TRUTH

"Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free"—I would define the word Truth as follows: T—stands for testimony, R—stands for righteousness, U—stands for unity, T—stands for thanksgiving, H—stands for holiness. With my humble original definition of Truth the world's Four Freedoms would be solved in the hearts of every nation and the "Atlantic Charter" would be unnecessary. The custom of evading the truth binds people. Christ gave the only genuine words covering the great need men are searching for, but in vain, because they failed to look within themselves. People are and always have searched for some useless high-sounding terms for their many ills. When all they should do would be to bare their thinking their real self wherein lies the opposite of truth. When havoc is played then a great cry goes forward that is as accurate as halitosis (a foul breath) if one is true to themselves knowing nothing but the truth, can or will live in the hearts of men. Freedom of religion (the first of the four freedoms) captures the imaginations of all types of people. While it is positively meaningless to the vast majority. All that most folk want is a sense of security so they can get under the wing of religion—just going to church once in a while, giving their pennies or have their funerals in some church, this usually is all religion concerns them. To exemplify Christianity the precepts and doctrines taught by Christ is unthinkable. Some system of human origin; contents too many people. The only cure for all World's ills are the teaching of Jesus Christ. 2nd Freedom of Fear is about one and the same. If we are truthful with our brother, fear will be eliminated. Nations with their treaties and pacts would settle all questions amicably if only men would be honest in their hearts and to each other. Instead of sitting at conference tables with armed guards ready to dagger or harm on least provocation, 3rd Freedom of the Press. Good and important in a democracy. Yet too often futile because afraid to print facts or be truthful for fear of losing political prestige or some selfish angrainment. The press has a wonderful opportunity to help mold many worthwhile lives by their opinions effecting the world. 4th the Freedom Want is ours regardless, Christ said take no thought of what we shall eat, drink, or herewith be clothed. No man can improve on Christ's admonitions. It's Truth. The poet said Truth crushed to earth will rise again.
