

Call for Committee Meeting.

There will be a meeting of Lincoln County Republican Central Committee held at my office in North Platte, January 21st, 1888, at 2 o'clock p. m. It is desired to have every precinct in the county represented, as business of importance will be acted upon. If the committee cannot come, send a proxy.

J. I. MERRITT, Chairman.

The public schools opened Tuesday after a ten days vacation, with the usual attendance.

Nellie Boyd appears in "Passion's Slave" at the opera house to-night. "Unknown" was presented to a fair house last night.

Train Dispatcher Gordon held ticket 962, the one which drew the bed room set at Conway & Keith's.

Mr. and Mrs. William Luke mourn the death of their boy, whose demise occurred Friday of last week, the funeral occurring Saturday.

There will be a lay service in Unitarian Hall, Sunday Jan. 10th, at 11 o'clock a. m. Sermon read by Mrs. L. C. Brown. All are welcome.

The holder of ticket No. 597 will receive the music box at McEvoy's on presentation of that ticket. Jas. Frazier held the card drawing the diamond pin.

An infant child of Mr. and Mrs. James Sawyer, residents of the North side, died Saturday and was buried Sunday. The parents have the sympathy of many friends in their affliction.

L. C. Bayer, who for seven years runs a barber shop in this city, started for the west the early part of the week on a search for a prohibition town. Louie, like many other young men, allowed whisky to get the best and he is now reaping a harvest of regret and misfortune.

The mean temperature for December, according to Observer Fitzgerald's report, was 23.5, which is a little below the average for the stated month during the past ten years. The highest temperature during the month was 36, on the 12th, and the lowest 18.2 degrees below zero on the 29th, the monthly range being 22.7 degrees. The total precipitation amounted to 80.100 inches.

What has become of our Medicine correspondent? THE TRIBUNE has a large number of subscribers who get their papers at Wellfleet and Laird. It seems that some one should be able to furnish us with the current news of their district. We are anxious to publish your local news, gentlemen, but we can't do so unless a correspondent furnishes the items.

At the B. of L. F. dance last Friday evening nearly one hundred couples participated in the grand march, and in square dances the managers experienced difficulty in finding room for all on the floor. The ball was a pleasant one and the participants expressed themselves as highly pleased with the treatment they received at the hands of the members of the fraternity.

Broeker & Baumbach, the merchant tailors vacated their apartments on Sixth street this week and are now occupying the room next to the postoffice. These gentlemen started in business about a year ago with experience as capital and by turning out first-class work have succeeded in building up an excellent trade. They are hard working, industrious men and their success is well earned. We wish them continued prosperity.

John Hawley, Grand Marshal of the State of Nebraska, installed the following officers of North Platte Legion No. 13, A. O. U. W. on Monday evening last: Select Vice Com.—Chas. Clinton; Select Lieut. Com.—Perry Sinton; Recorder—C. P. Dick; Rec. Treas.—N. Klein; Treas.—John Treacy; Past Com.—G. T. Snelling; Jun. Workman—S. I. Friend; Sen. Workman—Robert Vance; Guard—P. Walsh. The Legion is in a flourishing condition.

At the regular meeting of Walla Walla Lodge No. 56 I. O. O. F. Thursday evening, District Deputy C. W. Price installed the following officers for the ensuing term.

N. G.—Henry L. Walsh. V. G.—Chas. H. Stamp. Secy.—E. B. Warner. Per. Sec.—M. Oberst. Treat.—N. Klein. Cond.—A. O. Kocken. War.—H. Marti. R. S. N. G.—Chas. Pool. L. S. N. G.—J. R. Bangs. R. S. V. G.—Joseph Smallwood. L. S. V. G.—Phil Kleck. R. S. S.—J. T. Thomson. L. S. S.—E. J. Huntington. I. G.—W. S. Peniston. P. G.—J. E. Evans.

On the eve of Dec. 31st, 1887, a pleasant party assembled at Mrs. Gillett's to watch the dying of the year. Due solemnity was observed until the hour of 12 told the ending of the countless hopes, the disappointments, the joys and sorrows of the short life 1887, who 865 days ago was the recipient of the honors now about to be transferred to his successor. Another period in the paragraph of life. Having given the dead burial, the party now made a slight draft on Father Time for the first installment of the 336 prosperous days of the odd and even year 1888 which was honored at once. The party then sat down to the banquet, congratulating themselves on having successfully run the gauntlet. The ladies made the good resolution to lay in a supply of powder to stand off times advances, the gents gallantly offered to discharge the powder and take its place, which proposition will be taken under consideration by the ladies in secret session. The gathering then dispersed, all feeling the responsibilities of another year. The ladies to prepare for the conquest, the gentlemen to gracefully "die as a bird to the mountains."

For bed rock prices in groceries call on M. C. Harrington. If we go any lower we will strike gas.

Miss Jennie Adamson gave a dinner on New Years day to a number of friends. The repast was enjoyed and the company voted the affair one of the pleasantest of the season.

A party of young ladies "taking time by the forelock"—being leap year—made a number of calls, New Years day. Nothing stronger than courtesy being offered them.

There will be preaching in the Baptist church next Sunday evening at half past seven o'clock by the Rev. J. J. Keeler, Baptist General Missionary of Nebraska. All are invited to attend.

The holiday time is not only a joyous season generally, but especially is the matrimonial line in a lively condition. During the week ending December 31st, County Judge Snelling issued licenses authorizing eleven couples to be married.

Mr. E. H. Chambers, of Niobrara, and Miss Stella G. North, of Columbus, were married in the latter city on Tuesday. The bride is the only daughter of the late Major Frank North, well known in North Platte, and is a highly accomplished and esteemed lady.

Desiring to express their appreciation of his worth as a gentleman and a dentist, Revs. Adam Stump, John Hopkins and Father Conway have presented Dr. F. M. Gray an elegant volume of Harris' new work on dental surgery. Dr. Gray esteems the gift very highly, and desires to publicly express his thanks to the donors for their kind remembrance.

On Thursday evening, it being the seventeenth anniversary of their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Price entertained Mr. and Mrs. Lester Eells, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McGee, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Keith and Mr. Mrs. J. S. Hoagland. An elaborate dinner was spread, and the guests spent a very pleasant evening.

The friends of the Grand Army men should not forget the public installation of the officers of S. A. Douglas Post this evening. The names of the officers to be installed were published a couple weeks ago. After installation, memorial services will be held in honor of the late Comrade Jacob Laubenheimer.

An incident occurred last week that will mar the escutcheon of a young man whose name we did not learn and lessen the confidence of at least one man in human nature. The circumstances as we learn them are as follows: D. B. Dyer, of Ogallala, started six head of horses east in charge of a young man in whom he had confidence. The young man got as far as this place and putting five head of them in Stoddard's stable he concluded to "right about face." Remembering H. G.'s advice he acted the part of "go west."

Mr. Dyer by some means learned of the "slope" and watchful sentries of the law informed who halted and took him into custody at Julesburg, also recovering the horse. The young man has excellent chances for "going over the road."

The Telegraph takes THE TRIBUNE to task for opposing the holding of memorial services by the Grand Army to perpetuate the memory of the dead soldier. We did not use the definite article "the" in the sense as referring to the present case; but it's the practice in general we consider objectionable. As a rule, the services are not to perpetuate the memory. It is true that many pleasant things may be said of the deceased, and his virtues can be extolled, but the whole exercise partakes more of a "House of Sorrows" than that of eulogy and remembrance. The relatives appear in deep mourning. The chair of the deceased is draped with the same emblem of sorrow; the room and the members also. The whole scene is solemn and silent as the funeral obsequies. The speakers allude in words of tenderest eloquence to the record and goodness of the deceased. The tender, loving and affectionate feelings of the mourners are touched and the scene is soon one of sorrow and weeping. If this is not a repetition of the funeral, an intensification of grief, a raking open of love's dearest memories, what is it? We believe in all honor and respect to the dead, but we do not believe in three or four funerals.

Mortuary Statistics. Undertaker Warner has kindly furnished us with the following mortuary report: Deaths in 1887.....23 Males.....18 Females.....5 Under 5 years.....14 Between 5 and 10.....10 Between 10 and 20.....2 Between 20 and 30.....6 Between 30 and 40.....4 Between 40 and 50.....2 Between 50 and 60.....3 Over 60.....1 Six of the above were non-residents from 10 to 43 years of age who had not resided in the city over 20 days, two deaths were accidental.

OMAHA, Jan. 3.—Changes in roadmasters on the Nebraska division of the Union Pacific were announced this morning from Superintendent Bickenderfer's office as follows: Mr. F. Holbrook, first roadmaster's district; Vice A. McEvoy transferred and L. Learnmonth resigned with jurisdiction from Council Bluffs to Grand Island main line, not including Grand Island, taking effect December 1st, 1887. Mr. Dan Coughland, second roadmaster's district, Vice P. Dolan, transferred with jurisdiction from Grand Island to North Platte, and Omaha and Republican Valley branches north, not including North Platte yard, taking effect January 1, 1888. Mr. A. Guyer, third roadmaster's district, Vice J. Fitzgerald, resigned, with jurisdiction from North Platte to Cheyenne, taking effect Jan. 1st 1888. The Burlington, commencing next Sunday, will change the time of its passenger train No. 39, which now leaves Kansas City at 7:35 p. m., to leave 9:55 p. m., after the arrival of the trains from the south and east. It will run via St. Joe, connect at Oxford with the train which leaves Omaha at 6:15 a. m., and reach Denver at 10 p. m., for Utah and Colorado connections.—Denver News.

PEOPLE AND EVENTS.

Ed. Streitz went to Omaha on Wednesday to be gone a month or six weeks.

W. A. Paxton came up on No. 1 Wednesday morning going west in the evening.

Wun Lung a highly educated Celestial passed through enroute to the Flowsky kingdom this week.

Frank H. Adams, of Plum Creek, formerly connected with the Hinman House, spent Sunday with friends in this city.

Miss Bettie Graves returned Sunday morning from Council Bluffs where she spent Christmas and the week following.

Miss Joe Krier, who had been visiting her friend Miss Lola Gillett, left for her home in Plum Creek Monday morning.

Arthur McNamara returned Tuesday from Omaha, where he went on Friday of last week. He reports a very pleasant stay in Nebraska's metropolis.

H. H. Hosford, Prof. of Latin in Doan College, Crete, returned after spending the holidays at home here, on the 22d to Crete to resume his duties.

Miss Annie Warner who for the past two months has been with the Conway Sisters left for her home in St. Joe, Mo., on Monday's No. 2. The many friends she has made in North Platte regret her going.

The jolly countenance and rosy figure of State Agent Babcock, of the Underwriters' Agency, was visible in the city Sunday and Monday. Mr. B. has many friends in North Platte and they are always glad to greet him.

Miss Blanche Buckworth went to Omaha Monday to resume her studies at Brownell Hall. Her sister Miss Belle, who is also attending the same school, was taken sick last week and was detained here several days after school had opened.

Dr. R. E. Holbrook, made a flying visit to Laramie City last week. He thinks Laramie will out do Cheyenne. The glass manufacturing company are adding a bottle making department to their all ready extensive works.

Miss Charity Babcock, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Eells for a week past, left for her home in Omaha last evening. Miss Babcock is a charming young lady and during her several visits in this city has made many warm and lasting friends who will anxiously await another visit to our city.

Jack Noble, well known to many of our readers, came down on Wednesday morning from Cheyenne. Mr. Noble is in charge of Winsor and Cobles ranch on the head of the Chug in Wyoming. He said "we have large amount of hay in the case cattle—what numbers about 1,800 head—need feed; they are in large pastures and the grass is fine, nothing having been allowed to graze on it during the summer, we also have weaned all calves that were large enough, they are doing tip-top. The winter so far has been very good on range cattle, there having been enough snow to afford "wetness" during the cold weather." Mr. N. is on his road to visit his old home near Burlington, Iowa and will return to Cheyenne in a month or six weeks.

RAILROAD MELANGE.

Billy Cutler, a fireman from the Julesburg branch, was down this week.

Engine 1019 from Denver was down on the Division between here and Sterling.

John Brigham who used to fire between here and Sidney is now running an engine on the Division between Sidney and Cheyenne.

On the 1st the 944, Engineer John Strahorn, "climbed a frog" while taking a side track on the branch. No damage beyond loss of time.

The order reducing the days work from ten to nine hours went into effect on Tuesday the 3d. The boys have lots of work to do so they are worked several nights during the week.

Xmas, New Years and the cold snap together gave several of the boys "holiday fever" and new men on the road were at a premium. Two wipers were elevated to the position of fireman.

Engineer W. T. Chadwick has been assigned to pull the "Flyer" on the branch between Denver and Julesburg. This train is a flyer indeed, for it makes about fifty miles an hour.

Charlie Hall has, during the rush, made two very good records that, while not remarkable for anything except "getting over the road" are instances that are not often seen in rushes. Last week he left Sidney for Cheyenne and during the 24 hours doubled back to Sidney and out again to Cheyenne. This week, he accomplished the three times over the Division in 24 hours between here and Sidney.

On the 26th of December, as train No. 18, Conductor McKonn, Engineer Woodward, was coming down from Sterling, Colo., four miles west of Hif a bunch of cattle attempted to cross the track just ahead of the engine. The consequence they were struck and the engine completely turned over. Fortunately no loss of life took place. Engineer Woodward had his back hurt.

Another railroad to this section of the country. The Missouri has filed articles of incorporation and propose to build a road from Crete—the present terminus—to the northwestern part of the State, through Pilmore, Clay, Adams, Phelps, Dawson, Lincoln and Keith, thence northward through Cheyenne, Dawes and Sioux counties. Where their western terminus will be, is to us, not known, but from present indications it seems they intend finding at outlet into the mineral coal and oil fields and the stock country north-west of us. By following up the proposed line they will open up an immense country rich, in agricultural possibilities, beside the country that is now a great and growing grain producer. We are told by an authority that we consider good, that as soon as spring permits, work will be pushed.

Hay is cheaper at 50 cents per bale of 125 pounds each than $5 a ton loose. Order it as you need it one bale at a time from M. C. HARRINGTON.

CATCHES FOR LADIES.

Good Opening for Members of the Fairer Sex.

This being leap year, the ladies, according to an old custom, are permitted and entitled to pop the question, and at the request of many marriageable gentlemen THE TRIBUNE places before the female portion of the public a partial list of North Platte gentlemen who are considered and have declared themselves to be "in the market."

F. A. Fort, dealer in real estate, aged thirty, height five feet ten inches, weight 160, self-made man, fine conversationalist, has loved and lost oftener than he has toes, but is willing to try to love again.

N. W. McGee, real estate and loan agent, age thirty-five, good height and well proportioned, fine looking domestic ally inclined, excellent business qualifications and reasonably pious.

J. H. McKinley, dry goods salesman, age 37, height five feet nine, blonde, disposition kind and gentle and is always dressed in a bland smile and a neat tie; can be approached without ceremony.

C. P. Ross, civil engineer, age 26, height five feet five inches, full beard, rather military in bearing, fine conversationalist, has loved frequently but is now heart whole and fancy free: will make a model husband.

Arthur McNamara, teller in First National Bank, age 20, blonde, elegant petite figure, has the reputation of being the "sweetest boy" in town and regarded as a great catch; is not engaged but will no doubt shortly submit to wives of the fair angels; application should be made at once; he is too popular to remain on an open market very long.

L. F. Simon, resident manager of the Palace clothing company, jovial, light hearted, and capable of telling a good story; no danger of blues in a family of which he is the head; average in appearance, pretty well fixed financially; is said to be engaged to a Chicago young lady but yet there is a chance if the opportunity is embraced at once.

Wm. B. Risse, attorney, commanding figure, weight 210, blonde, bright and will make a shining mark; is one of the handsomest men in town, cannot be caught with chaff, but is worth the effort to secure.

R. Henry Repath, clerk in U. S. land office, polished manners, fluent talker, fine form, age 26, height 150, English by birth, not inclined to settle down in life but could probably be domesticated.

E. H. Edson, train dispatcher, braggart, average height and weight, age 23, is awfully tired of hotel fare and would like to have a nice wife and a home of his own; plenty time to devote to domestic affairs; has a strong view of morality and occasionally attends church; a deserving young man.

A. D. Williams, clerk in Register Neville's office, age 19, rather tall and not very heavy; rather bashful but knows how to appreciate the fair sex; wears a moustache possessing a wealth of possibilities; the lady who succeeds in capturing him will have a prize.

Jno. M. Dyer, good figure, age 27, has a banking for journalistic honors and will some day perhaps occupy the position of "leader" writer on a metropolitan daily; wears a full molasses colored beard; rather diffident and should be approached carefully.

Ralph States, railroad conductor, age 25, good figure and handsome face; very popular with the ladies; said to be spoken for but the rumor may be unfounded; very dutiful and will make an obedient husband.

R. L. Graves, clerk in railway office, age 23, five feet eight inches, weight 100; a young man of considerable dash and with the right kind of a wife will make a model citizen, has had a varied experience in affairs of the heart; is suspected of preferring a blonde with a snug bank account; application should be made at once.

James Doud, age 21, supposed height seven feet, weight 94 pounds, good first basemen, fine musician, regular habits, has plenty time to devote to making home happy; would make a congenial companion.

James Langley, machinist, age 26, short and heavy, English by birth, great talker, big heart and industrious; rather hard to approach but persistent angling will catch him; will make a dutiful husband.

Thos. O'Neal boiler maker, age 25, fine looking, good solid form, elegant moustache; noble and kind hearted; time for proposing limited; is well prepared to support a wife.

Will Kerr, blacksmith, age 23, light weight, has the disposition of an angel and is fond of society; wants a wife who can cook a dinner as well as play a piano; will favor a short engagement.

Frank Beaman, tinner, age 23, good figure, military moustache, very pious and will want his wife to attend church twice a day; a model young man and deserving a good helpmate.

George Wilson, pharmacist, age 23, five feet six inches, weight 135, can furnish prescriptions for his own family and obtain the drugs at wholesale cost, a young man of sterling worth and deserving a girl equally as good.

N. McCabe, physician, tall and well built, has seen 27 winters and not yet engaged; wears black clothes, an air of ineffable calm and a case of little pills; enjoys a good practice but can find time to take care of a wife.

P. J. Conway, dealer in hardware and furniture, age 26, excellent young man and is doing a good business in company with his partner Mr. Keith; loving disposition, is capable of filling into the meshes of any pretty girl's net; is one of the best catches in this list.

Will Vollmer, clerk in clothing house, age 23, good looking and fine disposition; possesses a cute little moustache which is daily growing larger; not very fond of society but can be caught after a good struggle.

C. S. Clinton, jeweler, age 24, exceedingly handsome, polished manner, affable and gentle; tends more to business than society, but is in the market; neat, tasty and will be an indulgent husband; will prove a fine ornament to a domestic hearth.

L. Rosenfeld, dealer in clothing, age 26, five feet seven inches, weight 160, good business man and wants a wife to spend his money on; is ready to accept any good offer; fine conversationalist; must be married this year or not at all.

M. H. Douglas engineer, age 27, built ala Jno. L. Sullivan, fond of society, good bank account, agreeable, kind hearted and will make a typical husband; rather inclined to marry a rich widow with no children.

W. W. White, engineer, age 30, fine figure, noble disposition, domestic in habits, will love any lovable girl and will ask that the engagement be short; applications should be made at once.

There are many others who are pining to be joined to a woman fair who have not handed in their names; they will be noticed in these columns later on.

The Odd Fellow's Annual Ball. It has been decided this year to give the annual Odd Fellows ball on Tuesday evening, February 21st. Usually this ball has taken place on Washington's birthday, but that being a holiday the lodge thought best to have the ball the evening previous, and then the gentlemen and the ladies attending could have a better opportunity to rest the next day.

In a financial point of view, last year's party was not satisfactory, and this season the old custom is resumed, it having been decided to give a masquerade. As it is likely this will be the first masked ball of the season, the costumes will be exceptionally fine and unique, the attendance large, and everyone anticipates that the enjoyment will be in proportion.

Those who have used the Cutting Packing Co's California canned fruits say they are the finest in the world, for sale by M. C. HARRINGTON.
