DAWSON BACKED CANDIDATE WINS COUNCIL SEAT

WINS CHICAGO COUNCIL SEAT Chicago, (PPS, Inc.) A great victory was on by the Democrats of the Second Ward when the final returns came in late Tuesday night, April 6, giving William H. Harvey, Aldermanic Candidate of the Second Ward, a majority vote. Congratulations and warm hand shakes are graciously received by this young man who was victorious in his first fight for a public office. Congressman William L. Dawson, Democratic Ward Committeeman of the Second Ward, who was responsible for Alderman William H. Harvey's name being placed on the ticket, proved his political emulgence by carrying the entire Ward for the Democratic Party, which to the past has been one of the strongest Republican wards in the entire nation. Alderman Harvey was formerly the Secretary to Congressman Dawson when Dawson was in the City Council. At the time of his nomination for Alderman, he was acting Committeeman in the absence of Congressman Dawson, Showit shaking hands with Alderman Harvey. At the extreme right is Corneal A. Davis, of the Illinois General Assembly.

Calvin's Digest

(BY L. BAYNARD WHITNEY) ANSWER THAT AD! One of the Negro's sins of omission is his chronic failure to WRITE IN to Congressmen, radio stations and ads placed in colored newspapers. Reference is made to important legislation for or against us; radio programs, prize-worthy or insulting; and advertisements, good, bad or indifferent. As a race, we somehow hate to take our pen and "write you these few lines." Of course, now and then a few of our more vigilant people will dispatch a scorching to an insulting radio program, but a fine Negro program on the air draws not a postcard of praise or comment. This latter omission has discouraged and killed several good radio chances for Negroes. When Walter (NAACP) White

FORETHOUGHT OF NPC PLANT BUILDERS FORESTALLS MISSOURI FLOOD DAMAGE TO POWER PLANT Electric service over the Nebraska Power company system was maintained at normal during the recent Missouri river flood, except for the necessity of shutting off power in the inundated areas, because river flood stage was taken into consideration when the original power plant and all subsequent plant additions were built at Fourth and Jones street. "Our plant was never in danger during the recent flood," J. E. Davidson, president of the Nebraska Power Company, said. "The flood waters could have risen two feet above the record flood stage of 23.8 feet recorded in 1881 before endangering the power plant's operation." The plaque affixed to the northeast corner of the original power plant building, marking the 1881 flood stage, was used as a guide when this building was erected in 1889. Mr. Davidson said, Floods of the original turbine and boiler rooms are at an elevation even with this record flood stage. They also are protected by floodgates at all the entrances. Additions to the plant, erected in 1917, 1920, 1924 and 1929, all have floor elevations at least 10 feet above this flood stage mark. "The water we need most to guard against is from seepage," Davidson said. "Floodgates are attached to the building at every entrance, ready to be slid into place. These have proved adequate protection against seepage water getting into the plant during river floods and also high surface water during cloudbursts. Sump pumps take care of the removal of water from the plant's basement and the tunnel leading to the water intake at the river's edge."

in Europe, citing a rise in the disease, backs up the doctor's statement. There is a definite trend, during wartime, which will allow tuberculosis to go on a rampage unless strenuous efforts are taken to curb the disease. Longer working hours, poor housing, insufficient nourishment and other wartime conditions all contribute to make the populace weaker and perfect targets for the guns of infectious tuberculosis. It is the individual's problem. The association, in its April EDC helps the people protect themselves. The spring month long drive is primarily of educational benefits to the public, emphasizing the importance of skin-testing, x-rays and treatment of tuberculosis cases.

New War Restrictions on Telephone Service To save scarce and critical materials for military equipment and to make sure telephone service is available for essential wartime needs, the War Production Board has issued a new order further restricting installation of telephone service. Of particular interest is that part of the Order which provides the following: 1. All telephone service installed or reconnected on or after April 15, 1943 will be on an interim basis only. This means that customers for whom service is installed or who have their telephone service moved to a new address on and after that date may have to give up their telephones if the facilities are required to provide service for persons classified as "essential users" in the War Production Board's Order. 2. Residence extension telephones, including plugs and jacks therefor, cannot be installed and cannot be reconnected for service, even though left in place by a previous user, except when essential in cases of serious illness, and then only on a temporary basis. In addition to these limitations, there are other restrictions in the Order which may, in some instances, affect the installation of telephone service. If you plan to move or make any change in your telephone service, please get in touch with our business office to determine what services are available for your individual needs. Your understanding and cooperation are helping greatly to meet wartime telephone needs and we feel sure you will realize that these Government restrictions are necessary to help speed the winning of the war. BLASTS BELIEF THAT T-B IS INHERITED A general public opinion that tuberculosis is inherited, was blasted by Dr. J. Harry Murphy, president of the Nebraska Tuberculosis Association, this week in discussing the association's Early Diagnosis Campaign, now in progress. "Too much emphasis can never be placed on the fact that tuberculosis is not inherited," Dr. Murphy said. "Many persons still believe this untruth. Lowered resistance to the disease may be inherited," he granted, "and at times the contagiousness of tuberculosis can be traced directly to this lowered resistance. It runs in families because of the close and intimate contact within the family circle," he said. Dr. Murphy pointed out that restoration of health depends largely upon the individual's cooperation, which is being sought this month in the EDC drive. Complete rest, preferably in a sanatorium under good medical supervision, is the determining factor in regaining health. It is no longer believed that climate alone will either cure or benefit a case of tuberculosis to any extent. He sounded a warning note, which should get EDC response, by saying, "with tuberculosis rising alarmingly in Europe, with it beginning to rise in certain areas of the United States, the 1943 Early Diagnosis Campaign is the most important far-reaching campaign the association has ever held."
