Miss Combes is clerking in J. Albert Wells' establishment.

The late rains are having a reassuring and stimulating effect on business.

The city fathers were in session, Saturday night, over the waterworks question.

Quite a number of landseekers have been looking over the country, the past week.

Street Commissioner Spotts is performing the duties of his office with great care and efficiency in every particular.

It is with pleasure we note that Miss Mary Fee, the music teacher, has already secured a fine class, which is steadily increasing.

An adjourned session of district court convened at Indianola, this morning consequently there was quite an emigration of counsel and clients from here to the county-seat, this morning.

Mt. Zion M. E. church, situated ten miles northwest of McCook, will be dedicated by Presiding Elder C. A. Mastin on Sunday, July 16th, at eleven o'clock, A. M. An all day service and basket dinner will be held. All are cordially invited.

The county commissioners held the meeting required by law, Monday, July 3d, and adjourned till yesterday morning when they commenced their semi-annual settlement with the county officers, a tedious job that will take some time to dispose of.

CURRIER'S EUROPEAN HOTEL, Chicago, (formerly the St. Charles), 15 and 17 South Clark street. Established 25 years. Strictly first-class. Central location. Hot and cold baths free. Good elevator. Rates $1.00 per day. No advance during the fair.

CURRIER & JUDD, Proprietors.

The local base ball club expects to play the Vailton club on the home grounds tomorrow, and in the near future they will again cross bats with the Arapahoe aggregation, to whom they expect to introduce some startling features of the national game. In fact the boys must have a little revenge for that score of 25 to 9 on the Fourth.

The officers of McCook lodge 61, A. O. U. W., were installed, last Monday evening. When business was reached under "Good of the Order" the retiring Master Workman Dennis Cullen was presented with an elegant emblem badge of the order properly inscribed. Mr. Cullen responded in a neat speech noting particularly the lodge's growth during his term. Several brothers spoke under the same head and a general good feeling prevailed.

ECHOES OF THE FOURTH.

It was ideal weather for a Fourth, though pretty hot.

Wauneta's celebration attracted a number of people from our city.

The celebrations at Danbury and Bartley were largely attended and were conspicuously successful.

McCook had no celebration of her own, but she furnished the crowds for a number of neighboring towns.

Quite a delegation of bykers took in the Box Elder celebration, going from there to Indianola on their wheels and coming home on the cars.

The celebration at Matt Droll's place was declared off, many of the people of that neighborhood joining in the observance of the day at Spaulding's and Box Elder.

There was a large crowd of McCook people at the Box Elder celebration, where an immense concourse of people assembled to observe the nation's Columbian Fourth of July.

The races announced to take place at Indianola on the Fourth had to be declared off on account of the condition of the track caused by the late heavy rains. It was quite a disappointment to many.

Apropos of the Arapahoe-McCook game of July 4th, it may be stated with official emphasis that John Barleycorn is something of a base ballist himself. He never fails to get his man or club either for all that. Selah.

A bucking, balky broncho caused a wagon load of young men a whole lot of grief, early Tuesday morning, by its unseemly performances on Main street. Another horse was finally substituted for the obstreperous gray, and the boys proceeded to Box Elder and enjoyed the Fourth freely and fully.

THE TRIBUNE is deeply pained to learn that the Arapahoe base ballists wiped up the diamond with the boys from here, July 4th, to the tune of about three to one. It is stated that quite a number of McCook's strongest players could not go, which perhaps in a measure accounts for our humiliating defeat.

The amount of fireworks discharged throughout the city by numerous private parties would have made quite an imposing display if the money thus spent had gone into a common fund and been expended in the purchase of "piece" and "design" fireworks. We suggest this course for next year's celebration. It will be more attractive and satisfactory.

Over at Danbury they had a rousing time. The committee had made complete and liberal arrangements for a celebration, and they had it. An immense crowd participated, and made the Columbian celebration one of the most gratifying ever held in the beautiful and fertile Beaver valley. The management and people of Danbury are subjects of congratulations.

There was a large attendance and a splendid time enjoyed at the celebration in I. W. Spaulding's grove on the Willow, at which place and at Box Elder, the people of that entire section met en masse and enjoyed themselves in the usual way with speeches, singing, basket picnics etc. THE TRIBUNE is pleased to hear that everything passed off in a most satisfactory manner at both of these celebrations on the Willow.

A severe wind and some hail accompanied the rain of Saturday afternoon in the neighborhood of W. J. Relp and N. J. Johnson, southwest of the city. Only a narrow strip was effected, but crops were pretty badly damaged in some cases and many windmills were blown down. McClain & Nichols were putting a well down on the Relp place and their machine and apparatus was blown over and damaged considerably. (A few feet more and the well would have been completed.) The wind is described as having been unusually strong.

Miss Nettie Heis of South McCook left for Kansas recently ostensibly on a visit to relatives, but really to wed the man of her choice, not living in the sunflower state. It seems that Miss Nettie has been corresponding with the man who is now her husband for some time, but her mother objected to her marrying him on such acquaintance. So Miss Nettie had to resort to a little strategy with above result.

There are not a few indications that Mayor Brewer's city council is getting out of the mayor's control, and that a majority of the gentlemen composing the councilmanic body are disposed to do about the right thing whether such action is approved by the mayor or not. Which is manly and commendable.

For some reason or other quite a number of our citizens are not very enthusiastic about attempting to secure the location of the county fair here, this fall, especially.

At the Harris Hardware you can get a Sewing Machine a good one from $20 to $45 with the company's guarantee for five years.

The Driewood flume of the Meeker irrigation ditch was slightly damaged by the heavy rains, last week.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS.

This department of the McCook society's work will be written up each week by the chairman of the press committee.

Regular meeting of this society, each Sunday evening at 7 o'clock at the Lutheran church. Strangers and others are always cordially welcomed. Miss Boucher will lead the meeting Sunday evening.

The Junior C. E. under the able superintendency of Mrs. Corey is increasing in interest every week. They meet every Sunday afternoon at 6 o'clock.

While these words are being read the great International Convention of Christian Endeavor societies at Montreal, Can., will be in session. The attendance is expected to put to shame even that magnificent demonstration of over 35,000 delegates at New York, last year.

The Colorado delegation passed through here on No. 6 Monday, en route to the Convention. They will consolidate at Chicago with the Nebraska delegation, leaving there on a special train. It is hardly necessary to state that not many of them will stop at Chicago.

This society is arranging a special musical temperance program, which will be given in the Lutheran church, Sunday evening, July 16th, at eight o'clock. Extensive preparations are being made and we are assured it will eclipse anything of the kind ever held here. Extra seats will be provided to accommodate all.

The action of the United society in asking permission to withdraw its exhibit at the world's fair, if the fair was to be opened on Sunday, is every where commended by loyal Endeavorers. The petition to Congress of the delegates at the New York convention, to close the gates on Sunday, was no child's play, and, if I mistake not, the reason the directory will have when they come to count the cost will be "We didn't no it was loaded."

President Clark, (or as he is called by his enthusiastic Endeavorers, "Father Clark,") will arrive in this country, this week, from his tour around the world in the interest of Christian Endeavor. He has been away nearly a year, making speeches in China, Australia, India, Turkey and other countries and has awakened deep and wide-spread interest in the movement. New societies have been formed and the old ones stimulated to renewed zeal; great good has been done. His annual address will be delivered before the convention at Montreal on Saturday afternoon.

Coleman Precinct.

Two fine showers last week.

The way corn is growing is a caution.

Mrs. Wm. Coleman with Maud and Roy spent the 4th near Haigler.

Miss Dora Lawrence spent the 4th with Miss Bertie Coleman at the old homestead.

There is preaching at the Coleman school house every two weeks. Next Sabbath is the day.

Those two farmers that quit plowing their corn two weeks ago wish now they had kept right at it.

At the ice cream festival in the western part of this town, Saturday night, one hundred and forty were present.

Mr. J. H. Warfield of Grant, Iowa, was viewing these magnificent farm lands, Wednesday, and selected a quarter for a home.

At the Coleman school house Sabbath school is held every Sabbath and has been all winter. It is evergreen and does not wither or dry up or die out.

By reason of dry weather in the early part of the season the crop of mulberries is light, hence the daily rations of Uncle Billy is shortened to two quarts per day.

Every Sabbath at three o'clock in the afternoon the neighbors, old and young, gather at some residence and spend two hours singing and thus the new comers become acquainted.

Mr. J. W. Wrightsman of Waverly, Ill., was looking over this town, Wednesday, and he said it was the finest country he had ever seen, and thought it good enough for any one to live in. Uncle Billy was showing him the country.

At the close of her school, two weeks since, Miss Edith Coleman treated the scholars and friends to an ice cream supper. It was so highly appreciated that ninety-seven sat down to supper. Every body was welcome and enjoyed the occasion richly. It is a cold day when the friends in Coleman precinct don't turn out on such occasions and have a good time and thus become better acquainted with each other.

Mr. Lee Taylor, since purchasing a fine half section here, last fall, has built a fine frame residence 24x26 feet in size and fourteen feet high, a small barn, sunk a well and had a wind mill erected, fenced eighty acres for pasture and broken up and planted to corn one hundred acres, and planted out quite a large orchard, and planted a crop on about forty acres of old land. Now Lee is a worker, but had it not been for that energetic little wife it is doubtful if he had accomplished more than half as much.

Zora Clark and mother were the guests of George J. Burgess and family over Sunday. Mr. Clark was formerly in the Burlington's employ at Arapahoe and on western division. He is now in the Missouri Pacific service and located at Gray's Summit, a suburb of St. Louis.

J. W. Hupp sojourned with us in the metropolis briefly, Saturday.

E. R. Curtis and family arrived home from their Illinois visit, this noon.

Miss Pearl Brewer went down to Holdrege, Monday on 6, to visit friends.

S. H. Colvin hid him away to Denver, Tuesday, on a little business-pleasure jaunt.

Colonel Frank H. Selby came up from Cambridge, last evening, on business of the law.

President Titus of the First National bank of Holdrege was up on business, Wednesday.

Mrs. J. W. Dolan was up from Indianola, Saturday, guest of her sister Mrs. E. C. Burkett.

Banker Frost of Bartley tarried in the busy swirl of metropolitan life, Monday, for a brief while.

Mrs. J. B. McCabe left on 6, Tuesday, for Lincoln, where she will make her home in the future.

Dr. W. V. Gage expects his mother to arrive in the city in the near future to make her home here with him.

Fowler and Justin Wilcox arrived home on the noon train, yesterday, from their visit to the world's fair and other points in Illinois. Their families will not return for some time.

Dr. B. B. Davis expects, early in August, to leave for Europe on an extended absence for study and recreation. Mrs. Davis will accompany him. They will be away a number of months.

Floyd Welborn dropped off 6, Monday evening, from Denver, on his way to spend the Fourth with the home folks at Indianola. He is employed in the offices of the Colorado Fuel Co. at Denver.

Miss Carrie Smith arrived in the city, last night, from Illinois on her way to California. Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Mecker met her at Holdrege. Miss Smith will spend some time here.

The following appeared in the Independent Enterprise, of July 6, 1893:

"The stockholders of the Farmers and Merchants Bank which closed its doors last week announce that they are willing to be held individually responsible to depositors and will be able to pay up in full."

It should have read the stockholders of the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Red Cloud, Nebraska. We make this statement to prevent any reflection being cast upon the Farmers and Merchants Bank of this city.

C. W. LINDSAY,
Manager Independent Enterprise.

"In days gone by the popular cry which was raised by cyclists was against the road hogs. At the present time it is not out of place for the citizens to raise a popular cry against the cycle hogs. It makes me boil to see one of these young and inexperienced rattle-brain would-be scorchers, all doubled up like an inch worm suffering with the cholera, tear along our crowded streets with his nose in close proximity with his front tire, a veritable modern juggernaut. If every decent wheelman only knows what is good for the sport he will assist the authorities in crushing out this growing evil. I do not like to pose as a chronic kicker, but in these days of cheap second-hand wheels and the introduction to cycling of irresponsible boys and reckless hoodlums, it is entirely in play and perfectly proper to call attention to these pests who threaten the good name of our sport.—In Outing for July.

The board of education was in regular session, Monday evening. The treasurer's report showed the financial condition of the district to be good—about $4,000 in the treasury. It was developed that there are enough children in South McCook to fill two buildings as large as the one located there now, and there is some talk of building another house in that part of town. It was also decided to put a new steam heating plant in the east ward building and Cambell, Ritchie and Oyster were named the committee to purchase and oversee the installation of the same. In addition to Supt. Valentine, whose election was announced some weeks since, the committee on text books and teachers reported the selection of the following teachers at the salaries stated: Miss Rachel Berry, principal east ward building, $75; Prof. Charles Yont, principal west ward, $60; Miss Ella Allison $60; Mrs. M. J. Cordeal, primary, $55; Miss Amelia Wille, primary, $55; Mrs. Frank Brown, $50; Miss Edna Meserve, $50; Miss Nora Stroud, $50; Mrs. Mary Duffey, $50; Mr. J. H. Fowler, $40; Miss Augusta Hunt, $40. In the event of Miss Wille failing to accept, a Mrs. Snow is recommended for her place. The above list will give the McCook schools an unusually strong corps of teachers.
