The Doctors practice extends over a wide territory and it takes something above the average powers of endurance to stand such riding.

J. W. Simpson started for Omaha this week taking with him Annie T. and Lucy D. which will be put in training on the Omaha track.

Not in the history of North Platte has there been a more fitting matrimonial alliance than was consummated in the union of Will McDonald and Minnie Belton on Wednesday afternoon last, the 16th inst.

The contracting parties are among our most highly esteemed people, both having lived in the county from childhood.

Mr. McDonald is a young man of irreproachable character, fine business capacity and unsullied reputation, at present the cashier in his father's bank.

The lady of his choice is the daughter of Hon. James Belton and is one of North Platte's most gifted and accomplished young ladies.

Having the advantage of a thorough education, she possesses those rare qualities in an eminent degree characteristic of the true lady—refinement and a gentle disposition.

The gathering of invited guests present was brilliant and large. Those present from abroad were Mrs. J. E. Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Bierbower, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McConnell, and Mr. J. H. Harberg, all of Omaha.

The presents were numerous and magnificent, among them two deeds for city property, and a large number from school mates and friends in the east.

After the ceremony an excellent collation was spread, to which all did ample justice. The bride and groom left for Denver on the night train intending to spend eight or ten days in the mountains.

Mr. Evans, Reviver Shannon's daughter, received Saturday evening a box containing a large valuable and historic collection of Indian relics and curiosities from Dakota that she had stowed away there.

The streets are quite dusty and suggest strongly the need of water works. An improvement of that kind would be a grand luxury, but it is questionable if the city is yet wealthy enough to stand the expense.

Although quite dry, farmers report crops of all kinds growing finely and looking well. While there are no hot winds, crops will stand a long drought without material injury, being in readiness to boom ahead when rain comes.

The funeral took place yesterday afternoon from the Methodist church, attended by a large number of friends.

J. D. Buckley of Greeley, Colo., one of the proprietors of the North Platte Irrigation & Land company, is in the city. Mr. B. is the engineer of the company and is looking at the feasibility of bringing the water from the canal down through the city. The scheme promises no difficult engineering problems.

Maxwell Items.

The exhibition given at the school house on last Saturday night was very well attended and was a very pleasant entertainment.

Section Boss Dolan has lumber on the ground and the frame nearly completed for the new dwelling on his homestead.

R. C. Burke and wife, having spent the first week of their wedded life with his parents living south of North Platte, started on Tuesday evening last for Montpelier, Idaho, to visit Mr. B's sister.

They will "take in" the cities of Denver, Ogden and Salt Lake, and return some time early in July. Bob is our night operator and has a host of friends here.

May the shadows of the happy couple never grow less.

The smile of the granger has vanished and his countenance grows longer as the dry weather continues.

School closed at the station on Friday of last week. Miss Eleanor Bain the teacher after spending a few days with friends here, left on Thursday eve for Nebraska City, where she will visit a sister.

From there she will go to her home in Kansas City. Miss B. has surely earned her vacation and we hope it may be as pleasant as she is deserving.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH.

Miss Fannie Shrader Found Dead in a Canyon Near Logan.

On Wednesday evening last Miss Fannie Shrader, daughter of C. D. Shrader, one of the pioneer settlers of Logan county, left her father's home on horseback for the purpose of taking a ride.

Some time after, the horse returned home without the rider. Search was immediately instituted and kept up all night. Thursday morning Fannie was found in a canyon dead.

Our informant had no particulars, but it is supposed she had been thrown from the horse.

Miss Shrader was fifteen or sixteen years old, and a bright promising young lady. Her death has cast a gloom over all the people of the neighborhood, and is a severe shock to the afflicted parents and family.

THE BRIDGE CONTRACT LET.

Bids for building the North River bridge were opened last Tuesday and the contract awarded to John L. Means of Grand Island, he being the lowest bidder.

The bids were as follows: Raymond & Campbell per foot, $10.50; G. F. Fox & Co. per foot, 7.65; Geo. H. Jewett per foot, 7.00; Geo. H. Jewett per foot, 6.95; S. S. Goff per foot, 6.84; J. L. Means per foot, 6.79.

The estimated length of the bridge is 2,000 feet, but it will probably exceed that distance slightly, making the cost of the bridge exclusive of approaches, about $14,000.

This is considerably more than the estimated cost of the structure and exceeds the amount of bonds one thousand dollars, the specifications calling for a much heavier bridge than at first contemplated.

ORANGE BLOSSOMS.

Marriage of Mr. Wm. H. McDonald and Miss Minnie Belton.

Not in the history of North Platte has there been a more fitting matrimonial alliance than was consummated in the union of Will McDonald and Minnie Belton on Wednesday afternoon last, the 16th inst.

THE BRIDGE BONDS SOLD.

$400 Premium.

Bids for the sale of the Lincoln county bridge bonds were received at the office of the county clerk up to noon of yesterday.

The representatives of the different bidders being present, after some discussion it was agreed to sell the bonds at auction.

The Colonial and United States Mortgage company opened the bidding at par, which was raised by the Omaha Loan & Trust company, and then run up a notch higher by Switzer & Co. of Toledo, Ohio.

The C. & U. S. M. Co. then dropped out and a spirited contest commenced between the Omaha and Toledo companies, each bidding a fraction over the other until the Toledo folks made it an even $400.

This being the highest bid made, the bonds were declared sold to Switzer & Co. for $13,400, the face of the bonds being $13,000, in accordance with an agreement which appears elsewhere in the commissioner's proceedings, word not yet having been received that the bonds are registered. This is pretty good for American desert bonds.

Our Schools.

The present term of school will close on the twenty-fifth inst. In the afternoon of this day there will be a public examination, or an exhibit of the daily work done during the year.
