most delicious menus of all times was enjoyed by the 45 guest who attended. Those who assisted Mrs. Collins in service were Mesdames: Selma Clark, Essie Porter, Gladys Gordon, Rose Ellis, Emma Knight, Josephine Brown, Dorothy North and Anne Mary Kennedy.

Other friends who have entertained the Ratliffs since their arrival are Mr. and Mrs. George Porter, Mrs. Lucy Mae Britt, Mr. F. E. North, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hammonds, Mrs. Viola Turner, Mrs. Dorene Holiday and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore North.

WAITERS' COLUMN

(BY H. W. SMITH) WE. 6458

The weather on Easter Sunday was very cold and the beautiful display of the very lovely costumes that always can be seen around on the parade were covered with winter coats. We all will see them on the first warm Sunday in the near future as we have a number of swell fashion plates, and the very lovely costumes that the ladies and gents appear in are very pleasing to look at.

The Omaha Club waiters are out in front at all times and the quick step they make in giving modern service is on the improve all the time.

The Cottonwood Room at the Blackstone with the fine crew of waiters giving quick, modern service and being very pleasant to the guest and their many friends in a very fine way is up to the minute at all times.

The Omaha Guide is always a headliner with the news and always one hundred percent for the colored race as the very wide experience of the editor enables him to use the efforts that bring good results. Are you a subscriber if not why not?

This writer had the pleasure of shaking hands with the two top men of the Paxton Hotel on Easter Sunday. Mr. Maurice Corbett and Mr. Jerry Simpson and it was a very friendly fellowship as we are always delighted to know that the crew of waiters are cooperating with them in a very fine way of giving modern service. Now let's all give them a hand.

Mr. Simon Harrold, the musician headwaiter, who is always ready to make a friendly visit to the sick, invited yours truly to spend a few moments with Capt. Burns on Easter Sunday, and it was indeed a pleasure to meet a first class private Mr. Shiler Bartdall, who is stationed at Fort Warren, Wyoming in charge of the Postoffice and we were delighted to learn from him so many items of military life, and to our surprise Mr. Harrold's beautiful daughter, Miss Irene also appeared on the scene with a lovely personality and friendly smile. And oh say, it was a very pleasant afternoon visit with Capt. Burns. He was all smiles even though he was ill.
