There is a very general impression among merchants and others who are particularly interested in the subject this neighborhood says the Ithica News, wrote to the first assistant postmaster general asking for information, and received a reply giving the decision of Judge Thayer, December 14th, 1889, on the wording of a postal card that was mailable and one that was not. The mailable one reads: "Please call due, and for which our collector has called several times, and oblige." The unmailable one reads: "You owe me one dollar and eighty cents. We have called several times for same. If not paid at once we shall place it with law agency for collection." The last sentence, it is stated, ruled out this communication. Postal cards are not mailable if they contain language of a threatening character, and it is a very serious threat to average man to tell him that
