A GRAND SUCCESS!
Crystal Ice, Crystal Ice,
From Well Water!
I desire to inform the public that I will this winter put up from 2,000 to 3,000 tons of PURE CRYSTAL ICE free from all dirt or sediment, pumped from the second water bearing strata. This ice will be a boon to the people of North Platte, who, until my attempt last summer, (and I did not have enough to last through the summer) have been supplied with river ice, which is always full of dirt and seldom free from something worse. I shall spare no effort to serve everybody with promptness and impartiality, at reasonable prices.
Yours respectfully,
Wm. EDIS.

STILL IN THE RING!

Our much abused stock, although cart-loads have been sold therefrom, remains complete, sufficiently so satisfy even the most fastidious. We feel safe to say we have outdone our competitors two to one and still have ample to supply even more than the demands will require. We are still too HEAVILY STOCKED and must dispose of some of the overload at once. In order to do so and do it readily, we will make you such prices as will compel you to buy. Note this and bear it in mind that we will forfeit FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS now deposited in the First National Bank if any competitor in the city of North Platte will undersell us. They dare not, they cannot, they will not, and why? Simply because we are manufacturers and can sell you goods at the prices they buy for if we choose. This we intend doing for Six Days

While prospecting for water in a branch of the Frenchman twelve miles east, and five miles south of Sterling last Sunday evening, Will Thum struck what he supposed to be a dead wolf, or some domestic animal, but upon further investigation he found it to be the head of a person. Upon further investigation he found the entire body of a man. The body was covered up and word brought to Sterling to Coroner Martin. He started from here about ten o'clock Monday morning and had a jury summoned and held an inquest Monday evening. The jury's verdict was that the man came to his death by a blow at the hand of unknown parties. The unfortunate man was five feet nine inches in height, dark complexion, heavy dark beard and brown hair. He weighed about one hundred and fifty pounds, and was of rather slender build. So complete and dastardly was the attack made by the party or parties who did the killing that it seems they were not satisfied with crushing in the side of his head, but cut two horrible gashes in his throat, each severing his windpipe. His outside clothing was then taken off, a blanket wrapped around the body, a strap and also one around his feet. A hole was then dug in the sand near the creek and the body placed therein and covered up. There being about six inches of sand on top of the body. Mr. Thum noticed that there, and supposed it to be a place where he had dug and found water some time ago. Thus it was by mere accident that he found the body of this unfortunate man, the cause of his death is as mysterious as the finding was accidental. About ten rods from where the body was found, and a short distance from the road leading from Hyde, were evidences of a fire and upon closer examination a piece of partly burned cloth was found which showed plainly that the man's clothes had been burned. A few feet from where the clothing had been burned was found a gravelly spot which was found to be mixed with blood. From all evidence the body had been buried about eight days. The supposition is that the man had camped there and was killed for his team and what other effects he may have had. The county should offer a reward for the capture of the murderer, or murderers, at once.—Logan county Col., Record.

The body of Irvin Windsor, the 14 year old son of Mr. E. E. Windsor was laid to rest in the Ogallala cemetery yesterday. His death occurred in a singular though not unheard of manner, which from all the information that can be obtained at this time was about as follows: Mr. Windsor in company with other neighbors who were assisting, was engaged during the forenoon Tuesday in repairing a pump which made it necessary to send some one to water the horses, at a well, not far distant, which is located within an enclosure, fenced with barbed wire. The boy Irvin, was placed upon a horse, and the halter straps of two mules given him. Upon the horse he rode was a halter, the strap of which he held in his hand, the other being used to hold the mules. While going to the well the mules and horse he rode, it appears became unmanageable and a runaway occurred. It is supposed that while going at great speed the horse he rode collided with the barbed wire fence, throwing the boy and falling upon his body. He was found by Mrs. Windsor, his step mother in an unconscious state about twenty minutes after he started to water the horse and mules. Dr. Line was summoned, who upon arriving exerted every means in his power to bring him to consciousness, but without avail, as he died about 2 o'clock, five hours after he was injured.—Ogallala News.

Perkins county, it appears from a comparison of the official vote in the several precincts, is Republican by a majority of 238. That has the sound of success about it, don't it? Woodson is the only one Democratic. Logan is nearly a stand-off, the Republicans having a margin of one. Madrid and Liberty are the strongest, the former having a majority of 62 and the latter a majority of 67.—Grant Enterprise.

Bogg's Cherry Cough Syrup
Will relieve that cough almost instantly and make expectoration easy. Acts simultaneously on the bowels, kidneys and liver, thereby relieving the lungs of that soreness and pain and also stopping that tickling sensation in the throat by removing the cause. One trial of it will convince any one that it has no equal on earth for coughs and cold. A. F. Streitz has secured the sale of it and will guarantee every bottle to give satisfaction.

On Thursday morning Lawrence Hazen, who lives on Lawrence Forks, arrived in Sidney to summon a physician to attend his wife, who had taken an overdose of strychnine about 6 o'clock that morning with suicidal intent. Dr. Field accompanied him home, but on arrival they learned from friends that the poison had done its fatal work about 9 o'clock. Coroner Cotter was notified and went out and viewed the remains, but thought it unnecessary to hold an inquest, as the cause of her death was conclusively shown. The deceased was young and pretty and had only been married since last January, but has been in a despondent state of mind for some weeks past. The remains were brought to town, and will be buried this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Methodist church.—Telegraph.

The passengers of the plague ship Alesia were turned loose in New York the past week. They growled terribly over their detention, but the fact remains that they should never have come. The 60,000,000 people have some rights as well as they. The few hundred immigrants, who will endanger the whole land are no addition of real value. If the plague is not introduced into the United States the coming year it will not be because the authorities of New York are in even a small way doing their duty to the people of the Nation. Business by vessels from infected foreign ports should be closed, and at once. No fumigations of baggage can or will prevent the dread disease.

The general of the army, in his annual report, favors an increase of the army by 5,000 men and the extension to the state militia of all the facilities necessary to its development into efficient soldiery. Probably both suggestions are good, and certainly the latter is timely. If the regular army was increased enough to establish efficient posts at the large and important cities, it would result in an increased business confidence and allay to a considerable extent the fear of violence in the face of anarchistic preachings and general strikes. The national government can well afford, also, to extend to the states all the encouragement and aid necessary to regular encampments, and thus promote a harmony between the volunteer soldiery of the country and the regular army. General Sheridan's ideas on this subject will receive wide popular approval and ought to command the attention of congress.

The Alarm, the Anarchist paper formerly edited by Parsons, is still in existence and is still howling for a "free press." There is a "free press" in this country now. It consists of independent, reputable and progressive journals which give all the news and express all the opinions which may be properly expressed without defaming personal character or undermining organized society. When a paper defames character it is responsible under the law, when it attacks society it is responsible to public opinion, and when it incites murder and the destruction of property it is responsible to the criminal courts. The "free press" of the country demand these conditions for its own protection against depredations of irresponsible and guerrilla papers.

"When the entries were reached Mr. Depeus was sounded on the labor question. "The hour and the man will arrive," said he, "in which and by which this exciting labor question will be solved. As the result of my long observation in the employment of a small army of men, I may give my opinion that the two main elements of success in life. The two great anti-poverty influences are industry and sobriety. I have in mind a record of the men who started in life with me nearly fifty years ago. All those who were sober and economical own their own homes and are happy and independent citizens. Those who drank and lacked industry are dead or dead broke. One tenth of the labor employed in this country is employed by the railroads. The corporations do not gobble the entire gross receipts as some labor agitators try to make people believe. The receipts of the New York Central this year will be $34,000,000. Of this sum $12,000,000 will go for wages, $3,000,000 for taxes $1,000,000 for repairs and supplies and the balance will be divided among the stockholders."—New York Star.

What has been called "typhoid fever" has been prevailing for a month past all over Southern and Central Ohio. The wisest physicians, however, assert that it is not "typhoid," but a fever resulting from the heat of the long summer and the protracted drought. The oldest inhabitant does not remember when water was so scarce. The last rains in all that section to amount to anything were in June. The sickness, while it has frightened the people and caused them to use extra precautions in boiling all the water used, has not been of a fatal character, and doubtless will speedily disappear with a change of weather.

Last Sunday morning a stock train pulled into the Curtis yard with thirty-one cars loaded with live stock, from Sterling, Col., consigned to a banker at Holdrege. The train was stuck in two at this place and made two stock trains to Holdrege out of Curtis. There were seven cars of horses and twenty-four of cattle. This is a heavy shipment and one of note.
—Courier

The Denver Republican says: "The buffet Pullman cars which will soon be put on the Union Pacific fast trains for active use will be the first ever practically run west of the Missouri river. The Kansas Pacific trains have been supplied with these cars for two years, but they have not been really utilized because the time of the trains has given the passengers opportunity to get their meals at stations."

The electric machinery and steam heating apparatus for the Kearney Roller mills has arrived and will soon be put in position. A night force will be put on as soon as the machinery is in and the mill run to its full capacity. Orders for the product of this mill are already received that will keep it running continually for a month.—New Era.

The election of Belden in the twenty-fifth Congressional District of New York, puts a good Republican in the seat made vacant by the promotion of Hiscock to the senate. The election in the second Rhode Island district gives the Republicans an additional member of congress, and the election of a Republican legislature in New Jersey insures a Republican successor to Senator McPherson.
