The Tribune.

STEVENS & BARE, EDITORS AND PUBLISHERS.

SATURDAY, MARCH 31, 1888.

D. W. Baker has laid the regulation sidewalk in front of his residence on Vine street.

J. N. Bickel has sold his place in Fairview and will move to new town to be established west of O'Fallon, where he will open a real estate office.

Up to yesterday morning the following assessor's books had not been taken from the county clerk's office: Spanuth, Well, Cottonwood, Buchanan, Nichols, O'Fallon and Garfield.

The storm evidently had a telling effect on the laying tendencies of hens, as there was a scarcity of eggs for several days this week. The famine in this product did not, however, raise the price.

We have made the announcement several times, but will do so once again for the benefit of those who are under a wrong impression. The Spring term of district court will not commence until the 11th of April.

C. C. Hawkins, who came in from the ranch Thursday, says the last storm was pretty rough on cattle, especially as the stock of feed is getting low and economy in this direction must be used. His cattle, however, have done well this winter, not losing a single head.

The county commissioners, in order to accommodate the people who have business before the board, will hereafter hold adjourned meetings on the first Monday in each month. There has been a demand for some time that meetings be held at stated periods.

Foley has decided to continue his sale today. The Tribune suggests that having prevented a good many coming in from the country who desired to do so. It is really astonishing what a large amount of goods a small amount of money will buy at this sale.

In the interest of economy and light taxes, THE TRIBUNE suggests that four feet be wide enough for plank sidewalks in the suburban portion of the city. This would make a saving of one fourth on the material, no small item where a man has several hundred feet to build.

The indications are that to-morrow will be a pleasant day and this religious journal suggests that the right and proper thing for its readers to do is to attend divine services. Sermons appropriate to the day will be delivered and attendants can be sure to be well entertained, as well as morally benefited. Special music will be rendered by the choirs of the different churches.

Mrs. Little Chief, the squaw of one of the Sioux chiefs belonging to Buffalo Bill's company, died in New York Monday. The squaw was taken sick in England and died at the residence of the Ridge Agency. Buffalo Bill generously put her and the chief on board a steamer bound for New York, but upon arrival there the woman was too sick to proceed any further and soon afterwards died.

Mrs. W. M. Hinman took the school census this year and from reports we judge she has done a thorough job. At the early part of the week she had found 897 children of school age, with a prospect that the number would be rounded out to more than a thousand. This is about 200 more than were found last year. It has paid well to employ a thorough census taker, the apportionment from the state fund being largely increased thereby.

Architect Thomson submitted full drawings and specifications for the jail to the county commissioners this week and it is needless to say that they are very fine, indicating that a first-class building will be put up, combining strength, convenience and exterior beauty. There being only a few members of the board present no action was taken. At the meeting Monday next, it is expected Mr. McAllister will be able to get over when the plans will likely be adopted.

THE TRIBUNE is not taking sides in the election of city officers and for members of the board of education, for the reasons which the candidates are of exceptional character and that the people are fully qualified to choose those whom they think will be best, and for the further reason that we expect to take a lively hand in the presidential and state campaigns, preferring to reserve our energies for that occasion.

The commissioners of Frontier county have decided not to grant a saloon license this year. This will not prevent saloons where there are organized saloons, as municipal authorities have exclusive control in such matters. Some of the "villages" appear very anxious to secure whiskey, judging from the fact that Eustis contains six sections of saloons within its limits. Isn't it strange to what expense and inconvenience people will go to secure a small quantity of the "critter"? But such is life in the far west.

A fire was discovered about 8 o'clock Wednesday morning in the upper story of the Pratt-Ormsby block on Front street, between the corner of Bratt's part of the building, occupied by Mr. Carter, a brakeman and extra conductor. It appears that Carter had gone out on the road leaving a hot fire burning, and a barrel of kerosene standing next to the stove. The kindling took fire and hence the miniature conflagration. The alarm was given and the fire department turned out promptly, but the fire was extinguished with buckets before the department could get ready for work. A hole was burned through the floor and the contents of the room were damaged some, the whole loss possibly amounting to 15 or 20 dollars.

The annual complaint comes up from the people living down towards Cottonwood about the condition of the road in the vicinity of Bratt's ranch. They complain that there is a lane one mile in length on the north side of which there is a tall fence, causing the snow to accumulate in the lane in great depths. There is no other passage, and when the snow is from two to four feet deep it is with difficulty a light span of horses can wade through. The claim is made that Mr. Bratt's fence is in the middle of the road, and if moved to the line there would be an improvement if not an entire removal of the difficulty. We believe there is some dispute about the line. If it is within the county of the county commissioners to remedy this matter, they should do so.

The storm that commenced Saturday night last was the worst we have had during the winter. We have had worse storms in this country by far, but this one coming so late in the season made it very bad on cattle. Commencing with a sleet, when the storm came they were thoroughly wet, and being generally in this flesh they were not in condition to stand the long continued chill. The fall of snow on the level must have been five or six inches, at first being heavy and compact, but the high wind of Sunday and Monday killed it badly, the temperature having fallen considerably lower. Country roads are in bad shape, almost impassable, and absolutely so for loaded teams. This condition of the roads may be expected to continue for some little time.

—Jesse Norton is clerking in the Palace clothing store, Frank Shepard having resigned.

—The genial and ever present old-timer, Gus Hess, was confined to the house the early part of the week by indisposition.

—Dr. Hingston says that Pat O'Hare rejoices over the arrival of a boy at his home. The youngster has evidently come to stay.

—Members of the hook and ladder company are requested to meet at the court house Wednesday evening next at eight o'clock sharp.

—Coaway & Keith have hung out from the side of their store one of the most gaudy signs in the city. Its position gives it prominence and can be seen from either end of Spruce street.

—The stock of the bankrupt shoe store was shipped back to Grand Island Wednesday and the gentleman who had charge of the concern will go on the road for a wholesale house.

—On account of the storm Capt. Baker's sale was postponed until Saturday next, Tuesday next, April 3d, when the sale is set for 10 a. m. See the advertisement elsewhere in this paper.

—The inimitable actress, Miss Kate Castleton will be at the opera house next Wednesday evening, appearing in her latest success "Crazy Patch." She is a charming actress and will be greeted by a large audience.

—Two young men had a quarrel over a social game of cards at Hupler's Thursday evening and resulted in one of them receiving a J. S. L. blow that sent him partly through the side window.

—A TRIBUNE reporter has been informed that the ladies will exercise their rights and take part in the election of the members of the school board at the election Tuesday. His informant stated that about 200 votes would be polled by the fair sex.

—Thacker has made some excellent improvements in his store lately, painting the paper and putting in a new ceiling. The papering of the ceiling is one of the best jobs we have seen, the work of Frank Peale, jr.

—A replevin case wherein Mr. Stoddard sought to recover possession of some mortgaged property held by one Leach, occupied the attention of the county court Thursday and a part of yesterday attracting considerable interest.

—Rev. Dr. Thompson, president of Malleu university called on us Saturday. Malleu is located at Bartley, six miles east of Culbertson in the Republican valley, a new town established and controlled by the Malleu people. At present the population is about 500, the village being two years old. The university is under the patronage of the Methodist church.

—Several of the engines on this branch are in a very bad shape. The one which brought the passenger train to the station was paralyzed by a boiler explosion and had to be started up with a pitch bar. The strike is very hard on the public, but harder on the men in the loss of wages and the company from loss of trade and ruined machinery.

—The report that Isaac Lamplugh had lost all his carp by reason of the water in the lakes freezing to the bottom, is incorrect. It is true, however, that the water supply of one of the lakes was cut off by muskrats cutting holes in the ditch, and the fish in that lake to the number of five thousand were frozen solid in the ice, but this does not embrace one-tenth of the catch in stock. Unfortunately the frozen fish were not discovered until the ice had thawed and the bodies exposed to the sun, else they would have been all right for table use, but as it was they were not.

Prof. Allen and County Superintendent Leonard returned from Fremont on Thursday night's train, highly pleased at the success of the teachers' association. Nearly every prominent educator in the state was present as well as institute workers of national reputation. The work assigned to Lincoln County's representatives was important and ably sustained. The papers taken down by Prof. Allwine showing the work he is doing in our schools received the warmest commendation. As critic and essayist, Mr. Langford made his mark, receiving warm congratulations. We were satisfied Lincoln county would be proud of her representation.

—The prices for Miss Castleton's engagement will be 75 cents and $1. There are many who will consider this unreasonable, but her business manager, Mr. Bradley, who was in town on Wednesday, remarked very justly that Miss Castleton had taken years of hard work to attain her present position. She is acknowledged to be the greatest comedienne now traveling and he says it would be hard if she could only command the same prices as "Uncle Tom's" "Georgia Minstrel's" &c. A dollar invested in the above will be well spent.—Ad.

—We have a street commissioner who receives a salary and if it is not a part of his duty to see that the ordinance relative to cleaning sidewalks is enforced, for we don't know what he is hired for. Some are very prompt in cleaning snow from the walks, but there are a few who were never known to do so. It is a small matter, but it is the coercion on the part of officials would do such people good. A small amount of invigorating exercise would improve their health. While on this subject we might as well growl at the men who clean sidewalks, for they are the most pleasant to paddle through two or three inches of mud and slush when a few moments work would clean it off. Such work would perhaps furnish employment to those who are waiting for work. That there is no fund for such use is no excuse. There should be a small contingent fund, and there is nearly always something in the poll fund. Clean the crossings.

—Never before were the farmers of Lincoln county in better spirits with reference to forthcoming crops. The snows of the past month have thoroughly soaked the ground and placed it in the best possible condition for starting small grains, giving them a vigorous and early start. Corn and potatoes, however, will occupy the most attention, being more profitable than wheat and oats. Potatoes have always brought a high price, at least a good price, proving to be one of the most profitable crops the farmer can raise. While the yield is not generally so great per acre as in some of the potato growing states, the quality is good, always commanding a ready sale. Of the products raised by the farmer, corn of course is the staple. "Corn is king." It makes fat beef, fat pork, fat poultry.—Indeed, as a rule, the prosperity of the farmer may be measured by the size of his corn crib. There will be thousands of acres planted this year where none were planted last. The onion crop is somewhat neglected. Judging from the demand, it must be profitable. If properly planted and cultivated, we are informed that it does reasonably well in this climate. There has never been enough raised in the county to supply the local demand, large quantities being shipped in from both Omaha and Denver. We should certainly raise enough for home consumption. There are a number of other crops that can be produced with profit. Diversified farming is the best.

EDS. TRIBUNE.—Please announce John Hawley as a candidate for the office of City Engineer, to be elected at the approaching municipal election. MARY VOTERS.

COUNCILMAN THIRD WARD. I hereby respectfully announce myself as a candidate for the office of councilman from the Third ward. N. KLEIN.

BOARD OF EDUCATION. I hereby announce myself a candidate for member of Board of Education. BUTLER BUCHANAN.

I would respectfully announce myself a candidate for re-election to membership of the Board of Education of the city schools. W. W. CONKLIN.

After repeated solicitation, I have consented to be a candidate for member of the Board of Education. B. I. HEMMAN.

I respectfully announce myself a candidate for member of the Board of Education for the school district of North Platte. JOHN BRATT.

Groceries, Grain, Feed and Flour. Delivered to any part of the city at the NORTH SIDE STORE. Prices very low for cash. Money talks.

Remember that the only quick Gasoline Stove is the QUICK MEAL sold and warranted by Conway & Keith. This is the language of men who do a straight, legitimate business. They use no pretentious names to deceive their customers or defraud their creditors. Bear this in mind.

CONWAY & KEITH. MILLINERY. KATE WOOD & CO. have been (and are now) selling at our LADIES' FURNISHING STORE to make room for a new and increased stock of MILLINERY which has just arrived. Just received a lot of new improved DOMESTIC SEWING MACHINES.

A new line of perfumery just received at J. Q. THACKER'S.

THE HAWLEY HOUSE FOR SALE. Situated as I am I find it impossible to run the house. Will sell on easy terms; will take part cash, part in cattle or unimproved real estate in North Platte. Address, JOHN HAWLEY, North Platte, Neb.

T. J. FOLEY.

—Car load of Bar Wire just received at Strickler's at bottom prices.

—We direct your attention to the advertisement occupying the "southeast corner" of our first page.

—Strickler has secured the services of Jesse H. Bus, a gentleman lately from Illinois and a first class tinner, insuring superior work in that line.

—J. M. Scott is agent for Carpenter & Gage's nursery at Fairbury. Being well acquainted with the firm, THE TRIBUNE can vouch for stock coming from that nursery.

—Several parties have been solicited to make the race for Mayor against George Hammond, but at the present writing it looks as though he was going to walk in without opposition.

—Only seventeen new subscribers were added to THE TRIBUNE last during the past week. Considering the condition of the weather this is not a bad record.

—The ladies of the Presbyterian church will give a New England fair and supper at the opera house April 18th and 19th. A great variety of fancy and useful articles will be on sale. A Mikado Booth will be one of the special features at which will be displayed Japanese articles of every description. This affair will be looked forward to with much pleasure by our people, as a very pleasant time is assured for all who attend.

—One of the most successful hunts of the season took place Thursday when Isaac Dillon, W. L. McGee, R. W. Nagel and Robert Eells went out to Fremont Slough near the residence of John Bratt, and secured a small wagon load of ducks and geese, the latter being four of the latter and 30 ducks. We don't know what kind of a duck an odd duck is, but Mr. Dillon can tell you.

—The item in last week's paper to the effect that the Water Works Company was establishing a plumbing establishment on Locust street was an error. The company will not have any plumbing shops of its own, but leave that work in the hands of individuals, the work being subject to the company's inspection and approval. This was the understanding of THE TRIBUNE at the time, but the item was the work of a reporter who had been misinformed.

—It is hard to please everybody all the time, as a few of our readers find fault because we are having too much moisture for the present. Such people should refer to Massachusetts, New York, Ohio and especially to Alabama in portions of which regular crabs flow in in order to get through wetting that the ground is now receiving is almost an assurance of good crops. We can put up with a little inconvenience for the public good.

PEOPLE AND EVENTS. Jno. Dyer, of the Telegraph, went down to Omaha on Thursday's No. 2.

W. H. McMaisters, accompanied by his family, returned from Idaho last week.

Herbert Corvett went out to Garfield this week to take the position of teacher of his school.

D. B. Honin, of the Omaha Railway News-Reporter, was in town Wednesday in the interests of his journal.

Miss Katie Isaman, living in the eastern part of the State, is visiting her aunt Mrs. Butler Buchanan of this city.

Train Dispatcher D. W. Crane has moved his family from Sidney to this city and is occupying the Casey house on West Fourth street.

Morgan W. Davis, of Wellfleet, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Davis' appearance indicates that homesteading agrees with him.

I. K. Neely returned Saturday from a visit to friends in Illinois, reporting a pleasant trip. Mrs. Neely will return about the first of May.

H. N. Nichols, formerly in the banking business in this city, and now in the T. J. Foley Wednesday's Mr. N. has been located in Denver for several years.

G. W. Smith, assistant cashier of the Bank of Paxton, was a caller at the headquarters Wednesday, and reported business good in the thriving village at that point.

Rev. Hopkins' goes to Denver next Monday taking his wife's mother, Mrs. P. S. Spahr, who is in a very critical state of ill-health. He will return before the following Sunday.

Mrs. Anderson and Miss Leoti Gates, who have been visiting the family of editor Walsh, left the early part of the week for Grand Island. Miss Edna Walsh accompanied them and will spend the summer in that city.

State McGee and J. N. Bickel returned Wednesday having spent a week or more prospecting through southern Lincoln, Perkins and Chase counties. In Perkins and Chase counties the county-seat contests are the all-absorbing subjects of conversation. Both of the latter gentlemen are well off he will refrain from expressing an opinion.

R. E. Holbrook and wife are preparing to move to Laramie, Wyoming. Without regulation we can say that our people regret to have them leave, but they have proved themselves worthy members of society and are highly esteemed by all. In their new home, we trust they will meet with the success they deserve.

Our Candidates. In addition to those who made their announcements last week, we have quite a number of new members in our family of candidates.

For member of the Board of Education W. W. Conklin announces that he is a candidate for re-election. Mr. C. is head secretary of the board for a number of years, and perhaps has made as few errors as any one possibly could who undertakes to perform the delicate duties of that office. Butler Buchanan is also a candidate. As head salesman and book-keeper for Grady and later as deputy county treasurer, Mr. B. has shown his fitness to fill important positions by conservative thought and action. Hon. Beach I. Hinman and John Bratt are also candidates. Both of the latter gentlemen are old and highly honored citizens—in fact all of the candidates are among our best people, and whoever is elected the people are assured of good men on the board.

Mr. Hawley's announcement for councilman from the first ward came in too late last week to secure comment. Well posted in public affairs, of sound judgment, he is among the best men who can be selected for that office.

For Councilman in the Second Ward C. F. Iddings is the candidate so far as known at present without opposition. A successful business man, he will bring good practical experience to serve him in the administration of city affairs.

In third ward Prof. Klein is the candidate and he will make an excellent member of the council. In the council they sometimes have music in which discord is a prevailing feature, but if they have music from the Professor is there it will be full of harmony.

For Police Judge J. J. O'Rourke has consented to be a candidate. As County Judge, Judge O'Rourke is in position to attend to the duties of the office with facility and comfort to those who may be brought before him for misdemeanors.

Charles Monagan, candidate for Councilman in the First ward is a representative man, and will make a careful legislator. He is well qualified for the position and if elected will serve his ward and the city in an able manner.

Among The Churches.

—Morning subject, "Communion." Evening subject, "Young Men's Character. How Kept Clean and Made Useful."

—PRESBYTERIAN. Easter and Communion service at the Presbyterian church next Sunday. Excellent music being prepared. Children's Easter service in the evening. Come all!

—DIED. In this city, Saturday, March 24th, Helen Breyer Stewart, wife of William Stewart, in her 57th year.

Several months ago Mrs. Stewart was prostrated by an apoplectic stroke but with medical aid and good care she had about recovered from the effects, when on Friday last she was taken with a second stroke which rendered her unconscious until 10:30 Saturday night when her spirit took its flight.

The deceased was born in Peterhead, Aberdeenshire, Scotland, where she was united in marriage to William Stewart in 1838. In 1870 they came to this country and located at Ft. Wayne, Ind., going thence to Springfield, Ill., and then removing to this city in 1870. Mrs. Stewart was a lady beloved by all who knew her, ever ready to lend a hand to those in trouble, distress and sickness she had earned a warm place in the hearts of our people. No matter what hour of the day or night the services of "Mother" Stewart were needed by those suffering illness, she was ever ready to respond to the call and with willing heart and hands eased and comforted the suffering ones. In her death the city loses a good woman, one who can be truly said was a benefit to the world. She leaves a husband and three children, Mrs. A. F. Streitz and Alex. Stewart, jr., to mourn her sudden death.

Funeral services were held at the residence Wednesday evening, conducted by Rev. Stump, and the remains were accompanied by the husband and children, were taken to Ft. Wayne for interment the same evening.

The heartfelt sympathy of our people are extended to the relatives in this hour of sorrow.

ART LESSONS. Instruction in Church Drawing, Crayon, Painting from Nature and Life, Lustra, Kensington, and China. At my rooms, Corner Willow and Third Streets. Mrs. EMMA BABB.

—Twenty cents buys a good broom at STRICKLER'S.

The following from a southern exchange is a well written article upon the well known qualities of the popular artist Miss Kate Castleton: "Thirteen hundred people chipped in and gave Kate Castleton a Christmas gift at the Memphis Theatre yesterday afternoon. They say Kate is awfully naughty, but if all sinners could be as cute as she probably would be a drag in the market," said one lady to another as they commended together in the shadow of their monumental hats. "But she isn't naughty at all," returned the other. "She only shows us what hypocrites we are." "Well, so long as she doesn't call any names we can always apply what she says to some other woman. That's our comfort. And just then a burst of applause announcing the appearance of the subject of these remarks put an end to them. The second speaker was right. Kate is not at all improper. She simply suggests in her own inimitable way that things are not what they seem. She is now in the fullness of her charms of person and intellect, and exercises all her former spell upon the audience. Her new songs are as taking as the old, and "Excuse me, I'll Tell You No More," as announced a hit as that piquant aforesaid ditty. "For Goodness Sake Don't Say I Told You." Her support is first-class." Memphis Avalanche. Kate Castleton will appear at the opera house Wednesday evening next.

TO HORSE MEN. This office recently received a number of fine horse cuts, and we are prepared to print horse bills in first class shape, at prices consistent with the times. Give us a call.
