Who would have thought when John Brown was hung at Charleston, Va., that 30 years from that time, John S. Wise Commissioners Walker and McAllister the son of the man who ordered old having been appointed a committee to "Ossowatomie's" execution-Gov. Wise, would be clamoring for a seat in a Republican National convention.-Atchison Champion.

The Milwaukee Sentinel says, regarding the mugwump vote: "The mugwump of 1884 who is a free-trader, will, of course, vote the democratic ticket this vear. As Mr. Curtis remarked many months ago the reform issue is overshadowed by the free trader will support the candidates of the republican party. The mugwump as such disappeared from the scene with the nomination of Harrison. This year he will be a democrat or a republican."

Mr. G. W. Smalley, the able London correspondent of the New York Tribune, summarizes the English view of our Presidential campaign very clearly when he says: "I have not met a single Englishman who does not wish for Mr. Cleveland's election, not one who does not believe that English trade and manufactures will benefit by his triumph." Twenty five years ago it would have been equally difficult to meet an Englishman who did not believe and hope and pray that the war for the preservation of our Union would be a failure. But the rebellion was put down and Mr. Cleveland

The disposition of some of the democratic leaders to appeal to Mr. Randall for help has called attention to a fact which some of the free traders don't know. That is, that Mr. Randall has in his possession letters from the democratic committee, written during the last campaign, urging him to come to their help and to make protection speeches in New York, New Jersey and Connecticut, while about the same time the committee wrote to Abram S. Hewitt, of New York, who had contemplated entering the campaign, urging him not to proceed to those states to advocate his views upon the tariff. Possibly Mr. Mills may receive letters of that sort before the campaign shall be over. Mr. Randall is not talking for publication to any one, but it is known that in recent private conferences with some of his more intimate friends he has expressed the opinion that Mr Cleveland will most certainly be defeated, and that the party cannot hope to win upon the platform laid down in the house by Mr. Mills and his free-trade allies from the south. Bob Ingersoll told the crowds at Chicago that when the holler was out of the lungs the sense would come to the head. The time has now come for the democratic party. The holler is out of their lungs and the sense has begun to come to their heads, and with it there are
